

COURSE OUTLINE: PHIL 5600

Topics in History of Philosophy: Causation and Freedom in Early Modern Philosophy Winter 2018: Mondays, 11:35-13:25, Paterson Hall 3A36

Office: Paterson Hall 3A53
Office Hours: TBA

Course description:

What are laws of nature? What is the relationship between science and metaphysics? In a law-governed world, is there any room for human freedom? What about a law-governed world created and conserved by a divine Being – can humans be free in such a world, and if so, in what sense? In this seminar we will look at early modern approaches to answering these and related questions about causation and freedom. We will be consulting primary texts from such philosophers as Descartes, Malebranche, Locke, and Leibniz, among others.

Required text:

There is no required text for this course.

We will be consulting a variety of primary texts. For those of you who have taken either PHIL 3002 (17th c Philosophy) or PHIL 3003 (18th c Philosophy), you will already own an anthology of primary texts entitled “Modern Philosophy: An Anthology of Primary Sources,” edited by Roger Ariew and Eric Watkins, published by Hackett. This text contains many (but not all) of the sources that we will be looking at, so you may want to keep it on hand. If you do not already own this book, however, I will not require you to purchase it.

Because we will be consulting so many primary sources, I will not require you to purchase any of them individually, either. Instead, I will typically make readings available on cuLearn, either by linking to the library’s e-resources (typically the “Past Masters” database) or through the Ares reserves system. I can also place texts on reserve in the library so that you can read them in hard copy, if this is your preference. Just let me know.

Note: many of these primary texts are also available in full in various places online. However, some online sources are abridged or otherwise altered. If you wish to consult an online source other than the Past Masters database, you must discuss this with me, so that I can help you to evaluate whether or not the source is appropriate.

Sometimes I will ask you to consult secondary sources. Whenever I ask you to consult secondary sources, I will make them available on cuLearn, either through links to e-resources or through Ares.

If you do want to purchase the individual texts that we will be looking at, they are all available for purchasing online. If you decide to do this, let me know, and I will send you references for the standard academic version of the texts.

cuLearn:

Please note that this course will be supported by the cuLearn Course Management System.

A variety of resources may be made available through the cuLearn site, including some readings for the course. You can access your cuLearn account by going to www.carleton.ca/culearn and entering your MyCarletonOne username and password.

Students will be fully responsible for reading and responding appropriately to all information distributed to students through the cuLearn Course Page. Information provided on this page will be considered to have been provided to all registered students within 24 hours of posting.

Evaluation:

1. Presentation – you will be asked to present a topic to the class at least once during the semester. Presentations should be about 20-30 minutes long, and on a secondary source. For your presentation, you should produce either a detailed handout or a slideshow. You should meet with me at least one week before your presentation, in order to discuss the presentation. Your presentation will be worth 30% of your final grade.

Note: I will ask you to sign up for a presentation topic by the third class of the semester (Jan 22) at the very latest.

2. Final take-home 'exam' – a mid-length paper (15-20 pages) on a topic of your choosing, due on the last day of exam period for the Winter Semester (April 26st, 2018.) You must consult with me on your topic at least two weeks before final papers are due. Topics must be approved. This paper should be submitted on cuLearn and will be worth 60% of your grade.

3. Participation – as graduate students, you are expected to come to class having read the material and being prepared to discuss it. Participation will be worth 10% of your grade. Note: participation will be judged by quality, not by quantity. I.e., it is not necessary that you constantly participate in class discussion, but in order to count towards the 10%, your comments should be relevant to the material or discussion at hand.

Policies

1. Philosophy department policies: Please see final page of course outline on philosophy department website.

Department of Philosophy and Carleton University Policies (Fall/Winter 2017-18)

Assignments:

Unless specifically told otherwise by their instructors, students:

- must not use a plastic or cardboard cover or paper clips
- must staple the paper (there is a stapler on the essay box)
- must include the following:
 - student name
 - student number
 - course number and section
 - instructor's name
- No assignments will be accepted after the last day for handing in term work – see dates in next column.
- Assignments handed in through the essay box (just inside the glass doors, Paterson Hall, Floor 3A) must be dropped into the box by 4:15 on a regular business day in order to be date-stamped with that day's date. Assignments handed in after 4:15 or on a non-business day will be stamped as having been handed in on the next business day.
- Students are required to keep copies of their assignments. If your paper is lost at any point, you will be considered not to have submitted it if you cannot produce a copy immediately on request.

Deferrals for Final Exams:

If you miss a final examination (formally scheduled or take-home) because of circumstances beyond your control, you may apply for a deferral. You must apply within 3 working days after the scheduled date of your formally scheduled exam or within 3 working days after the due date of a take-home exam. Visit the Registrar's Office for more information:

Plagiarism:

It is the responsibility of each student to understand the meaning of 'plagiarism' as defined in the Undergraduate or Graduate Calendars, and to avoid both committing plagiarism and aiding or abetting plagiarism by other students. <https://carleton.ca/registrar/academic-integrity/>

Academic Accommodation:

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation: write to your professor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website: <http://www2.carleton.ca/equity/>

Religious obligation: write to your professor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website: <http://www2.carleton.ca/equity/>

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with your professor to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable) at <http://www2.carleton.ca/pmc/new-and-current-students/dates-and-deadlines/>

You can visit the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at <http://www2.carleton.ca/equity/>
