

Ending the Financial Feud: Relationships & Money

Are you and your spouse/partner constantly fighting about money? Do you find it hard to get on the same page about your finances without it turning into a fight? If so, you're not alone! In fact, the frequency of money-related fights is one of the biggest predictors of divorce.

Join the Ending the Financial Feud webinar hosted by The Credit Counselling Society on Saturday, February 24th from 11:00 am – 12:00 pm and you will learn how to:

- Identify your money histories;
- Identify yours, theirs and each other's relationship to money;
- Set goals as a couple and understand how the goals meet each partner's values and needs;
- Decide who has the desire, skill and ability to create and implement a household money management plan; and
- Implement various financial systems to make life easier.

Be sure to reserve your spot!