COURSE DESCRIPTION

In this course we will consider some important philosophical questions concerning human beings and their relationship to animals and the environment. We will consider some of the new radical environmental theories which are used in response to the environmental crisis. We will look at some applications of these theories to current issues. Lectures and readings will move from moral and environmental philosophy to practical applications of this theory.

| 2. Final essay | 40% | Due Tuesday April 3 |
| 3. Final examination | 40% | Scheduled |

Regulations and Policies

Class Presentations:

Attendance at and performance of your class presentation is compulsory. Failure to do your presentation will normally result in no mark for that presentation and F for the course. If an absence from your presentation is justified to me by a letter from a medical doctor, or lawyer, or another acceptable written excuse and if I am contacted regarding the absence prior to or as soon as possible after the absence, you will not be penalized. In such circumstances I will reschedule the presentation or, at my discretion, assign a make-up assignment.

Due Dates for Term Assignments:

Extensions for term assignments will be granted only for documented medical reasons or personal emergencies. Students should consult with me if at all possible prior to the deadline if an extension is required. Assignments handed in late without an extension will be penalized. The penalty for late term assignments will be a deduction of 2 marks out of 100 for each working day past the due date, up to the Senate-defined deadline. Students are required to hand in all term work by the Senate-defined deadline. Beyond this Senate-defined deadline, only official deferrals petitioned through the Registrar's Office will be honored.

Students who are unable to complete a final paper or write a final examination because of illness or other circumstances beyond their control or whose performance on an examination has been impaired by such circumstances may apply within five working days to the Registrar's Office for permission to extend a term paper deadline or to write a deferred examination. Permission can be granted only if the request is fully and specifically supported by a medical certificate or other relevant documents.

Students must hand in term assignments directly to me or to the Philosophy Department locked essay box, located in the hallway of Paterson 3A. Students should not under any circumstances put term assignments under my door or in my mailbox. It is the policy of the Department of Philosophy that essays transmitted to the Department by FAX will not be accepted. I do not accept assignments submitted by email. Students are required to retain a hard copy of all assignments submitted in every course.

Examinations:

Attendance at the final examination is compulsory. Students who do not sit for the examination must apply in writing to the Registrar's Office for permission to write a deferred final examination. Failure to apply for and be granted a deferral will result in a grade of ABS or F.

Incomplete Term Work:

Incomplete term work or unacceptably low standing will result in a grade of FND.

Academic Integrity and Academic Offences, especially Plagiarism:

Students are expected to read and abide by the policies stated in the calendar. University regulations stipulate that allegations of plagiarism, cheating or any violations of examination conduct rules will be thoroughly reviewed. Each case must be reported to the Dean, who investigates each allegation. If there is no resolution following this investigation at the Dean's level, a tribunal will be appointed by the Senate to review the case and make a final decision.

Note on Plagiarism:

Webster's Dictionary defines plagiarism as stealing.
Plagiarism is the submission of someone else's writing/ideas/work as your own. All ideas presented which are not your own must be properly referenced. While forms of plagiarism may vary, each involves verbatim or near verbatim presentation of the writings or ideas of others' as one's own without adequately acknowledging the original source.

Plagiarism includes (but is not limited to) copying from a book, article or another student, downloading material or ideas from the internet, or otherwise submitting someone else's work or ideas as your own.

Academic Freedom

Students enrolling this course are advised that studying literature, culture and ideas, including those of societies other than their own, will expose them to unfamiliar and sometimes provocative attitudes, images, language and values. All participants in the course must be willing to examine the relevant texts, must make a sincere effort to understand the presuppositions of others, and be willing to discuss, verbally and in writing, the objects of study. By enrolling in this course, students accept a commitment to academic freedom for all participants, themselves, and the professor.

Other:

Students are required to comply with the policies of the university as stated in the calendar. Note especially the sections on Academic Standing, Instructional Offences, Offences of Conduct and the Academic Year.

Student Academic Support Services

Students should note the following academic support services, which you are encouraged to use: Writing Tutorial Service; Student Academic Success Centre (SASC, 302 Tory); and the Learning Commons (4th Floor, Library).

Department of Philosophy and Carleton University Policies

Assignments:

Unless specifically told otherwise by their instructors, students:

- must not use a plastic or cardboard cover or paper clips
- must staple the paper (there is a stapler on the essay box)
- must include the following in the lower right corner of the cover sheet:
 - student name
 - student number
 - course number and section
 - instructor's name
- The Philosophy Department does not accept assignments by FAX. You may send them by courier, if necessary.
- No assignments will be accepted after the last day for handing in term work – see dates in next column.
- Assignments handed in through the essay box (just inside the glass doors, Paterson Hall, Floor 3A) must be dropped into the box by 4:15 on a regular business day in order to be date-stamped with that day's date. Assignments handed in after 4:15 or on a non-business day will be stamped as having been handed in on the next business day.
- Students are required to keep copies of their assignments. If your paper is lost at any point, you will be considered not to have submitted it if you cannot produce a copy immediately on request.

Deferrals for Term Work:

If you miss a final examination and/or fail to submit a final assignment by the due date because of circumstances beyond your control, you may apply for a deferral of examination/assignment. For deferred examinations, you must apply within 5 working days after the scheduled date of your exam. To apply for deferral of a final assignment, you must apply within 5 working days of the last scheduled day of classes. Visit the Registrar's Office for more information.

Plagiarism:

It is the responsibility of each student to understand the meaning of 'plagiarism' as defined in the Undergraduate or Graduate Calendars, and to avoid both committing plagiarism and aiding or abetting plagiarism by other students. (Undergraduate Calendar Academic Regulations, section 14.3, or <http://www4.carleton.ca/calendars//ugrad/current/regulations/acadre/suniv14.html#14.3>)

Academic Accommodation:

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation: write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website <http://www2.carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/>

Religious obligation: write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website <http://www2.carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/>

Students with disabilities requiring academic accommodations in this course must register with the Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) for a formal evaluation of disability-related needs. Documented disabilities could include but are not limited to mobility/physical impairments, specific Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/psychological disabilities, sensory disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), and chronic medical conditions. Registered PMC students are required to contact the PMC, 613-520-6608, every term to ensure that I receive your Letter of Accommodation, no later than two weeks before the first assignment is due or the first in-class test/midterm requiring accommodations. If you only require accommodations for your formally scheduled exam(s) in this course, please submit your request for accommodations to PMC by the deadlines published on the PMC website: <http://www2.carleton.ca/pmc/new-and-current-students/dates-and-deadlines/>
