Academic Accommodations:

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation: write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website: http://carleton.ca/equity/

Religious obligation: write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website: http://carleton.ca/equity/

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation.

Outline - LAWS 2908C

If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable) at http://carleton.ca/pmc/students/dates-anddeadlines/

You can visit the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at http://carleton.ca/equity/

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one's own. Plagiarism includes reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else's published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one's own without proper citation or reference to the original source. Examples of sources from which the ideas, expressions of ideas or works of others may be drawn from include but are not limited to: books, articles, papers, literary compositions and phrases, performance compositions, chemical compounds, art works, laboratory reports, research results, calculations and the results of calculations, diagrams, constructions, computer reports, computer code/software, and material on the Internet. Plagiarism is a serious offence.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The Law Program at the Department of Law and Legal Studies at Carleton University is firmly grounded in a "legal studies" approach which situates law in its social, economic, political and historical contexts. As such, courses focus not just on 'what the law is' in a particular area but also on a range of other theoretical and practical considerations: How does the law 'as it is' reflect particular (normative) visions of society and distributions of power within it? How and why does law change? How is the law 'on the books' operationalized (e.g., by the police or business-people) and experienced by ordinary people in everyday life? How do the narratives of law (e.g., judicial decisions) communicate cultural meanings in our society? How do law and legal processes interact with other institutions in our society? Who creates law – and is all 'law' (in the sense of regulation of conduct) formally prescribed law? Engaging with questions such as these requires that students are able to deploy a range of effective research skills and strategies. The Department offers two research courses to assist students to master their law discipline. This course, LAWS 2908, introduces students to legal materials in legal studies research. By this we mean judicial decisions (cases), legislative instruments (statutes and regulations), government documents (including Parliamentary materials and policy), and secondary sources published in academic journals. It also addresses 'legal method' in comprehending and working with these materials. This course is compulsory for all students majoring in a Law or Law Honours programs. A second course, offered at the 3000 level (LAWS 3908), introduces students to a variety of interdisciplinary approaches, including the use of social science research sources and methods in legal studies and more advanced consideration of theory in legal research.

Outline - LAWS 2908C

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Students who successfully complete this course should be able to:

- 1. Craft an effective research question in legal studies related to the assignments required in the Law Program;
- 2. Outline effective research strategies for shaping a research project in legal studies at the undergraduate level;
- 3. Find primary legal materials, government documents, and secondary academic literature related to their research questions;
- 4. Read legal materials through a "research lens" identify and state key components of these materials and their purpose, function and 'status' and their relevance to the research undertaken;
- 5. Recognize the quality/authority of legal materials and find the most authoritative sources of law for example: update legal cases using citators; determine if legislation is in force or amended;
- 6. Relate legal materials to legal studies research projects identify core principles and arguments used; strengths and weaknesses; how the source assists in working towards and answer to a legal studies research problem;
- 7. Apply legal materials to research projects and mobilize them in crafting critical academic argumentation and analysis.

COURSE FORMAT

LECTURES

This course engages a blended learning model. It will include both live lectures (held in class) and online lecture modules that you will review outside of class. The lectures in this course are designed to introduce students to the important role of research and the approaches to research that may be engaged in the field of legal studies. Lectures will also provide foundations for effective analysis of different types of primary and secondary sources in law.

TUTORIALS

Attendance at tutorials is MANDATORY. Tutorials are used to provide hands-on introduction to research skills and training with electronic resources. Some tutorials will be 'labs' and other will be workshops addressing writing skills and assignments. All tutorials will be held in our course classroom and will be led by your instructor and guest lectures.

COURSE MATERIALS:

A. REQUIRED READINGS:

Articles, Cases, Legislation and Government Documents:

There is no required text book for this seminar. Instead, the required readings will consist of articles, cases, legislation and government documents. These will be available through links on the cuLearn home page. These readings are indicated on the Schedule of Lectures and Tutorials (posted on cuLearn). Students will be expected to retrieve copies of these readings and read them in preparation for the appropriate lectures and tutorials.

B. OTHER WEB-BASED RESOURCES:

The lectures and tutorials in this class are supported by a variety of materials available through cuLearn. These supporting materials include video-recorded demonstrations and guides, captivate videos, YouTube videos and power-point slides. Students are responsible for reviewing these supporting materials before the lectures or tutorials they are meant to support.

C. RECOMMENDED TEXTS:

- 1. McGill Law Journal, Canadian Guide to Uniform Legal Citation, 8th ed (Scarborough, Ontario: Carswell, 2014) [The McGill Guide]. This text explains the basic rules of legal citation. It is an essential reference text for anyone conducting research concerning legal issues. You will use it as a resource in other courses as you progress in the law program. Available in the University Bookstore.
- 2. Wayne C Booth et al, The Craft of Research, 3rd ed (Chicago: The University of Chicago Press, 2008). This is a general introductory guide to research and writing in the social sciences. This book is available as an e-book accessible through the Carleton Library website using your Patron

EVALUATION

This course is DEMANDING AND INTENSIVE. It will require considerable ongoing attention every week. Generally there is something DUE EVERY WEEK. These components are explained in detail below. Please review carefully and note all requirements and due dates.

We know that this is a lot of work for you (and for us) and that the course may seem much heavier than your other courses. However, this course is foundational in your Law Program. It is designed to provide you with the opportunity to develop research skills and understanding that will serve you well in your other law courses. The course is also designed to encourage you to stay engaged with the material being covered each week. Notably, the evaluation of the course is rewards students who stay engaged, submit the weekly exercises on time, attend and participate in tutorial.

Important Notes on Evaluation:

You must complete all components of Evaluation to receive a passing mark in the Course.

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Department and the Faculty Dean. This means the grades submitted by the instructor may be subject to revision.

No grades are final until they have been approved by the Department and the Dean.

You must provide meticulously correct citations compliant with the Canadian Guide to Uniform Legal Citation, 8th edition (the McGill Guide) in Assignments. Marks will be deducted in each assignment if citation is not fully correct. Marks will also be allocated for effective writing.

Submission: All assignments and due via CULearn. Due time for all work is NOON.

- This is set during University working hours so you can contact CCS if you have a problem with submission.
- There is a 'grace period' or leeway of a few minutes in case you have technical issues (this means 30 minutes maximum and it is at our discretion).
- You will be subject to heavy late penalties if you do not submit on time (see later information on this).

Feedback: You will receive a marking feedback and evaluation sheet with comments when your Assignment marks are posted. You should wait 48 hours before emailing your TA if you have questions on your marks. Please make your queries specific and detailed so that the TA can review your points and get back to you. If necessary, your TA will set up an appointment to meet with you.

Timelines:

- It will take about 14 days to mark and return Assignment 1 to you through the Assignments Tab.
- Assignment 2 will be marked within the timeframe for finalizing the Final Grade Report. You will receive your mark around the same time as the FGR is submitted to the Dean's Office.
- Marks for other submissions will be input by your TA using Grade Book. These are likely to be posted 'en bloc' near the end of the semester. You will know if you have obtained the associated marks in any case, by submitting on time.

Grade Book: Initially, you will obtain your mark through the Assignments Tab on cuLearn. After a short time, we will also release the marks onto grade book. Please check from time to time so we can catch any errors or omissions early and make corrections.

Keep a copy: Keep a copy of all assignments and other submissions until your final grade is confirmed.

Individual work only! See discussion of Academic Integrity.

LATE PENALTIES

ASSIGNMENTS

Late Assignments will be penalized as follows:

- Deduction of 5% marks if the assignment is handed in on the due date after the deadline of NOON but before midnight.
- A further 5% if the assignment is handed-in anytime the 'next day' from 12:01am to 11:59 pm.
- A further 10% is deducted at beginning of each following day (at 12:01am) including weekend days.
 - In other words, if a paper is due at NOON on Monday and you submit it anytime on Wednesday, the penalty is -20% So don't be late!!!
- If an Assignment is handed in more than seven days late, it will be accepted towards course completion but will receive zero marks.

EXTENSIONS FOR THE ASSIGNMENTS

Students can request an extension on Assignments for serious illness or family and personal emergencies. They will be required to provide official supporting documentation. Students requesting an extension MUST contact the course Instructor prior to the assignment deadline. Your TA cannot grant extensions.

Extensions will not be granted for computer problems of any kind. We URGE you to back up your work as you go along: email a draft to yourself whenever you finish a segment of work on it or copy it to a USB thumb-drive or an external hard drive.

A cold or the flu is not a sufficient reason for an extension. Competing workloads in other courses is not a sufficient reason for an extension. Work schedule or family schedule conflicts are not sufficient reasons for an extension.

SCHEDULE

Will be posted on cuLearn.

Please note that the Fall Break takes place October 24 – 28 (no classes).
