

Teaching Fellowship

One award may be given each year. The Fellowship was established in 2016 to provide full-time faculty and instructors with an opportunity to innovate and to demonstrate leadership in teaching, as well as to reward teaching excellence.

Criteria for Fellowship

Fellowships will be awarded based upon both the candidate's track record and their project proposal. The candidate's track record should demonstrate teaching excellence and the project proposal should demonstrate potential for innovation and leadership in teaching.

Holding the Fellowship

The Fellowship will be held for a two-year period, beginning July 1st of the year the Fellowship is awarded.

Fellows are expected to share their advances in teaching by, for example, participating in teaching roundtables sponsored by Teaching and Learning Services, presenting to FPA colleagues in Bagels and Banter session events, or engaging in other forms of outreach and dissemination. Teaching Fellows are also invited to initiate professional development activities around teaching and learning within their unit, with the support of Teaching and Learning Services and the Office of the Dean of the Faculty of Public Affairs.

Fellows will be asked to submit a one page progress report to the Dean of the Faculty of Public Affairs at the end of the first year of their Fellowship, and a one page summary of the project to the Dean at the end of the second year.
