Academic Accommodations:

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation: write to the instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website: http://carleton.ca/equity/

Religious obligation: write to the instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website: http://carleton.ca/equity/

The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to forward your Letter of Accommodation to the instructor at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). Requests made within two weeks will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. Please consult the PMC website (www.carleton.ca/pmc) for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

You can visit the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at http://carleton.ca/equity/

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one's own. Plagiarism includes reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else's published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one's own without proper citation or reference to the original source. Examples of sources from which the ideas, expressions of ideas or works of others may be drawn from include but are not limited to: books, articles, papers, literary compositions and phrases, performance compositions, chemical compounds, art works, laboratory reports, research results, calculations and the results of calculations, diagrams, constructions, computer reports, computer code/software, and material on the Internet. Plagiarism is a serious offence.

More information on the University's Academic Integrity Policy can be found at: http://carleton.ca/studentaffairs/academic-integrity/

Student Services: The Centre for Student Academic Support (CSAS) is a centralized collection of learning support services designed to help students achieve their goals and improve their learning both inside and outside the classroom. CSAS offers academic assistance with course content, academic writing and skills development. Visit CSAS on the 4th floor of MacOdrum Library or online at carleton.ca/csas

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed as a basic introduction to the field of Canadian legal studies. As such, it has two basic objectives. The first objective is to provide a basic knowledge of the foundations of law and the legal system in Canada. Students will learn about the sources of law in Canada, the structure and function of legal institutions, the process of law-making and the various actors in the legal process. The second objective of the course is to provide students with the tools to begin to think critically about the role of law in Canadian society. Students will be introduced to various theoretical perspectives concerning the role of law in shaping relationships between individuals and groups as well as relations between the state and society. The ways in which the law may be manipulated to serve particular societal interests will also be considered. Ultimately, students will consider whether law should be considered an effective or desirable method of achieving social change.

REQUIRED TEXTS

There are two required texts for this course:

- 1. Stephen Tasson, Jane Dickson, Vincent Kazmierski, Bettina Kuzmarov, Sebastien Malette (eds.), Introduction to Legal Studies, 5th Edition (Concord: Captus Press, 2010); ISBN 978-1-55322-334-4.
- Rick Ruddell, George Pavlich, Exploring Criminal Justice in Canada Law and Society Redefined, Carleton University Custom Edition (Oxford University Press, 2016 & 2011); ISBN: 9780199015658.

Both of these texts are available at the Carleton University Bookstore. The Ruddell-Pavlich text is a new addition to the Laws 1000 readings; this text combines select chapters from two texts: Rick Ruddell, Exploring Criminal Justice in Canada (Oxford, 2016), ISBN-13: 9780199014231, and George Pavlich, Law and Society Redefined (Oxford, 2011), ISBN-13: 9780195429800. You may purchase the combined text at the University Bookstore.

The Tasson text (commonly known as the Legal Studies Course Reader) can be purchased new or used, or rented, at the University Bookstore (prices range from $77.50 for new through to $34.10 for 'rental') and at Haven Books, 43 Seneca Street, Ottawa (tel. 613-730-9888; prices range from $68.56 for new through to $52.00 -$65.00 for used); please be certain you are purchasing the correct edition of the text if you are purchasing a second-hand copy. Checking the ISBN number is the best way to ensure you have the right edition!

Copies of the Course Reader and the Ruddell-Pavlich text have been placed on reserve at the MacOdrum Library, and are available for 2-hour periods on a first come, first served, basis.

FORMAT OF THIS COURSE:

Laws 1000 is taught through a combination of lectures and discussion groups. Lectures are held for two hours, once per week of term; online and in class discussion groups are approximately one-hour in length and provide an opportunity to review and examine current course materials/subjects to a deeper level than is possible in lecture, obtain TA assistance in understanding course materials and structured assistance in completing assignments and writing exams. Discussion groups start in the second week of classes in both fall and winter terms. Please note that all materials covered in lectures, discussion groups and readings constitute examinable material for which students will be held responsible.

EVALUATION

There are four formal evaluation components in this course: two assignments and two multiple choice examinations. The examinations will be held in the regular examination periods in December 2017 and April 2018; assignments must be completed and submitted electronically to the appropriate Teaching Assistant via CULearn by 4:30 p.m. on the due date. Papers submitted in any other fashion will not be accepted; late papers will not be accepted save in the case of a documented medical excuse or similarly serious and unforeseen circumstance. Details of the late submission policy are outlined below.

Assignment 1 (15%): Short essay, due October 20, 2017 by 4:30 p.m. (full details of the assignment will be posted on CULearn).

Assignment 2 (15%) Case Summary, due March 9, 2018, by 4:30 p.m. (full details of the assignment will be posted on CULearn).

Fall Term Examination (25%) A Multiple Choice Examination of all topics/materials covered during the Fall Term, written during the formal examination period (December 10-22, 2017).

Second Term Examination (25%) A Multiple Choice Examination of topics/materials covered during the Winter Term, written during the formal examination period (April 14-26, 2018).

Discussion Group (20%) Students will be expected to attend and participate in weekly discussion groups.

PLEASE NOTE THE FOLLOWING:

Failure to complete all assignments and exams in the course will result in the student receiving a failing grade for the course. Deferrals will not be granted unless all other course requirements have been met.

Requests for course accommodations must be made to the instructor by email by September 30, 2017 for the Fall term, and by January 31, 2018 for the Winter term. Email requests must be clear about the accommodation sought and must contain relevant documentation supporting the request. Please note that the determination of requests for accommodation are at the discretion of the instructor, subject to formal university policies regarding accommodations. As such, students should not assume accommodations will be automatically approved. Barring exceptional circumstances (i.e., an unanticipated or unforeseeable accident or injury), requests for accommodations which are not submitted in a timely manner and within the timelines noted above will not be considered.

Late assignments will be marked down 2 marks for each day submitted after the due date (including week-end days). Extensions will only be given out in extreme circumstances, such as severe illness of the student or death of a family member. Appropriate documentation will be required to accompany all requests for extensions. Computer problems, conflicts with work schedules or similar problems do not constitute grounds for course accommodations.

Appeals of Assignment or Discussion Group Grades: Students who have questions about the grade they receive on an assignment or who wish to challenge the grade must contact their TA via email to request a review/appeal of their grade within two weeks of the posting of the disputed mark on CULearn. Consideration of requests for reviews/appeals which fall outside this timeline are solely at the discretion of the TA. Students who are not satisfied with the outcome of a grade review/appeal, or who are denied a review/appeal, may appeal that outcome or denial to the Instructor within two weeks of receiving the TA's determination or denial of their review/appeal. The instructor will not generally entertain reviews/appeals of grades outside this timeline, nor consider any grade review/appeal that has not first been discussed with the T.A. All requests for appeals to both the TA and instructor must be in writing via email and must contain a clear statement of the subject of the appeal, the grounds upon which the appeal is made, and the requested remedy.

Appeals of Examination Grades: Students who wish to review an examination for purposes of appealing their mark must submit a formal request to review their paper within 10 days of the posting of the mark which they intend to appeal. All reviews of papers will occur on campus and at the discretion of the instructor; examinations and/or scantron sheets must be reviewed in the instructor's office and cannot be taken from the office without the express permission of the instructor.

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Department and of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by the instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Department and the Dean.

A FEW ADDITIONAL GUIDELINES AND SUGGESTIONS:

- Try to stay on top of the reading assignments in this course. As with most first year survey courses, there is a great deal of reading, and it can pile up very quickly and become overwhelming. Organize your time by spending as much time preparing for class as you spend in class for example, you have three hours of lecture and discussion group weekly; you should be spending at least that amount of time preparing for class, and allocate more time when assignment deadlines or exams are looming.
- Computer failure, conflicts with work schedule or similar problems do not constitute valid excuses for accommodations of course requirements, deadlines or examination schedules.
- If you are having trouble understanding the material in the course, speak to your T.A. or the instructor sooner rather than later. We are here to help you learn.
- Attend discussion groups. Students who attend discussion groups regularly and participate fully and effectively in group debates and discussions consistently do better in the course than those who do not attend, or who attend but do not engage with the group. Your TAs are here to assist you to succeed.
- Students having difficulty with writing assignments should check-out the many resources available on campus to help students succeed. These include: The Writing Tutorial Service (Library 4th Floor); Student Academic Success Centre (302 Tory); and The Learning Commons (Library 4th Floor).
