Spanish for Travellers II is designed as a continuation of Spanish for Travellers I.

1. Objectives

This Spanish course aims at further developing students' communicative abilities in Spanish in the context of travelling to the Hispanic world.

2. Outcomes

By the end of this course, students should be able to complete the following tasks in Spanish:

- make and respond to an invitation by telephone and by email;
- discuss preferences related to travel destinations, means of transportation and shopping;
- talk about daily routine and favourite activities;
- carry on a brief conversation at the airport check-in counter and at the reception desk in a hotel;
- exchange opinions regarding cultural traditions and tourist attractions;
- provide brief historical and geographical information concerning a number of Hispanic countries.

3. Teaching Method and Materials

This course is designed with a communicative goal in mind. A variety of oral activities, such as dialogues in pairs and small groups, are meant to emulate real-life situations. Conversations will focus on topics related to travel. Vocabulary and grammar will be taught through slides. Audiovisual materials—listening and comprehension activities, maps, interviews and short documentaries about Hispanic countries—will include cultural components concerning different parts of the Spanish-speaking world.
