CLCV 1002 B: SURVEY OF GREEK CIVILIZATION

Winter 2021asynchronous online course through cuLearn

This course provides an introduction to the study of Greek antiquity, the discipline of Classics and its methodologies. The culture and society will be set in historical context and studied through readings from representative ancient authors (in translation) and through the art and architecture of the period.

According to Carleton, asynchronous format refers to an online course in which "the instructor and students share information, ideas, and learning experiences in a virtual course space. Asynchronous courses do not have live, scheduled meetings online. However, students are expected to remain up to date with the deadlines and due dates provided by the instructor. These courses require high-speed Internet access and a computer."

Professor Susan Downie email: susan.downie@carleton.ca

"Office hours": you have several options (public or private) to get your questions answered in this course. All require that you abide by Carleton's code of conduct regarding courtesy and honesty.

Public fora: all class members who sign on for the session can read or hear your questions

 Ask questions live via BigBlueButton (cuLearn) at 12-1pm Mondays. Such "virtual office hours" will be offered most weeks through term and will be hosted by the professor or Teaching Assistant. You can type your question in "Chat" or turn your audio on to ask your question.

Private fora:

- 2) Email the professor or Teaching Assistant. We check email daily and respond as soon as possible, normally in less than 24 hours. Please use your Carleton email address.
- 3) To speak privately with the professor, contact her via email to set up an appointment to meet on BigBlueButton, Zoom, or telephone.

Readings:

Optional text: if you wish to read an excellent introduction to Greek civilization, I highly recommend:

David Sansone, Ancient Greek Civilization. 3rd ed. (Wiley-Blackwell, 2017) Available in full text online through Carleton's MacOdrum library.

Required readings: posted on cuLearn

All are primary sources (ie. literature written by ancient Greek authors). All are translated into English and each can be read in a couple hours. 10 readings in total: 4 plays, 1 philosophical dialogue, 1 except from ancient history, and 5 "books" (= chapters) from epic poetry. See the schedule on the last page of the syllabus to see when you should read each source. The readings are:

Homer's Iliad Books 1, 23 and 24 (= 3 chapters) Herodotus' Histories 7.175-238 – the Battle of Thermopylai Homer's Odyssey Books 9 and 11 (= 2 chapters) Euripides' Bacchae Sophocles' Oedipus Tyrannos (aka Oedipus Rex or Oedipus the King) Plato's Apology Aristophanes' Lysistrata

Deadlines: will be 11:59pm on the date due. All requirements will be submitted online through cuLearn.

- The late penalty will be minus 10% immediately once the deadline has passed. This increases by 10% for each additional day late, up to a maximum of 5 days (minus 50%). After 5 days, I do not accept late work.
- You can request an extension (with reason), but this should be arranged before the original due date. Please indicate how long an extension you are requesting when you contact the professor.

Academic offences and the code of student conduct:

Information about these topics can be found in Carleton's online university calendar under "Academic Integrity and Offences of Conduct":

https://calendar.carleton.ca/undergrad/regulations/academicregulationsoftheuniversity/academicintegrity-and-offenses-of-conduct/#academic-integrity-policy

The code requires that all students inform themselves about what constitutes an academic offence, avoid committing academic offences, and take responsibility for their academic actions. Academic offences include things like plagiarism, cheating, improper research, obstructing academic activity, double submission, unauthorized cooperation / collaboration, impersonation, falsification etc. When the commission of an academic offence is established, penalties are imposed in accordance with the regulations of the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences.

"Offences of conduct" refer to the requirement that all faculty, staff, and students interact with courtesy and honesty. This applies to academic debate and to behaviour and interaction between members of the Carleton community. Offences of conduct are handled in the same way as Academic offences.

The normal penalty for a first offence is a mark of zero for any affected work or failure in the course. Stiffer penalties apply for subsequent offences.

If you need help in learning how to avoid academic offences or "offences of conduct", or clarification of aspects of the discipline policy, ask the professor.

University Regulations for All College of the Humanities Courses

Academic Dates and Deadlines

This schedule contains the dates prescribed by the University Senate for academic activities. Dates relating to fee payment, cancellation of course selections, late charges, and other fees or charges will be published in the Important Dates and Deadlines section of the Registration Website.

Online Learning Resources

While online courses offer flexibility and convenience, they also present unique challenges that traditional face-to-face courses do not. On this page, you will find resources collected by Carleton Online to help you succeed in your online courses; Learning Strategies and Best Practices, Study Skills, Technology and Online Interaction and Engagement.

Copies of WrittenWork Submitted

Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

Academic Integrity at Carleton

The University Senate defines plagiarism as "presenting, whether intentionally or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one's own." This can include:

• reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else's published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one's own without proper citation or reference to the original source;

• submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;

- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another's data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another's works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in "substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs." Plagiarism is a serious offence that cannot be resolved directly by the course's instructor. The Associate Dean of the Faculty conducts a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of "F" for the course

Academic Accommodation Policy

Academic Accommodation

Carleton University is committed to providing access to the educational experience in order to promote academic accessibility for all individuals.

Parental Leave: The Student Parental Leave Policy is intended to recognize the need for leave at the time of a pregnancy, birth or adoption and to permit a pause in studies in order to provide full-time care in the first year of parenting a child or for health-related parental responsibilities.

Religious obligation: Carleton University accommodates students who, by reason of religious obligation, must miss an examination, test, assignment deadline, laboratory or other compulsory academic event.

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities:

Academic accommodation of students with disabilities is available through the Paul Menton Centre by evaluations that are carried out on an individual basis, in accordance with human rights legislation and University policy, and with the support of relevant, professional/medical documentation.

Survivors of Sexual Violence

Individuals who disclose that they have experienced sexual violence will be provided support services and will be treated with dignity and respect at all times by the University and its representatives. A person affected by sexual violence is not required to report an incident of or make a complaint about sexual violence under the formal complaint process of the Sexual Violence Policy in order to obtain support and services, or in order to receive appropriate accommodation for their needs.

Supports and services available at the University to obtain information about sexual violence and/or support.

Accommodation for Student Activities

Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. More information.

Grading System at Carleton University

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor, subject to the approval of the faculty Dean. Standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. This means that grades submitted by the instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean."

The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points and the percentage conversion, is listed below. Grade points indicated are for courses with 1.0 credit value.

Course Sharing Websites and Copyright

Classroom teaching and learning activities, including lectures, discussions, presentations, etc., by both instructors and students, are copy protected and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s). All course materials, including PowerPoint presentations, outlines, and other materials, are also protected by copyright and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s).

Students registered in the course may take notes and make copies of course materials for their own educational use only. Students are not permitted to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly for commercial or non-commercial purposes without express written consent from the copyright holder(s). More information

Student Rights and Responsibilities at Carleton

Carleton University strives to provide a safe environment conducive to personal and intellectual growth, free of injustice and characterized by understanding respect, peace, trust, and fairness.

The Student Rights and Responsibilities Policy governs the non-academic behaviour of students. Carleton University is committed to building a campus that promotes personal growth through the establishment and promotion of transparent and fair academic and non-academic responsibilities.

7 Student Rights and Responsibilities

Deferred TermWork

In some situations, students are unable to complete term work because of illness or other circumstances beyond their control, which forces them to delay submission of the work.

- 1. Students who claim illness, injury or other extraordinary circumstances beyond their control as a reason for missed term work are held responsible for immediately informing the instructor concerned and for making alternate arrangements with the instructor and in all cases this must occur no later than three (3.0) working days after the term work was due. The alternate arrangement must be made before the last day of classes in the term as published in the academic schedule. Normally, any deferred term work will be completed by the last day of term. In all cases, formative evaluations providing feedback to the student should be replaced with formative evaluations. In the event the altered due date must extend beyond the last day of classes in the term, the instructor will assign a grade of zero for the work not submitted and submit the student's earned grade accordingly; the instructor may submit a change of grade at a later date. Term work cannot be deferred by the Registrar.
- 2. In cases where a student is not able to complete term work due to illness or injury for a significant period of time/or long term, the instructor and/or student may elect to consult with the Registrar's Office (undergraduate courses) or Graduate Registrar (graduate courses) to determine appropriate action.

More information of deferred Term Work

Deferred Final Exams

Students who are unable to write a final examination because of a serious illness/emergency or other circumstances beyond their control may apply for accommodation. Normally, the accommodation for a missed final examination will be granting the student the opportunity to write a deferred examination. In specific cases when it is not possible to offer a deferred examination, and with the approval of the Dean, an alternate accommodation may be made.

The application for a deferral must:

- 1. be made in writing to the Registrar's Office no later than three working days after the original final examination or the due date of the take-home examination; and,
- 2. be fully supported by appropriate documentation and, in cases of illness, by a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination, or by appropriate documents in other cases. Medical documents must specify the date of the onset of the illness, the (expected) date of recovery, and the extent to which the student was/is incapacitated during the time of the examination.

More information on Final Exam Deferrals Registrar's Office "Defer an Exam" page

Financial vs. Academic Withdrawal

Withdrawn. No academic credit, no impact on the CGPA. WDN is a permanent notation that appears on the official transcript for students who withdraw after the full fee adjustment date in each term (noted in the Academic Year section of the Calendar each term). Students may withdraw on or before the last day of classes.

Important dates can be found here. Make sure that you are aware of the separate deadlines for Financial and Academic withdrawal!

Making registration decisions in Carleton Central involves making a financial and academic commitment for the courses you choose, regardless of attendance. If you do not attend – you must withdraw in Carleton Central within the published deadlines to cancel your registration. You can do this via the MyCarleton Portal. A fee adjustment is dependent on registration being canceled within the published fee deadlines and dependent on your course load.
