Course Email: Timothy.Pettipiece@carleton.ca

COURSE OBJECTIVES

One of the most daunting stages of classical language learning is the “second year leap,” when we are asked to move beyond the familiar territory of the textbook into other linguistic terrain. This can be a an intimidating transition. While building upon Intermediate Latin I, this course will help students work towards consolidating and applying their knowledge of Latin grammar and syntax by translating selected passages of varying difficulty and reflecting diverse periods of Latin literary history. Emphasis will be place on building confidence in reading, as well as developing sound translation strategies and techniques. Regular participation in weekly class meetings is essential to success in the course.

COURSE DELIVERY

This class will be meeting virtually on Mondays and Wednesdays (10:05-11:25). Students are expected to attend classes on a regular basis, to have prepared ahead of time, and to engage in reading and translation activities.

OFFICE HOURS

I would normally be available several hours per week to discuss course related material on campus, although this is not possible at the moment. You can still contact me about course related issues via email (see above), and I will attempt to respond within 24 hours during weekdays, 48 hours during weekends.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK

Texts for weekly readings and translation assignments will be provided on CULearn. The world-list in Wheelock will not be sufficient, so students should acquire a good intermediate level Latin dictionary, such as one of the following:

The New College Latin & English Dictionary (Bantam, 2007)

Collins Latin Dictionary and Grammar (Collins, 2016)

Cassell's Latin Dictionary (Webster's, 1977) more expensive but more comprehensive*

EVALUATION

Term Translation Assignments	3 x 10% =	30% (Due Jan 25 / Feb 22 / March 22)
Final Translation Assignment		30% (Due April 14)
Weekly Virtual Meetings (attendance, participation, preparation)		40%

Academic Dates and Deadlines

This schedule contains the dates prescribed by the University Senate for academic activities. Dates relating to fee payment, cancellation of course selections, late charges, and other fees or charges will be published in the Important Dates and Deadlines section of the Registration Website.

Online Learning Resources

While online courses offer flexibility and convenience, they also present unique challenges that traditional face-to-face courses do not. On this page, you will find resources collected by Carleton Online to help you succeed in your online courses; Learning Strategies and Best Practices, Study Skills, Technology and Online Interaction and Engagement.

Copies of Written Work Submitted

Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

Academic Integrity at Carleton

The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentionally or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in "substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs." Plagiarism is a serious offence that cannot be resolved directly by the course's instructor. The Associate Dean of the Faculty conducts a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of "F" for the course

Deferred Term Work

In some situations, students are unable to complete term work because of illness or other circumstances beyond their control, which forces them to delay submission of the work.

1. Students who claim illness, injury or other extraordinary circumstances beyond their control as a reason for missed term work are held responsible for immediately informing the instructor concerned and for making alternate arrangements with the instructor and in all cases this must occur no later than three (3.0) working days after the term work was due. The alternate arrangement must be made before the last day of classes in the term as published in the academic schedule. Normally, any deferred term work will be completed by the last day of term. In all cases, formative evaluations providing feedback to the student should be replaced with formative evaluations. In the event the altered due date must extend beyond the last day of classes in the term, the instructor will assign a grade of zero for the work not submitted and submit the student's earned grade accordingly; the instructor may submit a change of grade at a later date. Term work cannot be deferred by the Registrar.
2. In cases where a student is not able to complete term work due to illness or injury for a significant period of time/or long term, the instructor and/or student may elect to consult with the Registrar's Office (undergraduate courses) or Graduate Registrar (graduate courses) to determine appropriate action.

Deferred Final Exams

Students who are unable to write a final examination because of a serious illness/emergency or other circumstances beyond their control may apply for accommodation. Normally, the accommodation for a missed final examination will be granting the student the opportunity to write a deferred examination. In specific cases when it is not possible to offer a deferred examination, and with the approval of the Dean, an alternate accommodation may be made.

The application for a deferral must:

1. be made in writing to the Registrar's Office no later than three working days after the original final examination or the due date of the take-home examination; and,
2. be fully supported by appropriate documentation and, in cases of illness, by a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination, or by appropriate documents in other cases. Medical documents must specify the date of the onset of the illness, the (expected) date of recovery, and the extent to which the student was/is incapacitated during the time of the examination.

Financial vs. Academic Withdrawal

Withdrawn. No academic credit, no impact on the CGPA. WDN is a permanent notation that appears on the official transcript for students who withdraw after the full fee adjustment date in each term (noted in the Academic Year section of the Calendar each term). Students may withdraw on or before the last day of classes.

Important dates can be found here. Make sure that you are aware of the separate deadlines for Financial and Academic withdrawal!

Making registration decisions in Carleton Central involves making a financial and academic commitment for the courses you choose, regardless of attendance. If you do not attend – you must withdraw in Carleton Central within the published deadlines to cancel your registration. You can do this via the MyCarleton Portal. A fee adjustment is dependent on registration being canceled within the published fee deadlines and dependent on your course load.
