Course Description
In this course students will be introduced to the discipline of Archaeology which, simply put, is the study of the human past through its physical or material remains. These remains could constitute buildings and structures from the simplest mud hut to the monoliths of Stonehenge or the Parthenon, skeletal remains whether found in an elaborate tomb or preserved in an ice field, ancient technologies from prehistoric stone tools to the engineering of Roman aqueducts, the artistic record of cave paintings in France or the elaborate carvings of Petra.

The subject of the early lectures will be the history of the discipline told through the people whose explorations at key sites around the world led to the development of the methods and techniques of modern archaeologists. The main questions to be asked in the following months are: What material has been preserved through time and how? Where is it found and by what methods? How old is the site or the artifacts and how do the archaeologists determine dates?
Recent discoveries such as that of HMS Investigator by Parks Canada archaeologists in the summer of 2010 will provide exciting and relevant material to enhance the course content.

The textbook just released in April 2012 is the most comprehensive introduction to the discipline with up-to-date scientific methods and techniques, and topics such as geoarchaeology (climate change), cognitive archaeology, and archaeological ethics including the willful destruction of religious artifacts and the question of ownership of cultural property. (Should the Elgin Marbles be returned to Greece or the Rosetta Stone to Egypt?)

Over the course of the year, students will gain an insight into the discipline that can be at once very exciting and very tedious. Guest lecturers both in the classroom and at public lectures in the city will offer the students first-hand personal experience and expertise in their respective areas of archaeological and scientific inquiry. The museum exhibits in Ottawa also offer the students excellent opportunities to study archaeological subjects directly related to this introductory course.

Textbooks

The required textbook for this course, available in the University Bookstore, is:

Archaeology: Theories, Methods, and Practice

by Colin Renfrew and Paul Bahn.

Sixth edition. Thames and Hudson, 2012

Some students may be interested to know that this textbook may also be purchased as an Ebook with both an Online and Downloadable version available. http://books.wwnorton.com/books/978-0-5000-28976-1/

A supplementary textbook also available in the Bookstore is:

Please note that both these books are on Reserve in the Library for students who may not wish to give the Bookstore so much of their money. [Copies of Renfrew and Bahn are also in the stacks.] Also on Reserve to supplement the books and lectures is The Cambridge Illustrated History of Archaeology, ed. Paul Bahn.

The Library

The Library provides a study guide for Greek and Roman Studies that includes some reference material for archaeology in the Greek and Roman world [e.g. The Atlas of Classical Archaeology and A New Topographical Dictionary of Ancient Rome.] The study guide for Archaeology is worldwide and includes The Oxford Companion to Archaeology [note the electronic resource for this book], Chronologies of Old World Archaeology, and Past Worlds. The Times Atlas of Archaeology (Map Room).

The Library is actively expanding its holdings on Archaeology (browse through those, for example, on the fifth floor in the CC range), with books including first-hand reports written by famous 19th and 20th century archaeologists (e.g. Evans, Layard, Schliemann, Woolley), videos, and journals (including online resources such as the Biblical Archaeology Review, British Archaeology, American Journal of Archaeology) covering a wide range of aspects in the field. Among articles in recent journals which have bearing on course content in the textbook are the highly advanced studies carried out on King Tut (National Geographic June 2005, Archaeology May/June 2010 and Minerva May/June 2010); the “jaw-dropping” ruins of ancient Persia or modern Iran (Nat. Geo. August 2008); the most recent technological advancements (e.g. satellite imagery, GIS) in mapping ancient sites and structures (Archaeology May/June 2009 and 2010); the latest underwater discoveries from Lake Ontario to the Adriatic Sea (Archaeology July/August 2009 and Mar./April 2011); the engineers of ancient Angkor Wat (Nat. Geo. July 2009); the Bog Bodies of England and northern Europe (British Archaeology Jan./Feb. 2010 and Archaeology May/June 2010); the Greek warship, the trireme (Minerva May/June 2010); the ruins of Aphrodisias in Turkey, known in Antiquity for the quality of the marble sculpture produced there (Biblical Archaeological Review May/June 2010); and the Roman roads of southern France (Minerva March/April 2012). Local magazine stores carry Archaeology, British Archaeology, and Minerva. These journals, and www.archaeological.org and www.archaeologica.org, provide timely coverage of recent discoveries and events that will be incorporated in lectures to update material in the textbook.

In the Library Map Room [MADGIC], students will find a special collection of maps and archaeological atlases that have been set aside for this course (and FYSM 1106A). Look for a display sign on one of the large map shelving units. Maps are also posted on the adjacent wall. This material, designated for use in the library only, will be set out for the Fall semester both for completion of a specific assignment and for interest.

The following books may interest the aspiring archaeologist (though not all are found in the Carleton library):

Adams, Mark.  Turn Right at Machu Picchu
Bass, George, ed.  Beneath the Seven Seas
Chubb, Mary.  Nefertiti Lived Here and City in the Sand

WebCT and Websites for Archaeology

Students may consult WebCT for this course but please correspond with the instructor via her carleton.ca email address [NOT through WebCT]. The dates for quizzes, assignments, and guest lectures will be posted there as well as articles of interest and some websites in the Weblinks section on the study of archaeology, museum collections, interactive sites for ‘virtual tours’ of sites (e.g. Pompeii), recent news e.g. www.archaeologica.org, and current excavations. Websites with information about ‘digs’ and field schools around the world include www.archaeological.org, www.findadig.com, www.shovelbums.org, as well as www.earthwatch.org. There is a list of websites in the textbook, p. 585, for more links to societies, journals, and institutes worldwide. Numerous websites are also given in the “slide shows” that illustrate and augment the lecture material.

The students will be advised in class of dates and requirements for the quizzes and assignments, and of the course material they are responsible for in the two scheduled exams. A student who formally requests to write a deferred final exam must have attained at least 50% of the maximum marks for the other components of the evaluation.

The final assignment of the year, due in March, will be the Museum Assignment for which students will visit a museum of their choice anywhere, whether here in Ottawa or elsewhere depending on circumstances and travel. Feedback from the students is very positive. Details will be provided by the end of October to give everyone ample time.

Course Calendar
There are two lectures a week, one and a half hours each in duration. Announcements and reminders are given at the beginning of each class. The subject of the lectures will follow to a certain extent the order of the chapters in the textbook, and students will be advised of the material to read for each lecture. The dates for guest lectures will be announced and posted when confirmed. An additional resource is offered by the publisher of the textbook through the student web site: http://thamesandhudsonusa.com/web/archaeology. Major topics over the course of the two semesters will include:
In the Fall Semester:
Ch. 1  The history of archaeology from the first traces of an interest in the past
       The first excavations and archaeological pioneers
       The development of the science of archaeology
Ch. 2  The nature and variety of archaeological remains Ch. 3  Fieldwork: site discovery, surveys, aerial reconnaissance, GIS, excavation methods, the recovery and recording of artifacts,
Ch. 4  Dating methods and chronology
Ch. 5  Classification of societies

In the Winter Semester:
Ch. 6  Environmental archaeology and geoarchaeology
Ch. 7  Subsistence and diet
Ch. 8  Evidence of ancient technology
Ch. 9  Evidence for trade including shipwrecks
Ch. 10 Cognitive archaeology – aspects of art and symbols
Ch. 11 Bioarchaeology of people Ch. 14 Current issues including the destruction of artifacts during conflict and cultural ownership

The textbook is very comprehensive with a great deal of interesting material, but we will not be able to cover all of it in each chapter in equal depth through the year. Thus, some topics will be discussed in greater detail than others, but students may pursue them on their own time if they wish. Some topics will be illustrated with films and may include a documentary on the caravan city of Petra, the reconstruction of the Parthenon in Athens, the discovery of ‘Lucy’ in Ethiopia, the mapping of the migration of our ancestors ‘out of Africa’ using DNA, the prehistoric cave paintings in France, the famous Uluburun shipwreck or other wrecks in the Mediterranean, the Inca of Machu Picchu, Solomon’s copper mines, or the underwater recovery of Egyptian statues from the Pharos, one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World, in Alexandria.

Guest Lectures
    There will be guest lectures in each term. Over the past four years, among the lecturers were the author of an acclaimed book on Roman aqueducts and water supply; one of the Parks Canada marine archaeologists who discovered the wreck of HMS Investigator in July 2010 and is involved in the search for Franklin’s ships; a specialist in the conservation of artifacts; an underwater archaeologist who also ‘digs’ in the Valley of the Kings; a specialist in historical artifacts made of glass and stoneware including beer bottles; an urban archaeologist who specializes in historical sites in eastern Ontario, and an anthropologist whose interest is the early native hunters in the same region; a Carleton geologist who studies the ancient climate and climate change; another geologist who discussed the impact of volcanoes and earthquakes on ancient sites; a specialist in the archaeological use of GIS; and an osteoarchaeologist who digs in the Temple of Tutmose. This year some of these lecturers will return and dates will be set as soon as possible depending on their field seasons.

Another important component of the Fall semester will be the presentations given by Carleton students who have gained field experience this past summer in places as far afield as Macedonia and Turkey, and as close to home as Ontario. These illustrated presentations are personal, informative and insightful, and helpful for students who hope to go on a dig themselves. In other years students who dug in Greece, Israel, Menorca, England, Baffin Island, and the Ottawa Valley have given presentations as well as the student who described the dangers posed by a wild boar while conducting field surveys in south Italy.

Guest lectures will take place at Carleton under the auspices of Greek and Roman Studies [GRS]. There will be throughout the academic year public lectures presented by archaeological societies in Ottawa, including the Canadian Institute of Mediterranean Studies [CIMS] and the Archaeological Institute of America [AIA]; everyone is welcome and there is no charge. Schedules will be posted and reminders given in class. Students who attend any of these lectures will be credited with bonus points in their final grade.

CLCV 3400 Greek and Roman Studies Abroad

Carleton offers a half credit course for travel and study to sites of Classical Antiquity for which CLCV2300 is a recognized prerequisite [i.e. one full credit from any courses offered by GRS and at least 18 years of age]. The course is not offered every year; in May 2010 and 2012 students toured sites in Greece and the Aegean Sea including Athens, Delphi, Mycenae, Santorini, and Crete.

NOTA BENE

Attendance in class is important. The lectures given by guest speakers cannot be found in the textbook and some of the material presented in the lectures including illustrations may not be found there as well. If a student misses a class due to illness or some unforeseen situation, he or she should contact the instructor immediately, in particular if there is a necessity to request a ‘make-up test’, for which a doctor’s note is required.

It is the responsibility of the student to make sure that he or she is up-to-date concerning readings, class progress, assignments and tests. Assignments are submitted in class or put in the GRS Drop Box at Paterson 300. [Please do not put any course material under an office door; there is no guarantee that it will reach its intended destination.] Please use the carleton.ca address for any email messages and note that a student’s formal university email address must, by university regulations, be used for all such correspondence.

Students are encouraged and welcome to visit the instructor during her Office Hours. An appointment can be arranged if the student has a conflict with those times.

REGULATIONS COMMON TO ALL HUMANITIES COURSES

COPIES OF WRITTEN WORK SUBMITTED
Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

PLAGIARISM
The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citation marks;
- handing in “substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.”

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of “F” for the course.

GRADING SYSTEM
Letter grades assigned in this course will have the following percentage equivalents:

- A+ = 90-100 (12)  B = 73-76 (8)  C - = 60-62 (4)
- A = 85-89 (11)  B- = 70-72 (7)  D+ = 57-59 (3)
- A- = 80-84 (10)  C+ = 67-69 (6)  D = 53-56 (2)
- B+ = 77-79 (9)  C = 63-66 (5)  D- = 50-52 (1)
- F = Failure. Assigned 0.0 grade points
- ABS = Absent from final examination, equivalent to F
- DEF = Official deferral (see "Petitions to Defer")
- FND = Failure with no deferred exam allowed -- assigned only when the student has failed the course on the basis of inadequate term work as specified in the course outline.

WITHDRAWAL WITHOUT ACADEMIC PENALTY
The last date to withdraw from FALL TERM courses is DEC. 3, 2012. The last day to withdraw from FALL/WINTER (Full Term) and WINTER term courses is APRIL 10, 2013.

REQUESTS FOR ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION
You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term because of disability, pregnancy or religious obligations. Please review the course outline promptly and write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. You can view the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at: carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/

Students with disabilities requiring academic accommodations in this course must register with the Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) for a formal evaluation of disability-related needs. Documented disabilities could include but not limited to mobility/physical impairments, specific Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/psychological disabilities, sensory disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), and chronic medical conditions. Registered PMC students are required to contact the PMC, 613-520-6608, every term to ensure that your Instructor receives your Letter of Accommodation, no later than two weeks before the first assignment is due or the first in-class test/midterm requiring accommodations. If you only require accommodations for your formally scheduled exam(s) in this course, please submit your request for accommodations to PMC by Nov. 9, 2012 for the Fall term and March 8, 2013 for the Winter term. For more details visit the Equity Services website: carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/

PETITIONS TO DEFER
If you miss a final examination and/or fail to submit a final assignment by the due date because of circumstances beyond your control, you may apply a deferral of examination/assignment.

If you are applying for a deferral due to illness you will be required to see a physician in order to confirm illness and obtain a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination or assignment deadline. This supporting documentation must specify the date of onset of the illness, the degree of incapacitation, and the expected date of recovery.

If you are applying for a deferral for reasons other than personal illness, please contact the Registrar’s Office directly for information on other forms of documentation that we accept.

Deferrals of assignments must be supported by confirmation of the assignment due date, for example a copy of the course outline specifying the due date and any documented extensions from the course instructor.

Deferral applications for examination or assignments must be submitted within 5 working days of the original final exam.
