CALENDAR COURSE DESCRIPTION

Selected major contemporary theories of justice such as those associated with Rawls, Walzer, and Habermas, with emphasis on both their procedural and substantive elements and their concrete ramifications for law, policy and political practice.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

In this course, we will examine John Rawls's theories of justice and political liberalism. Rawls is the leading liberal political philosopher of the 20th century, whose influence extends into legal, political, and moral philosophy. Rawls's central ideas are especially relevant to the Canadian context where it is arguable that the basic structure of the Canadian legal-political system reflects Rawlsian principles of free and equal citizenship, equality of opportunity, and a commitment to protecting the welfare of the least well off in society. As well, we will consider the threat to liberal ideals posed by right-wing populism, which we can see on the rise in many Western countries once considered stable and consolidated liberal democracies. Rawls's ideas are ever more relevant if our concern is to defend the foundations of a liberal egalitarian political ideal.

EVALUATION

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Department and of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by the instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Department and the Dean.

20 %: Informed class participation. You will be expected to do the reading before class and to participate in discussion about those readings in class. While attendance will be recorded, mere attendance is not enough to secure a participation mark. Finally, there are no other ways to earn participation in the seminar since participation presumes presence and engagement within actual seminar discussion.

Response Paper 1: 1000 words (5 double spaced pages) critically analyzing John Rawls, 'The Idea of Public Reason Revisited', in Samuel Freeman ed., John Rawls: Collected Papers (Cambridge, M. A.: Harvard University Press, 1999), 573-615 due by 11:59pm February 3, 2022.

Response Paper 2: 1000 words (5 double spaced pages) critically analyzing HLA Hart, 'Rawls on Liberty and Its Priority' (1973) 40:3 University of Chicago Law Review 534- 555 due by 11:59pm March 3, 2022.

Response Paper 3: 1000 words (5 double spaced pages) critically analyzing any article of your choosing from the last part of the seminar due by 11:59pm April 12, 2022.

Please submit work to the electronic drop box on Brightspace.

All work must be submitted to receive a final grade. The final grade will be based on a combination of your participation mark and the average marks received for three completed Response Papers. Mathematically this means that if participation is worth 20% then each Response Paper is worth approximately 26.6% each.

LATE PENALTIES AND REQUESTS FOR EXTENSIONS

Please see the Departmental extension policy below. Note that given existing scheduling commitments, any late work submitted may go unmarked until the final tabulation of your grade so that you will not have the benefit of timely feedback to gauge progress in the course. It is therefore in your interests to complete all work on time.

The granting of extensions is determined by the instructor who will confirm whether an extension is granted and the length of the extension. For requests for extensions lasting less than 7 days, please complete the form at the following link and submit it to the instructor prior to the assignment due date: <https://carleton.ca/registrar/wp-content/uploads/self-declaration.pdf>.

Extensions for longer than 7 days will normally not be granted. In those extraordinary cases where extensions lasting longer than 7 days are granted, the student will be required to provide additional information to justify the longer extension (up to a maximum of 14 days).

Grade Appeals

Grade appeals are to be made in writing to me directly stating relevant reasons directly related to the justification given for the particular grade you received. If the reasons given are plausible, then your work will be reviewed. Please also note that upon review your grade may get worse, not better.

Email Etiquette

Please note that every email should be professional and state your student number and reasons for the email.

Please also make sure to take reasonable steps to figure out answers to questions you have may before sending an email. Often a question you may have in mind can be answered by doing a little bit of independent work, especially if these are questions related to the administration of the course. Check the course outline and regular announcements made via Brightspace.

Kindly also keep in mind that we are all working under stressful conditions generally from home during the Covid-19 pandemic. It is therefore not reasonable to expect very quick replies to your emails. I urge you to be professional and considerate if you do not receive a quick reply.
