CALENDAR COURSE DESCRIPTION

Introduction to legal rules and theoretical approaches for critically understanding the creation, interpretation and enforcement of those rules; the role of judges, juries, lawyers, and lay persons; adjudication and alternative dispute resolution; relationship of law with social change and justice; challenges of access to justice.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed as a basic introduction to the conceptual and relational foundations of law and legal studies. As such, it engages with the social and cultural character of the law and legal system, exploring the relationship between law and society.

Please note that this course consists of lectures and discussion groups.

The lectures are delivered “asynchronously”. This means that there are no required live, scheduled meetings for lectures. Instead, recorded lectures will be posted on our course webpage on Brightspace each Monday morning. You may watch the lecture at any time of your choosing.

Discussion groups meet “synchronously”. We will hold a discussion group meeting online each Thursday, from 13:35 until 14:25. You will need to be available to attend and participate in online meetings each week at this time.

REQUIRED TEXT

The only required text for this course is Stephen Tasson et al. (eds.), Introduction to Legal Studies, vol. 2: Processes and Power (Concord: Captus Press, 2019). ISBN: 9781553223825.

Paperback copies of this text should be available at the Carleton University Bookstore as of early May. It is important that you have access to the most recent edition of this text, as its contents are significantly different from previous editions. You may also be able to obtain used copies of this text at Haven Books or other second-hand bookstores in and around Ottawa.

EVALUATION

There are four formal evaluation components in this course: two assignments, attendance and participation in a weekly discussion group, and a single multiple-choice examination to be held during the regular examination period. Both assignments must be completed and submitted on Brightspace by the relevant deadline.

Assignment 1 (20%): Short essay, due by midnight on Thursday, July 20, 2023.

Assignment 2 (20%): Case summary, due by midnight on Thursday, August 3, 2023.

Final examination (35%): A multiple-choice examination of all topics/materials covered during the semester. This will be held online during the examination period at the end of the course.

Discussion group (25%): Students will be expected to attend and participate in discussion groups.

Grade appeals: Students who have questions about the grade they have received on an assignment or who wish to challenge this grade must contact their Teaching Assistant via email to request a review within one week of the posting of grades. Students who are not satisfied with the outcome of a grade review, or who are denied a review, may appeal that outcome or denial to me within one week of receiving the TA's determination or denial. I will not consider any grade review that has not first been discussed with the TA.

Carleton University expects and assumes that all students will conform to its Academic In- egrity Policy. Please be mindful of that policy, especially with respect to plagiarism. Plagiarism is presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas, or work of others as your own. Plagiarism includes reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else's published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as your own without proper citation or reference to the original source. Examples of sources from which the ideas, expressions, or ideas or works of others may be drawn include but are not limited to: books, articles, papers, literary compositions and phrases, performance compositions, chemical compounds, art works, laboratory reports, research results, calculations and the results of calculations, diagrams, constructions, computer reports, computer code/software, and material on the internet. Plagiarism is a serious offence.

Please note that standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Department of Law and Legal Studies and of the Faculty of Public Affairs Dean. This means that grades submitted by the instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Department and the Dean.

A FEW ADDITIONAL GUIDELINES AND SUGGESTIONS

- Try to stay on top of the reading assignments in this course. As with most first-year courses, there is a great deal of reading, and it can pile up very quickly and become overwhelming. Organize your time by spending as much time preparing for class as you spend in class. For example, you have three hours of lecture and discussion group weekly; you should be spending at least that amount of time preparing for class, and allocate more time when assignment deadlines or exams are looming.
- Attend discussion groups. Students who attend discussion group meetings regularly consistently do better in the course than those who do not attend, or who attend but do not engage with the group.
- Students experiencing difficulties with writing assignments should engage with the many resources available on campus to help students succeed. These include Writing Services and the Centre for Student Academic Success. They also include the Peer Assisted Study Sessions \(PASS\) program.

LATE PENALTIES AND REQUESTS FOR EXTENSIONS

If you would like to request an extension for less than seven days, please complete this form and submit it to me prior to the relevant due date.

Extensions longer than seven days will typically not be granted. In those extraordinary cases where extensions longer than seven days are granted, you will be required to provide additional information to justify the longer extension.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS

Academic accommodation: You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation: Please write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For accommodation regarding a formally-scheduled final exam, you must complete the Pregnancy Accommodation Form.

Religious obligation: Please write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details, please click here.

Academic accommodations for students with disabilities: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

Survivors of sexual violence: As a community, Carleton University is committed to maintaining a positive learning, working and living environment where sexual violence will not be tolerated, and where survivors are supported through academic accommodations as per Carleton's Sexual Violence Policy. For more information about the services available at the university and to obtain information about sexual violence and/or support, visit: <https://carleton.ca/equity/sexual-assault-support-services>

Accommodation for student activities: Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. Reasonable accommodation will be provided to students who compete or perform at the national or international level. Write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist: <https://carleton.ca/senate/wp-content/uploads/Accommodation-for-Student-Activities-1.pdf>
