

November 2024

Financial Literacy Month

November is Financial Literacy Month, a national campaign lead by the Financial Consumer Agency of Canada (FCAC).

This year's campaign "Money on your Mind. Talk about it!" is aimed at destigmatizing conversations about money by encouraging Canadians to share their financial experiences and ask questions. Click here to learn more!

Here's what you can do to take action this November:

- Check your credit score;
- Talk to a friend about budgeting;
- Ask questions to a trusted financial professional; or
- Engage in conversations on social media with the #MoneyOnYourMind challenge.

In honour of Financial Literacy Month, Canada Life will be hosting Saving for Life Webinars that will help you unlock the power of your group retirement and savings plan and reach your savings goals. Click here for more information!
