You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation: write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website: http://www2.carleton.ca/equity/

Religious obligation: write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website: http://www2.carleton.ca/equity/

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable) at http://www2.carleton.ca/pmc/new-and-current-students/dates-and-deadlines/

You can visit the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at http://www2.carleton.ca/equity/

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course aims to provide students with an understanding of the justice claims of general sentencing theory and principles, and the legal bases for sentencing decisions. Students will be asked to consider these justice claims and the concept of the rule of law in light of the diffuse nature of the power to punish. Legal doctrine and principle only tell part of the story with respect to sentencing practices, and we will see that a complete discussion of the realities of sentencing must include an examination of a complex web of interactions between the law, the discretionary powers exercised by such actors as police, probation officers and Crown Attorneys, and the influences flowing from other kinds of professionals and various communities in society as a whole.

This course will include a consideration of the offender’s actual experience of punishment, particularly imprisonment, over which the sentencing court has limited control. The material will also cover a discussion of some alternatives to traditional forms of punishment and their potential, if any, for reconciling the often-conflicting principles and interests at stake in the sentencing process.

REQUIRED TEXTS

The required text for this course is a coursepack that will be available at Allegra Print and Imaging at 1069 Bank Street near Sunnyside. Case law included in the readings will be posted on WebCT.

EVALUATION

Take-Home Assignment – 25% of final grade:

You will be given a brief take-home assignment, for which you will be required to write a response to two out of three questions. The assignment will be distributed in class on March 6 and will be due on March 20. Your response to each question should be three or four pages in length, double spaced.

Research Paper – 50% of final grade:

You will be required to submit a research paper dealing with a sentencing issue of your choice. Your essay should be 10-12 pages in length. You will also be asked to submit a very brief outline of your topic to the instructor for approval. This will help to ensure that your proposed topic is feasible and that it will meet the course requirements. The paper is due on April 5.

Group Presentations - 20% of final grade:

Students will be divided into five groups, each of which will be responsible for presenting a sentencing topic to the rest of the class. Each group will briefly discuss their plans for the presentation with the instructor ahead of time. Groups may distribute a handout or assign readings to the class the week prior to the scheduled presentations. The presentations will be 45 minutes to an hour in length, and will be followed by discussion. Other members of the class will be asked to provide brief written feedback on the presentations.

Class Participation – 5% of final grade

Extensions on assignments will only be granted in extenuating circumstances, such as a verifiable medical condition or family emergency. Students requesting extensions will be required to provide appropriate documentation.
