Why Study Law at Carleton University?

Our reputation: We have the oldest and largest BA program in law in Canada, with award-winning teachers and researchers. We have the most full-time professors and offer the most courses (by far) of any undergraduate law program in the country.

Our approach: We bring an interdisciplinary approach to studying the ways in which law influences (and is influenced by) politics, economic factors, culture, and social forces. In our programs, you will be exposed to both traditional and critical approaches to law and legal studies.

Our location: Canada's capital—Ottawa is home to experts and organizations you won't find anywhere else in Canada. That expertise infuses our classrooms and strengthens our academic programs.

Our specializations: As an Honours student, you have the option to add a concentration in Law, Policy and Government; Business Law; or Transnational Law and Human Rights.

Our workplace opportunities: Whether you do a co-op or a work placement, we will help you secure real-world experiences.

“Not only were my courses taught by actual lawyers and distinguished academics, but I was also able to apply what I learned in classes during a placement at a downtown law firm.”
