

Smudging in progress

DATE: _____

Carleton University respects and supports First Nations, Inuit and Métis cultural and spiritual practices on campus. These practices can take different forms, including smudging ceremony, pipe ceremony, or lighting of the qulliq.

Typically, the amount of smoke associated with these types of ceremonies is minimal and lasts a very short time.

EMAIL THE CENTRE FOR INDIGENOUS SUPPORT AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AT INDIGENOUS@CARLETON.CA IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS.

Centre for Indigenous Support and Community Engagement