This is a Carleton University Online (CUOL) class. All class sessions will be recorded for video-on-demand service. Students enrolled in the V-section are advised to check the CUOL website for information on distance exams and other issues relevant to online course delivery (www.carleton.ca/cuol). This course will use cuLearn; all students should check the cuLearn page associated with this course before each lecture.

Course description:

The European Union (EU) is the most far-reaching project of regional economic and political integration in the world. Initiated in the 1950s in an attempt to prevent further wars on the continent, the EU today influences virtually all areas of policy making. The number of member states has almost doubled in the last decade, and most of the remaining non-EU states in Europe have expressed an interest in joining in the future. With the Lisbon Treaty, the EU has reformed its institutional structure and introduced additional mechanisms for democratic input by citizens and interest groups.

Yet the EU also faces significant challenges: The Eurozone financial crisis has exposed the structural weaknesses of its flagship project, the Euro. Migration and refugee movements into the EU have emerged as a major challenge, and attempts to deal with it have highlighted the limits of solidarity between member states. In international affairs, even when dealing with regional conflicts in its neighbourhood (such as Ukraine), the EU's voice often remains weak. Domestically, public support for the integration project remains fragile, and Euroskepticism is on the rise in a number of member states.

To put these observations into perspective, this course provides an introduction to the political system and policy processes of the EU. It also examines the most important theories of European integration, surveys major fields of EU policy making, and discusses some of the challenges that the EU is facing in the second decade of the 21st century. At the end of the course, students will be familiar with the main aspects of EU politics and will have a solid understanding of core concepts and controversies in EU Studies.

Texts:

There are two required textbooks for this course. Both titles have been put on reserve in the MacOdrum Library, and have been ordered in the university bookstore. They can also be purchased in other bookstores or online:

- N. Nugent (2010), The Government and Politics of the European Union, 7th edition (Basingstoke: Palgrave Macmillan).
- H. Wallace, M. A. Pollack, and A. R. Young, eds. (2015), Policy-Making in the European Union, 7th edition (Oxford University Press).

It is strongly recommended that students purchase these two books. Make sure to purchase the most recent editions, since older editions do not cover the most recent developments. While most course readings are taken from the textbooks, occasionally additional texts are required (marked by  in the course outline). These are made available electronically via cuLearn. The EU Treaties can be downloaded from http://europa.eu/eu-law/decision-making/treaties/index_en.htm.

Evaluation:

- | | | |
|--|-----|---|
| ▪ Participation in class or online discussions | 15% | |
| ▪ Midterm exam | 20% | (Friday, Feb 12, 2016, 6:00-8:00 pm) |
| ▪ Three discussion papers (15% each) | 45% | (Due Feb 4, Mar 10, Apr 7, 2016) |
| ▪ Final exam | 20% | (Exam period, Apr 11-23, 2016) |

Participation in class or online discussion: Students registered in the B-section are expected to attend all class sessions and to contribute actively to class discussions. For students in the V-section, there will be an online discussion forum in cuLearn. Topics for the online forum will be defined each week; students are expected to participate on a continuous basis (participation will be assessed each week). Students in both sections should be aware that some activities of the EU are highly technical; students will hence be confronted with material that might look ‘dry’ at first sight and becomes fascinating only if they actively engage with it – which everyone is expected to do. Participation marks will be assigned according to the quantity and quality of contributions.

Midterm exam: There will be a two-hour midterm exam on Friday, Feb 12, 2016 (6:00-8:00 pm). The exam will be in a short-answer format; it covers all course material addressed in Part I of the course (Jan 7 to Feb 4, 2016), including readings, lectures, and class/online discussions. The exam is designed to test students’ knowledge of basic facts about the EU’s political system, EU policy-making processes, as well as the most important theories of European integration. Students in the V-section can file a distance exam application with CUOL. Please respect the deadlines posted on the CUOL website.

Discussion papers: Students are expected to write three discussion papers. In each of these, they are asked react to a specific question posed by the instructor (selected from a choice of three). The questions relate to each of the three parts of the course – (1) the EU’s political system, (2) core fields of EU policy making, and (3) current challenges for European integration. They will be made available to the students at least three weeks before the respective due dates (Feb 4, Mar 10, and Apr 7, 2016). Discussion papers should be about 5-7 pages in length (12 point font, double spaced, ca. 1500-2000 words). They should address the question in a brief deliberative essay, drawing on the required readings as well as additional material identified by the students themselves. Further instructions on the papers will be given in class. Marks may be deducted for stylistic errors and/or faulty referencing; advice on these issues will be given in class. Students are encouraged to discuss ideas for their papers with the instructor during his office hours.

Final exam: There will be a two-hour final exam in the April exam period (April 11-23, 2016). In this exam, students will have to respond to two essay questions relating to material not covered in the midterm (i.e., Parts II and III of the course). The exam is designed to test whether students can apply what they have learned in this course to current controversies about the EU's policies or institutional development. Students in the V-section can file a distance exam application with CUOL. Please respect the deadlines posted on the CUOL website.

Submission of coursework:

Students registered in the B-section must submit all written assignments as hardcopies directly to the instructor in class. For late assignments, the drop box in the Department of Political Science may be used. This box is located outside room B640 Loeb Building; it is emptied every weekday at 4 p.m. and papers are date-stamped with that day's date.

Students registered in the V-section may submit their assignments through cuLearn's digital drop box. Unless a specific exception has been arranged, assignments sent per email will not be accepted.

Assignments will be returned in class; they can also be picked up in the CUOL office (D299 Loeb Building). Students in the V-section who have submitted their assignments electronically may have them returned per email.

Unless a medical (or equivalent) excuse is provided, late assignments will be penalized by two (2) percentage points per day (including weekends); assignments more than a week late will receive a mark of 0%. To receive a passing grade in the course, students must hand in at least two of the three discussion papers, as well as participating in the final exam.

Academic Accommodations

The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

For Religious Observance: Students requesting accommodation for religious observances should apply in writing to their instructor for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory academic event. Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student. Instructors and students may contact an Equity Services Advisor for assistance (www.carleton.ca/equity).

For Pregnancy: Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Advisor in Equity Services to complete a letter of accommodation. Then, make an appointment to discuss your needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

Plagiarism: The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in "substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course's instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They may include a mark of zero for the plagiarized work or a final grade of "F" for the course.

Student or professor materials created for this course (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s).

Submission and Return of Term Work: Papers must be submitted directly to the instructor according to the instructions in the course outline and will not be date-stamped in the departmental office. Late assignments may be submitted to the drop box in the corridor outside B640 Loeb. Assignments will be retrieved every business day at 4 p.m., stamped with that day's date, and then distributed to the instructor. For essays not returned in class please attach a stamped, self-addressed envelope if you wish to have your assignment returned by mail. Final exams are intended solely for the purpose of evaluation and will not be returned.

Grading: Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor, subject to the approval of the faculty Dean. Final standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points is:

Percentage	Letter grade	12-point scale	Percentage	Letter grade	12-point scale
90-100	A+	12	67-69	C+	6
85-89	A	11	63-66	C	5
80-84	A-	10	60-62	C-	4
77-79	B+	9	57-59	D+	3
73-76	B	8	53-56	D	2
70-72	B-	7	50-52	D-	1

Approval of final grades: Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by an instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.

Carleton E-mail Accounts: All email communication to students from the Department of Political Science will be via official Carleton university e-mail accounts and/or cuLearn. As important course and University information is distributed this way, it is the student's responsibility to monitor their Carleton and cuLearn accounts.

Carleton Political Science Society: The Carleton Political Science Society (CPSS) has made its mission to provide a social environment for politically inclined students and faculty. Holding social events, debates, and panel discussions, CPSS aims to involve all political science students at Carleton University. Our mandate is to arrange social and academic activities in order to instill a sense of belonging within the Department and the larger University community. Members can benefit through numerous opportunities which will complement both academic and social life at Carleton University. To find out more, visit <https://www.facebook.com/groups/politicalsciencesociety/> or come to our office in Loeb D688.

Official Course Outline: The course outline posted to the Political Science website is the official course outline.
