COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course will continue to introduce students to some of the basic elements of Greek grammar and vocabulary as set out in chapters 18-41 of the required textbook. Students will be expected not only to master the grammar and vocabulary presented to them but also to do elementary translation from Greek into English. Students should realise that ancient Greek works on very different principles from English. Like Russian it is a highly inflected language, one in which changes in word endings (and, in the case of verbs, word beginnings as well) are used to make the words' functions clear. These variations in the form of words must be learnt if the student is to make progress. It is essential therefore that students attend class regularly. Class attendance will be kept and if a student misses several classes without a doctor's certificate, a 1% deduction will be made for each class missed up to a maximum of 10%.

Classical Greek is the language of many of the great works of world literature, politics and philosophy including, among others, those of Homer, Plato, Aristotle, Sophocles, Sappho, Euripides, Aristophanes, Herodotus and Thucydides. It is also the basis of much scientific and technical vocabulary in English. One of the benefits of learning ancient Greek is that it enlarges a student's English vocabulary.

REQUIRED TEXT:

Elementary Greek Translation Book by A.E. Hillard and C.G. Botting

EVALUATION:

FINAL EXAM:	50% (April Examination Period)
MID-TERM TEST:	30%
MINI VOCABULARY TESTS:	20%

The mid-term tests will be returned to students no later than a week after they have been submitted. Each paper will be marked with a numerical grade.

Students must obtain a minimum of 50% on the final exam to achieve a passing grade.

NOTA BENE: It is not recommended that students whose knowledge of English grammar is poor take this course, since the course will require a reasonably sophisticated knowledge of English grammar.

REGULATIONS COMMON TO ALL HUMANITIES COURSES

COPIES OF WRITTEN WORK SUBMITTED

Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

PLAGIARISM

The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in “substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.”

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They range from a mark of zero for the plagiarized work to a final grade of “F” for the course, and even suspension from all studies or expulsion from the University.

GRADING SYSTEM

Letter grades assigned in this course will have the following percentage equivalents:

A+ = 90-100 (12)	B+ = 77-79 (9)	C+ = 67-69 (6)
A = 85-89 (11)	B = 73-76 (8)	C = 63-66 (5)
A - = 80-84 (10)	B - = 70-72 (7)	C - = 60-62 (4)
D+ = 57-59 (3)	D = 53-56 (2)	D - = 50-52 (1)

F	Failure. No academic credit
WDN	Withdrawn from the course
ABS	Absent from the final examination
DEF	Official deferral (see “Petitions to Defer”)
FND	Failure with no deferred exam allowed -- assigned only when the student has failed the course on the basis of inadequate term work as specified in the course outline.

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean.
