Course Description

This course will cover the history of ancient Greece from the earliest pre-history to the cusp of the classical period with the end of the Greek-Persian wars. Major topics include the Bronze Age civilisations of Minoan Crete and the Mycenaeans, the so-called “dark age,” and the formation and nature of the archaic city-state. We will study a range of materials as well as methods of analysis and drawing conclusions from limited evidence, including art, material culture, architecture, and written sources.

Learning Outcomes

- Understanding of the outlines of the pre-history and early history of the Greek mainland and Aegean, with particular emphasis on the Bronze age and the emergence of the city state.
- Understanding of the uses and limitations of material evidence (architecture, pottery, and other material remains), literary evidence, and ancient historiography.
- Understanding of the relations between economics, social organisation, culture, and politics of the period.
- Ability to use evidence in support of relevant arguments and to take positions on specific historical and archaeological issues.
- Ability to use online research databases and journals to gain an understanding of current scholarship on a specific topic, and to synthesise that understanding in an overview.

Texts

Pomeroy, S. B., et al. (eds.). 2018. Ancient Greece: a political, social, and cultural history (from here abbreviated as AG, ISBN: 9780190686918)

Herodotus (A. de Selincourt, trans.). 2003. The Histories (H, ISBN: 9780140449082)

Other texts will be distributed as PDFs on CULearn.

Grading

- Research assignments: 10% and 20%
- Midterm exams x 2: 20% each
- Final exam: 30%

Remote and asynchronous learning

- This course will be asynchronous, but with some deadlines during it that will ensure everyone is roughly on the same page. Those deadlines where we will all be synced up will be the two midterm exams. Everyone will do the midterm exams on the same day.
 - The first midterm will take place Oct 14 (middle of week 6)
 - The second midterm will take place Nov 8 (middle of week 10)
- Everyone will also do the final exam on the same day, with the date to be scheduled by the exam service.
- In between these dates, you will determine your own pace through the material, with the only constraint being the speed at which I upload recorded lectures. I will maintain a rate of at least two lectures per week, but will try to get ahead of that rate for the eager among you.
- One further set of deadlines relate to a two-part research assignment. The first is a bibliographical exercise. The second will ask you to write up an overview of scholarship based on your bibliography. Details will be posted separated on CULearn, but the due dates are as follows:
 - Part 1: Nov 2 (Monday after break)
 - Part 2: Dec 11 (last day of classes)
- I will send reminder emails for these dates, but it's probably a good idea to mark them in your calendar now. I will also email if there are any changes.
- How to get through the material each week:
 - Do the reading from Pomeroy (abbreviated AG in the schedule below).
 - Follow the lecture recordings, which is best done on a computer or tablet screen so you can see the slides. I will make the slides themselves available. You may wish to print them out beforehand so you can take notes on them.
 - The non-Pomeroy readings are supplementary and can be done before or after the lectures.
- There will be a forum on CULearn where you can post any questions you might have. I will check it and reply at least weekly. Before posting, please take a moment to see if the question has not already been answered, either in this syllabus or in previously posted questions. Students should also feel free to post replies or further discussions to any topic on this forum.

Exam notes

- The midterms consist of two parts. The first part is multiple choice. The second part will require a written responses of ~500 words. The questions for these written responses will be provided to you at least a week in advance so there will not be any time pressure for writing them. The second midterm will not cover material already tested in the first midterm.

- The final will be a scheduled online exam, and will be similar to the midterms in structure. The final will be cumulative, unlike the midterms.
- All exams will be open book and open notes.

Statement on Plagiarism

The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentionally or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in “substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.”

Plagiarism is a serious offence that cannot be resolved directly by the course’s instructor. The Associate Dean of the Faculty conducts a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of “F” for the course.

Academic Accommodation Policy

Academic Accommodation

Carleton University is committed to providing access to the educational experience in order to promote academic accessibility for all individuals.

Parental Leave: The Student Parental Leave Policy is intended to recognize the need for leave at the time of a pregnancy, birth or adoption and to permit a pause in studies in order to provide full-time care in the first year of parenting a child or for health-related parental responsibilities.

Religious obligation: Carleton University accommodates students who, by reason of religious obligation, must miss an examination, test, assignment deadline, laboratory or other compulsory academic event.

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities:

Academic accommodation of students with disabilities is available through the Paul Menton Centre by evaluations that are carried out on an individual basis, in accordance with human rights legislation and University policy, and with the support of relevant, professional/medical documentation.

Survivors of Sexual Violence

Individuals who disclose that they have experienced sexual violence will be provided support services and will be treated with dignity and respect at all times by the University and its representatives. A person affected by sexual violence is not required to report an incident of or make a complaint about sexual violence under the formal complaint process of the Sexual Violence Policy in order to obtain support and services, or in order to receive appropriate accommodation for their needs.

Supports and services available at the University to obtain information about sexual violence and/or support.

Accommodation for Student Activities

Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. More information.

Grading System at Carleton University

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor, subject to the approval of the faculty Dean. Standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. This means that grades submitted by the instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean."

The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points and the percentage conversion, is listed below. Grade points indicated are for courses with 1.0 credit value.

Course Sharing Websites and Copyright

Classroom teaching and learning activities, including lectures, discussions, presentations, etc., by both instructors and students, are copy protected and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s). All course materials, including PowerPoint presentations, outlines, and other materials, are also protected by copyright and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s).

Students registered in the course may take notes and make copies of course materials for their own educational use only. Students are not permitted to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly for commercial or non-commercial purposes without express written consent from the copyright holder(s).

Student Rights and Responsibilities at Carleton

Carleton University strives to provide a safe environment conducive to personal and intellectual growth, free of injustice and characterized by understanding respect, peace, trust, and fairness.

The Student Rights and Responsibilities Policy governs the non-academic behaviour of students. Carleton University is committed to building a campus that promotes personal growth through the establishment and promotion of transparent and fair academic and non-academic responsibilities.

7 Student Rights and Responsibilities

Deferred Term Work

In some situations, students are unable to complete term work because of illness or other circumstances beyond their control, which forces them to delay submission of the work.

1. Students who claim illness, injury or other extraordinary circumstances beyond their control as a reason for missed term work are held responsible for immediately informing the instructor concerned and for making alternate arrangements with the instructor and in all cases this must occur no later than three (3.0) working days after the term work was due. The alternate arrangement must be made before the last day of classes in the term as published in the academic schedule. Normally, any deferred term work will be completed by the last day of term. In all cases, formative evaluations providing feedback to the student should be replaced with formative evaluations. In the event the altered due date must extend beyond the last day of classes in the term, the instructor will assign a grade of zero for the work not submitted and submit the student's earned grade accordingly; the instructor may submit a change of grade at a later date. Term work cannot be deferred by the Registrar.

2. In cases where a student is not able to complete term work due to illness or injury for a significant period of time/or long term, the instructor and/or student may elect to consult with the Registrar's Office (undergraduate courses) or Graduate Registrar (graduate courses) to determine appropriate action.

Deferred Final Exams

Students who are unable to write a final examination because of a serious illness/emergency or other circumstances beyond their control may apply for accommodation. Normally, the accommodation for a missed final examination will be granting the student the opportunity to write a deferred examination. In specific cases when it is not possible to offer a deferred examination, and with the approval of the Dean, an alternate accommodation may be made.

The application for a deferral must:

1. be made in writing to the Registrar's Office no later than three working days after the original final examination or the due date of the take-home examination; and,
2. be fully supported by appropriate documentation and, in cases of illness, by a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination, or by appropriate documents in other cases. Medical documents must specify the date of the onset of the illness, the (expected) date of recovery, and the extent to which the student was/is incapacitated during the time of the examination. The University's preferred medical form can be found at the Registrar's Office here.

More information on Final Exam Deferrals

Financial vs. Academic Withdrawal

Withdrawn. No academic credit, no impact on the CGPA. WDN is a permanent notation that appears on the official transcript for students who withdraw after the full fee adjustment date in each term (noted in the Academic Year section of the Calendar each term). Students may withdraw on or before the last day of classes.

Important dates can be found here. Make sure that you are aware of the separate deadlines for Financial and Academic withdrawal!

Making registration decisions in Carleton Central involves making a financial and academic commitment for the courses you choose, regardless of attendance. If you do not attend – you must withdraw in Carleton Central within the published deadlines to cancel your registration. You can do this via the MyCarleton Portal. A fee adjustment is dependent on registration being canceled within the published fee deadlines and dependent on your course load.
