COURSE DESCRIPTION:

There is an overwhelming consensus among climate scientists and others that climate change poses a serious – and potentially grave – threat to human beings, ecosystems and other species. This course will use a social science perspective to look at the issue of global climate change, including its history, root causes and consequences. Throughout the course, we will discuss how the climate crisis is integrally related to global capitalism, systems of power and inequality, and the structure of the modern corporation. We will consider the specific role of social processes and institutions – such as politics and governments, economic growth, globalization, the fossil fuel industry, consumer culture, the mass media, and the advertising and public relations industries – in shaping climate change debates and contributing to the crisis. We will also examine the efficacy of different responses and solutions to the problems associated with climate change, ranging from market reforms and ‘green capitalism’ to more radical social and economic transformations.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Because this is a social science course, students will be encouraged to think critically about how social, economic and political arrangements underlie global climate change. How and why are dominant social institutions at the root of climate change and our current responses to it? What are the connections between social and economic inequality and the policy-making process? How do systems of power, culture and ideology impact and accelerate the climate change threat? More generally, this course will challenge students to identify and interrogate their beliefs and assumptions about the social world, and to identify opportunities for engagement with these issues beyond the boundaries of the classroom.
COURSE TEXT AND READING MATERIALS

- Klein, Naomi. 2014. This Changes Everything: Capitalism vs. the Climate. Toronto: Knopf.

This book is available at Octopus Books, which is located at 116 Third Avenue.

Please note that all other assigned readings will be available through cuLearn.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND EVALUATION

1. Midterm Exam, May 25th
   30%

   The midterm exam will be a combination of multiple choice, short answer and essay questions. It will cover material from both the assigned readings and the lectures in the first half of the course (lectures 1 through 6). The exam will be held in class.

2. Final Paper, Due June 13th
   35%

   Students will select their own paper topic, understanding that it must be relevant to the issues addressed in the course. While the paper can draw on some of the weekly readings, it must also reference additional academic sources. It should be approximately 12-15 double-spaced pages. Papers will be graded on the quality of your research and writing, strength of your analysis and arguments, and your ability to situate your arguments within existing debates. Students are encouraged to discuss paper ideas with me at any point during the term. Additional information will be provided in class.

3. Final Exam
   35%

   The final exam will be a combination of multiple choice, short answer and essay questions. The final exam is not cumulative. Therefore, it will cover material from both the assigned readings and the lectures in the second half of the course only (lectures 7 through 11). The final exam will be scheduled by the university in the exam period.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS AND ACCOMMODATIONS

University rules regarding registration, withdrawal, appealing marks, and most anything else you might need to know can be found on the university’s website, here: http://calendar.carleton.ca/undergrad/regulations/academicregulationsoftheuniversity/

REQUESTS FOR ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request the processes are as follows:

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities:
The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). Requests made within two weeks will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website (www.carleton.ca PMC) for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

For Religious Obligations:
Students requesting academic accommodation on the basis of religious obligation should make a formal, written request to their instructors for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory event. Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student. Students or instructors who have questions or want to confirm accommodation eligibility of a religious event or practice may refer to the Equity Services website for a list of holy days and Carleton's Academic Accommodation policies, or may contact an Equity Services Advisor in the Equity Services Department for assistance.

For Pregnancy:
Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Advisor in Equity Services to complete a letter of accommodation. The student must then make an appointment to discuss her needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY AND PLAGIARISM

Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy (See http://www.carleton.ca/sasc/academic-integrity/).

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the passing off of someone else's work as your own and is a serious academic offence. For the details of what constitutes plagiarism, the potential penalties and the procedures refer to the section on Instructional Offences in the Undergraduate Calendar.

What are the Penalties for Plagiarism?

A student found to have plagiarized an assignment may be subject to one of several penalties including: expulsion; suspension from all studies at Carleton; suspension from full-time studies; and/or a reprimand; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; academic probation; award of an FNS, Fail, or an ABS. The Policy is strictly enforced and is binding on all students.

What are the Procedures?

All allegations of plagiarism are reported to the faculty of Dean of FASS and Management. Documentation is prepared by instructors and/or departmental chairs. The Dean writes to the student and the University Ombudsperson about the alleged plagiarism. The Dean reviews the allegation. If it is not resolved at this level then it is referred to a tribunal appointed by the Senate.
