Materials Studies in Art and Historic Artefacts

Art conservation requires an understanding of the art’s materials... and you can’t just ask the long-deceased artist.

John Twilley will discuss how material analysis is used to support the evaluation of art including ancient Chinese bronze pieces and modern plastic works.

March 10, 6pm EST

Register at www.asmontario.org