

Carleton
UNIVERSITY

Canada's Capital University

Department of Law and Legal studies

Jurisprudence Centre Series presents:

Troubled Memory: The Politics and Aesthetics of Remembering Atrocity and (National) Harm

Jennifer Henderson, Department of English, Carleton University

"The Camp, the School, and the Child:
Axioms and Exchanges in the Culture of Redress"

Anne Sheftel, Conflict Studies, Université St-Paul University

"What counts as remembering?
Lessons from Post-Conflict Bosnia-Herzegovina"

Christiane Wilke, Law and Legal Studies, Carleton University

"Remembering Complexity?
Identities, Memories, and Memorials for Nazi Victims in Berlin"

Thursday January 24, 2013

4:00pm – 5:30pm

Room 3400, Canal Building

ALL WELCOME

Jurisprudence Centre