

Rights and Conflict: 'Human' or 'Fundamental'? Moral or Legal?

a talk by Saeed Parto

Wednesday, March 20

Loeb Building B454

12:00 - 1:30

The presentation will be given by Saeed Parto based on findings from “Afghanistan Rights Monitor” (ARM), a project implemented by Afghanistan Public Policy Research Organization (APPRO) with funding from the Government of the Netherlands. The project has a monitoring component to track how the changing dynamics of conflict affect the fundamental rights of the citizens, using UDHR to develop the monitoring indicators. The project also has a research component to investigate issues that come to light through the ongoing monitoring and a training component for state authorities and civil society organizations on how to develop a shared vocabulary for discourse on the protection of human rights in conflict environments.

Saeed Parto is a co-founder and Director of Research at Afghanistan Public Policy Research Organization based in Kabul, Afghanistan and a founding member of APPRO-Europe based in Brussels, Belgium.
