

User Experience (UX) Designer

Apply now

Systemscope is looking for an enthusiastic entry-level Design Consultant to support our team, helping to infuse user-centred design into our Government of Canada consulting engagements, ultimately transforming how our clients deliver government services to Canadians.

You will work on:

Applying user-centred design approaches to solve business challenges

Developing creative and effective visualizations of models, concepts and data

Designing user interfaces for applications that drive the next generation of government services

Producing service design deliverables (e.g. personas, scenarios, prototypes, blueprints, storyboards) to communicate and drive transformation

Contributing to a growing team of user experience designers and consulting capability at Systemscope

Sharing your passion about the business value of user centred design approaches, and promoting that value to others

You have:

2+ years of graphic design experience creating compelling visual communication materials and/or user interfaces

Experience with prototyping tools, UI design tools, and Adobe suite

Understanding of iterative UX product and service design approaches

Ability to assess and manage time across competing priorities and projects

Strong foundation in user-centred design and focused on and act as a champion for the user

Natural collaborator and love to solve problems

Strong communicator

Post-secondary education

Nice to have:

You can work effectively in both English and French

You have GC Secret (Level II) clearance

You have experience and knowledge of the public sector (organizations, policies, programs, processes)

You have experience with Government of Canada web and accessibility standards (e.g. WET4, WCAG)

You have experience with UX research and usability testing

How to apply

To apply, send your resume to HR@systemscape.com, with “UX Designer” in the subject line

We welcome and encourage applications from people with disabilities. Accommodations are available upon request for candidates participating in the selection process. Our business offices are on the 2nd floor, with a single flight of stairs (20 steps) being the only access point to the building.

Systemscape’s commitment to diversity and inclusion spans our entire firm and is a foundation for our vision, values and culture. We welcome and embrace people from all backgrounds to pursue their career goals and dreams with us, as we work with our public sector clients to improve services for the betterment of all people living in Canada.
