

CROSS-CULTURAL FIELDWORK TRAINING COURSE IN FORCED MIGRATION STUDIES

This 12-unit on-line training program engages with the theory and practice of cross-cultural partnered fieldwork. Units will be delivered through a series of pre-recorded lectures and supported by readings and other materials, with on-line discussions and assignments supported and moderated by a designated course facilitator. This training program will both equip emerging scholars with new research skills and foster critical reflection and dialogue among participants on these issues. This course does not qualify for a university credit.

COURSE RUNS FROM
January 16 – April 7, 2023

APPLICATION DEADLINE
Thursday, December 1, 2022

FOR MORE INFO
carleton.ca/lerrn/current-opportunities

PROGRAM COURSE OUTLINE:

Week 1: Introduction to Partnered Research

Week 2: Introduction to Cross-Cultural Research

Week 3: Introduction to Refugee and Forced Migration Politics

Week 4: History of Politics and Policy

Week 5: Research Design

Week 6: Ethics

Week 7: Everyday Politics of the Global Refugee Regime

Week 8: Elite and Key Informant Interviews

Week 9: Focus Groups and Working with Documents

Week 10: Oral Histories, Community Action, and Community-Based Research

Week 11: Knowledge Production and Knowledge Mobilization 1

Week 12: Knowledge Production and Knowledge Mobilization 2

"This course was very balanced. Every week we had lecturers located in the global North as well as [...] the global South. [...] This was really amazing, the diversity of perspectives that we were exposed to is something that is not available in all courses."

– SHERRY KASHI

LERRN LOCAL ENGAGEMENT REFUGEE RESEARCH NETWORK