After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable) at <http://carleton.ca/pmc/students/dates-and-deadlines/>

You can visit the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at <http://carleton.ca/equity/>

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism is presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one's own. Plagiarism includes reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else's published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one's own without proper citation or reference to the original source. Examples of sources from which the ideas, expressions of ideas or works of others may be drawn from include but are not limited to: books, articles, papers, literary compositions and phrases, performance compositions, chemical compounds, art works, laboratory reports, research results, calculations and the results of calculations, diagrams, constructions, computer reports, computer code/software, and material on the Internet. Plagiarism is a serious offence. More information on the University's Academic Integrity Policy can be found at: <http://carleton.ca/studentaffairs/academic-integrity/>

Department Policy:

The Department of Law and Legal Studies operates in association with certain policies and procedures. Please review these documents to ensure that your practices meet our Department's expectations. <http://carleton.ca/law/current-students/>

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course surveys historical changes in the definition of crime and the administration of criminal law. While the adversarial criminal trial with jury is associated with the medieval origins of the common law, the basic elements of our current criminal justice system reflect relatively recent transformations in law enforcement, the criminal trial and punishment. These transformations are associated with the rise of the modern state and were responses to the effects of industrialization, urbanization, and colonization. The course focuses on 18th and 19th century England, and on the adoptions of the English criminal law and institutions in late 18th and 19th century Canada. Selected issues in criminal law history are also explored (eg., the experiences of first nations and women, resort to criminal law during political crises).

COURSE ORGANIZATION:

Lecture and class discussions. Students will be expected to have completed the required readings from the 3305 coursepack, and/or supplements made available on CULearn, for a particular week's topic as specified in the schedule set out on the following pages.

REQUIRED READING MATERIALS:

Purchase of the following coursepack is required. It contains all the assigned readings and is available in the university bookstore:

B. Wright, LAWS/HIST 3305 Crime and State in History (2017 ed.) (used copies of the 2014, 15 and 16 editions of this coursepack, with my name on it, are suitable).

Lecture abstracts (overhead displays in class) to help frame your readings, additional readings, essay topics and exam review information will be made available on CULearn.

IMPORTANT NOTES ABOUT ASSESSMENT AND EVALUATION:

-Both assessed components must be completed in order to receive a passing grade. A deferred examination or essay assignment, following the same format, may be written upon application to and approval from the Registrar's Office.

-Essays should be submitted in person to me in class on the due date, during my office hours at Kroeger College, or deposited in the essay drop box located outside the Law Department General Office, C473 Loeb Building, by 4:00 pm (the Department of Law assumes no responsibility for essays or assignments submitted in an irregular manner).

- Late essays will be marked down one-half letter grade (eg. B to B-) for each day submitted after the due date without authorized extension from me. Essays must be typed or word-processed and submitted in hard copy. Handwritten papers, computer files, or email attachments will not be accepted. Please retain a photocopy or a secure file copy of the submitted essay. Please make careful note of regulations concerning academic integrity referred to above and related instructional offences as described in the Undergraduate Calendar. Prior approval of the instructor must be obtained if it is intended to submit work that has previously or concurrently been submitted for credit in this or another course.

-Essays will be returned at the exam review class at the end of term. Those not picked up at the last class will be returned at the final exam after you have completed it. Exams are not returned but may be reviewed with me during my office hours the following term.
