COURSE DESCRIPTION

Introduction to the study of Greek antiquity and the discipline of Classics and its methodologies. Greek culture and society are set in their historical contexts and studied through readings from representative ancient authors (in English translation) and through the art and architecture of the period.

Precludes additional credit for CLCV 1000, and CLCV 1109.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of this course students will be able to:

- recognize and describe the major monuments and works of art in Ancient Greece.
- summarize significant political, social, and cultural events in the history of Greece from its beginnings to the death of Alexander the Great.
- Propose reasons why the major civilizations of Greece and the eastern Mediterranean collapsed at the end of the Bronze Age.
- Discuss the development of the Greek city-states in the Archaic Period.
- Compare and contrast the various forms of government in ancient Greece including monarchy, diarchy, oligarchy, tyranny, and democracy.
- Trace the development of Athenian democracy during the 6th and 5th centuries BCE.
- Discuss the major developments of Greek art and architecture from the Bronze Age to the Hellenistic Period.
- Summarize the strategies and tactics used in the Persian Wars and the Peloponnesian wars.
- Summarize the strategies and tactics used by Philip II and Alexander the Great.

TEXTBOOK

- Sansone, David. 2017. Ancient Greek Civilization, Third Edition. Chichester: Wiley-Blackwell. ISBN 978-1-119-09815-7 (paperback); 978-1-119-09812-6 (e-book).

The textbook is available through Haven Books (<https://www.shophaven.ca/>). They will deliver books ordered online to the University Campus during the month of September. Their address is: 43 Seneca St, Ottawa. The book is also available online through the MacOdrum Library.

This book is also available online through the MacOdrum Library.

Supplemental readings from ancient authors in translation will be available through Brightspace. There will also be chapters from other textbooks that cover the material better than Sansone does. These readings are mandatory and familiarity with their content will be expected on the tests. The list below is the source of the chapters posted on Brightspace. You do not need to purchase any of these books.

COURSE FORMAT

This course is being delivered online asynchronously. This means that you are free to work through the lessons at time that suits your own schedule. However, we do have to cover the material in a timely fashion. You will see that there are dates and deadlines for the completion of quizzes. Make sure you do not miss these deadlines. You will not be able to see any of the lessons or take any of the quizzes until you first complete the Academic Integrity and Course Outline quiz.

TECHNOLOGICAL REQUIREMENTS

You will require a device that can access the internet and a stable internet connection to complete the requirements of this course. Carleton's system is optimized for use with a Windows-based platform using Google Chrome as a web browser. If you are having technological difficulties, consult the IT support team. You will find their contact information in the folder called "Student Support".

COURSE STRUCTURE

The course is divided into 12 weeks. This course is normally taught through five modules but that did not make sense for the online version, so I have re-divided the material. I have also broken the lectures into mini lectures of up to 25 minutes in length, although most are much shorter than that. These videos have machine-generated closed captioning which can be turned on or off by pressing on the square that says "cc" at the bottom of the screen. Each week will consist of what would have been two lectures, but the number of mini lectures will vary from week to week, depending on how I have divided the longer lectures. It should still work out to roughly 3 hours of videos per week.

CSAS INCENTIVE PROGRAM (WORKSHOPS)

This course has been registered in the Incentive Program offered through the Centre for Student Academic Support (CSAS). The Incentive Program is now fully online. CSAS Learning and Writing Support Workshops are designed to help students cultivate and refine their academic skills for a university environment. To earn 10% marks towards workshop participation, students are expected to complete 2 workshops throughout the term. The workshops must be completed by December 8th to receive credit for the Incentive Program.

For students' attendance to be captured, they must complete all workshop components and achieve 100% on the final assessment. Once students achieve 100% on the final assessment, they will receive a Record of Completion award from Brightspace. Students will need to download the Record of Completion PDF for each applicable workshop and submit them to the assignment submission box within their instructor's course. For more information about workshop attendance and submitting the Records of Completion, please visit the Incentive Program Policies on the CSAS website.

To view the complete list of the workshops and their descriptions, please visit the Learning and Writing Support Workshops page on the CSAS website. Please note that CSAS webinars and in-person workshops are not eligible for the Incentive Program. To access the online workshops, please self-enrol on the CSAS Online Resources page. For further information on the Incentive Program, please visit the Incentive Program FAQs page. For additional questions, please contact the Centre for Student Academic Support at csas@carleton.ca.

You can also find all the necessary links, including the assignment drop boxes, in the folder on Brightspace called “CSAS Workshops”.

LESSONS

As stated above, the course is divided into 21 Lessons, but these are further divided into short videos about various topics within the lesson. Each of these short videos has a multiple-choice question embedded in it. You watch the video, and when the question pops up (you will see a button with the title of the question pop up on the screen), click the button, answer the question, and click on the blue button that says “check”. This will tell you if you got the question right or not. You can try again if you got it wrong. At the end of the video, you should see a summary page that tells you how many questions you answered. You need to click the green “submit answers” button to send your score to the gradebook. If you do not see the summary screen when the video ends, you can click on the green star at the end of the progress bar at the bottom of the screen.

QUIZZES

There will be 4 online quizzes through Brightspace during the semester (see schedule below for dates). These will be short quizzes with a mixture of multiple choice, True/False, and matching questions chosen at random from a question bank. It is my hope that these quizzes will keep you engaged in the material as we go along, which will make the exams easier for you. I will drop your lowest mark.

It is highly recommended that you study for the quizzes because you will not have time to look the answers up. It is your responsibility to be aware of when the quizzes are open. I cannot reopen a closed quiz because the answers will be available when the quiz closes. Because I am dropping your lowest mark, a missed quiz will be your throw-away quiz.

If you have technical difficulties, you must notify me immediately, so I can reset the quiz for you. Be aware that I can see your attempt and will know what has happened. If there is a major technical problem involving the university, you will be compensated with extra time.

DISCUSSIONS

There will be two online discussions during the course (see schedule below for due dates). Discussions will be available for one week from Friday to Friday. For full participation marks, you must post your thread before Wednesday at midnight (see rubric for details). The discussions are reflections on some aspect of the course material and must show knowledge of the material from the lectures and the textbook. The use of AI programs to generate discussion posts is strictly forbidden. There is a rubric attached to the discussions which will be used to grade them. You can consult the rubric to see what is expected from you. You are required to post a thread to the forum in answer to a prompt before you will see the responses of other students. You must then reply to the threads made by two of your classmates. This is an opportunity for you to engage in an academic discussion. You are not evaluating the posts made by others but having an intellectual conversation with them. Ask them questions and/or give them something new to think about. Pretend you are at a conference talking to your peers about the subject given in the prompt. This is meant to foster a spirit of community in the class. Students are expected to follow the protocols of Carleton's online netiquette: <https://carleton.ca/online/online-learning-resources/netiquette/>.

M I D T E R M

There will be an in-person midterm which will take place outside of regular class time (Friday night, Saturday, or Sunday). A specific date, time, and place will be communicated within a few weeks of the test since this will be arranged by the registrar's office. It will be at the end of week 5 so that it will not interfere with your study break (weekend of October 11th-13th).

Deferral of the midterm will only be granted on the grounds of serious illness or the death of a family member. Students must contact the instructor no later than 3 days after the date of the midterm and must provide supporting documentation (e.g., valid doctor's note, death certificate) to write a deferred test.

Students studying remotely, or varsity athletes with in-person tests or exams have the flexibility of applying to write off-campus if they will be at least 160 km away from Carleton on exam day with the approval from the course instructor. The deadline for students to apply to write at a distance during the fall term is September 22nd. Information can be found here: <https://carleton.ca/ses/distance-exams/>

F I N A L E X A M

There will be an in-person proctored final exam to be scheduled during the regular exam period (December 10-22). Students should not make travel plans until they know the date of their exams. These dates are usually posted around the time of the fall break. Students who require a deferral of the exam due to serious illness or death in their family must make arrangements through the registrar's office. Supporting documentation will be required as for the midterm.

STUDENT SUPPORT

I will use Brightspace for the administration of this course. You will find supplemental material, as well as the lessons and quizzes posted there. You will need to have a Carleton University email account and will need to make sure you can access Brightspace. There is an “Ask the Professor” forum on the course webpage in every module where you can ask me general questions about the course, assessments, or other things that other students might benefit from knowing the answer to. You should check this forum frequently to see what other people are asking and whether the answer to your question is already there. You can also send me an email anytime and I will do my best to answer within 2 business days. Please make sure you put the course code CLCV 1002 in the subject line of your email so that I will not think it is spam and delete it. I teach more than one class, so just saying “quiz 2” or “midterm question” or something is not going to mean much to me. If you want a precise answer, I need to know which class you are in.

Student or professor materials created for this course (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s). This includes posting course materials on course sharing platforms such as Course Hero. Violations of this policy may result in lecture slides no longer being shared with students.

SCHEDULE

This schedule is a draft document. Changes may be made to it before the class begins. The version that is posted on the course webpage on Brightspace is to be taken as the most current version. The required readings from the textbook are given in the third column for each lesson. The other sources in (italics and brackets) are recommended and are available in the “Recommended readings” folder on Brightspace. The readings in normal font are required and are in the “Required readings” folder on Brightspace as well as the modules for each lesson.

University Regulations for All College of the Humanities Courses (Updated August 19, 2024)

Academic Dates and Deadlines

This schedule contains the dates prescribed by the University Senate for academic activities. Dates relating to fee payment, cancellation of course selections, late charges, and other fees or charges will be published in the Important Dates and Deadlines section of the Registration Website.

Copies of Written Work Submitted

Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

Online Learning Resources

On this page, you will find resources collected by Carleton Online to help you succeed in your online courses; Learning Strategies and Best Practices, Study Skills, Technology and Online Interaction and Engagement.

Academic Integrity Policy

The University Academic Integrity Policy defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentionally or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This includes reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source. Examples of sources from which the ideas, expressions of ideas or works of others may be drawn from include but are not limited to books, articles, papers, literary compositions and phrases, performance compositions, chemical compounds, artworks, laboratory reports, research results, calculations and the results of calculations, diagrams, constructions, computer reports, computer code/software, material on the internet and/or conversations.

Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to:

- any submission prepared in whole or in part, by someone else, including the unauthorized use of generative AI tools (e.g., ChatGPT)
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, paraphrased material, algorithms, formulae, scientific or mathematical concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment
- using another’s data or research findings without appropriate acknowledgement
- submitting a computer program developed in whole or in part by someone else, with or without modifications, as one’s own
- failing to acknowledge sources with proper citations when using another’s work and/or failing to use quotations marks.”

Plagiarism is a serious offence that cannot be resolved directly by the course’s instructor.

The Associate Dean of the Faculty follows a rigorous process for academic integrity allegations, including reviewing documents and interviewing the student, when an instructor suspects a violation has been committed. Penalties for violations may include a final grade of “F” for the course.

Co-operation or Collaboration

An important and valuable component of the learning process is the progress a student can make as a result of interacting with other students. In struggling together to master similar concepts and problems and in being exposed to each other's views and approaches, a group of students can enhance and speed up the learning process. Carleton University encourages students to benefit from these activities which will not generally be viewed as a violation of the Policy. With the exception of tests and examinations, instructors will not normally limit these interactions.

Students shall not co-operate or collaborate on academic work when the instructor has indicated that the work is to be completed on an individual basis. Failure to follow the instructor's directions in this regard is a violation of the standards of academic integrity. Unless otherwise indicated, students shall not co-operate or collaborate in the completion of a test or examination.

Group Work: There are many cases where students are expected or required to work in groups to complete a course requirement. Normally, students are not responsible for violations of this policy committed by other members of a group in which they participate.

More information on the process here.

Academic Accommodations

Academic accommodation refers to educational practices, systems and support mechanisms designed to accommodate diversity and difference. The purpose of accommodation is to enable students to perform the essential requirements of their academic programs. At no time does academic accommodation undermine or compromise the learning objectives that are established by the academic authorities of the University.

Carleton is committed to providing academic accessibility for all individuals. You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. The accommodation request processes, including information about the Academic Consideration Policy for Students in Medical and Other Extenuating Circumstances, are outlined on the Academic Accommodations website.

Requests for Academic Accommodation

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request, the processes can be found here.

Addressing Human Rights Concerns

The University and all members of the University community share responsibility for ensuring that the University's educational, work and living environments are free from discrimination and harassment. Should you have concerns about harassment or discrimination relating to your age, ancestry, citizenship, colour, creed (religion), disability, ethnic origin, family status, gender expression, gender identity, marital status, place of origin, race, sex (including pregnancy), or sexual orientation, please contact the Department of Equity and Inclusive Communities at equity@carleton.ca.

Grading System at Carleton University

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by the instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.

The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points and the percentage conversion can be found here.

Course Sharing Websites and Copyright

Classroom teaching and learning activities, including lectures, discussions, presentations, etc., by both instructors and students, are copy protected and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s). All course materials, including PowerPoint presentations, outlines, and other materials, are also protected by copyright and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s).

Students registered in the course may take notes and make copies of course materials for their own educational use only. Students are not permitted to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly for commercial or non-commercial purposes without express written consent from the copyright holder(s).

More information

Student Rights and Responsibilities at Carleton

Carleton University strives to provide a safe environment conducive to personal and intellectual growth, free of injustice and characterized by understanding respect, peace, trust, and fairness.

The Student Rights and Responsibilities Policy governs the non-academic behaviour of students. Carleton University is committed to building a campus that promotes personal growth through the establishment and promotion of transparent and fair academic and non-academic responsibilities.

Deferred Term Work

In some situations, students are unable to complete term work because of extenuating circumstances beyond their control, which forces them to delay submission of the work. Requests for academic consideration are made in accordance with the Academic Consideration Policy for Students in Medical or Other Extenuating Circumstances.

Students who claim short-term extenuating circumstances (normally lasting up to five days) as a reason for missed term work are held responsible for immediately informing the instructor concerned and for making alternate arrangements with the instructor. If the instructor requires supporting documentation, the instructor may only request submission of the University's self-declaration form, which is available on the Registrar's Office website. The alternate arrangement must be made before the last day of classes in the term as published in the academic schedule.

1. Normally, any deferred term work will be completed by the last day of term. In all cases, formative evaluations providing feedback to the student should be replaced with formative evaluations. In the event the altered due date must extend beyond the last day of classes in the term, the instructor will assign a grade of zero for the work not submitted and submit the student's earned grade accordingly; the instructor may submit a change of grade at a later date. Term work cannot be deferred by the Registrar.
2. In cases where a student is not able to complete term work due to extenuating circumstances lasting for a significant period of time/ long-term (normally more than five days), the instructor and/or student may elect to consult with the Registrar's Office (undergraduate courses) or Graduate Registrar (graduate courses) to determine appropriate action.
3. If a student is concerned the instructor did not respond to the request for academic consideration or did not provide reasonable accommodation, the student should follow the appeals process described in the Academic Consideration Policy.
4. If academic consideration is granted, but the student is unable to complete the accommodation according to the terms set out by the instructor as a result of further illness, injury, or extraordinary circumstances beyond their control, the student may submit a petition to the Registrar's Office (undergraduate courses)/Graduate Registrar (graduate courses). Please note, however, that the course instructor will be required to submit an earned final grade and further consideration will only be reviewed according to established precedents and deadlines. (More information: Undergraduate | Graduate).

Deferred Final Exams

Students who are unable to write a final examination because of extenuating circumstances, as defined in the Academic Consideration Policy, may apply for accommodation. Normally, the accommodation for a missed final examination will be granting the student the opportunity to write a deferred examination. In specific cases when it is not possible to offer a deferred examination, and with the approval of the Dean, an alternate accommodation may be made.

The application for a deferral must:

1. be made in writing to the Registrar's Office no later than three (3) working days after the original final examination or the due date of the take-home examination; and,
2. be fully supported by appropriate documentation. In cases of short-term extenuating circumstances normally lasting no more than five (5) days, students must include the University's self-declaration form, which can be found on the Registrar's Office website. Additional documentation is required in cases of extenuating circumstances lasting longer than five (5) days and must be supported by a medical note specifying the date of onset of the illness, the (expected) date of recovery, and the extent to which the student was/is incapacitated during the time of the examination. The University's preferred medical form can be found at the Registrar's Office here.

Academic Consideration Policy

As per the Academic Consideration Policy, if students encounter extenuating circumstances that temporarily hinder their capacity to fulfil in-class academic requirements, they can request academic consideration. The Academic Consideration for Coursework is only available for accommodations regarding course work. Requests for accommodations during the formal exam period must follow the official deferral process.

NOTE: As per the Policy, students are to speak with/contact their instructor before submitting a request for Academic Consideration. Requests are not automatically approved. Approving and determining the accommodation remains at the discretion of the instructor. Students should consult the course syllabus about the instructor's policy or procedures for requesting academic consideration. More information here.

Financial vs. Academic Withdrawal

Make sure that you are aware of the separate deadlines for Financial and Academic withdrawal!

Making registration decisions in Carleton Central involves making a financial and academic commitment for the courses you choose, regardless of attendance. If you do not attend, you must withdraw in Carleton Central within the published deadlines to cancel your registration. A fee adjustment is dependent on registration being canceled within the published fee deadlines and dependent on your course load. A course dropped after the deadline for financial withdrawal will receive a grade of Withdrawn (WDN), which appears on your official transcript.

Even if you miss the deadline for financial withdrawal, you might decide to drop a course to avoid a failure or a poor grade showing up on your student record and bringing down your CGPA. It is your responsibility to drop the course via Carleton Central within the published deadlines (see Academic Withdrawal).

If you are considering withdrawing from a course, you may want to talk to an advisor first. Course withdrawal may affect your student status, as well as your eligibility for student funding, immigration status, residence accommodation and participation in varsity sports, etc. Additionally, remember that once you choose your courses, you must use the "Calculate amount to pay" button to determine the correct amount of fees to pay.

Carleton Central is your one-stop shop for registration activities. If you are interested in taking a course, make sure to complete your registration. Simply attending a course does not mean you are registered in it, nor is it grounds for petition or appeal.

Mental Health and Wellness at Carleton

As a student you may experience a range of mental health challenges that significantly impact your academic success and overall well-being. If you need help, please speak to someone.
