Course description:
This course examines the relations between Canada and the EU, with attention to policy issues affecting the relationship and common policy challenges. After introductory sessions on external policy making in Canada and the EU it will examine various aspects of the relationship, including trade, security cooperation, as well as environmental and energy policies. Particular emphasis will be placed on recent developments and debates in Canada-EU relations, such as the (provisional) entry into force and implementation of the Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA) and Strategic Partnership Agreement (SPA), controversies about visa reciprocity, the impact of the UK’s withdrawal from the EU (“Brexit”) and the Trump presidency in the US, and attempts to develop joint responses to international crises. Guest speakers from Global Affairs Canada and the EU Delegation to Canada will be brought into the seminar.

At the end of the course, students will be familiar with the main scholarly debates about external policy making in Canada and the EU. They will also be able to navigate practical aspects of conducting bilateral relations between both polities. Assignments will practice both academic reflection about these issues and policy-oriented writing styles.

Required readings:
Both the online section and the seminar sessions will be based on the detailed discussion of core readings. All required texts are on reserve in the MacOdrum Library or accessible via cuLearn. The course is designed for students who already possess a working knowledge of the EU’s political system and decision-making processes, as well as a basic understanding of Canadian foreign policy making. Students without this kind of knowledge are advised to obtain a general textbook on the issue in question as source of reference. The following titles are recommended:

Evaluation:
- Two online quizzes (10% each) 20% (Due July 10 and 17, 2019)
- Participation in online debate 20% (July 17-26, 2019)
- Policy brief or discussion paper 20% (Due August 2, 2019)
- Participation in seminar sessions 20%
- Final paper 20% (Due August 14, 2019)

Online quizzes: The first two online modules will be concluded by brief online quizzes to be completed on cuLearn. Each quiz will consist of five short-answer questions relating to the material discussed in the respective module. The quizzes have to be completed by July 10 and July 17, respectively. Students can complete the quizzes at a time of their convenience before the applicable deadline; they will have two hours (120 minutes) to complete each quiz. Only students who have completed both quizzes will be allowed to participate in the seminar sessions.

Participation in online debate: The third online module will include an online debate, conducted in a forum on cuLearn between July 17 and July 26. The discussion will be based on recent books that address Canadian foreign policy (see list below). In the debate, students will be required to play the role of one of the authors in a hypothetical advisory group brought together by the Canadian prime minister. This role-playing exercise will be followed by a debriefing. The debate will be structured by questions posed by the instructor. Students are expected to make at least five contributions to the forum, but are encouraged to participate more frequently. The first two contributions must be posted by July 22; three further contributions engaging in debate with the other students must be posted by July 26.

Policy brief or discussion paper: At the end of the fourth online module, students have to write a short policy brief or discussion paper (3-4 pages, single spaced). Topics for this assignment have to be selected from a list provided on cuLearn. Policy briefs take the form of a briefing note for a Canadian or European official for a hypothetical bilateral meeting; they must follow the Global Affairs Canada “meeting note” template, provided on cuLearn. Discussion papers take the form of a brief essay that responds to a question about the academic literature on Canada-EU relations; a template for this assignment will likewise be provided on cuLearn. Topics for policy briefs or discussion papers must be selected by July 10; the assignment must be submitted by August 2. Students must be prepared for a short, 3-5 minute presentation on the topic of their policy brief or discussion paper during the seminar sessions in the week of August 6-9.

Participation in seminar sessions: Seminar sessions are designed to follow an interactive format. Some sessions will make use of teaching methods that require active student participation, such as group work, debates, or role-playing. It is essential that all students do the required readings for each seminar session, bring copies of the required texts to class, and take the time to think about questions they would like to discuss about them. Participation marks will be assigned reflecting both quality and quantity of contributions.

Final paper: At the end of the course, students are expected to write a short scholarly paper (10-12 pages, double spaced) on an issue in Canada-EU relations. Papers may deal with the same issue on which a student has already written his/her policy brief or discussion paper. However, this assignment will have to deal with an original research question, formulated by the student, and approved by the instructor. More detailed instructions on the final paper will be provided on cuLearn and in class. Students are encouraged to discuss the precise research question for their final paper with the instructor during his office hours. The due date for the paper is August 14. (European guest students have until August 17 to complete this assignment.)

Submission of coursework:
All assignments have to be submitted using the online drop box in cuLearn. Comments and grades will be provided in the cuLearn grade book. Unless a medical (or equivalent) excuse is provided, late assignments will be penalized by two (2) percentage points per day (including weekends); assignments more than a week late will receive a mark of 0%.

Course schedule:

1. Orientation session

The orientation session gives an overview of the course. Students not in Ottawa on July 3 may participate via videolink. Please contact Professor Hurrelmann by June 28 if this applies to you.

Requests for Academic Accommodation

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request, the processes are as follows:

- Pregnancy: Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details, visit the Equity Services website: carleton.ca/equity/wp-content/uploads/Student-Guide-to-Academic-Accommodation.pdf.

- Religious obligation: Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details, visit the Equity Services website: carleton.ca/equity/wp-content/uploads/Student-Guide-to-Academic-Accommodation.pdf.

- Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: If you have a documented disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact the Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation or contact your PMC coordinator to send your instructor your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term. You must also contact the PMC no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with your instructor as soon as possible to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. For more details, visit the PMC website: carleton.ca/pmc.

- Survivors of Sexual Violence: As a community, Carleton University is committed to maintaining a positive learning, working and living environment where sexual violence will not be tolerated, and is survivors are supported through academic accommodations as per Carleton's Sexual Violence Policy. For more information about the services available at the university and to obtain information about sexual violence and/or support, visit: carleton.ca/sexual-violence-support.

- Accommodation for Student Activities: Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. Reasonable accommodation must be provided to students who compete or perform at the national or international level. Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more information, see: https://carleton.ca/senate/wp-content/uploads/Accommodation-for-Student-Activities-1.pdf.

For more information on academic accommodation, please contact the departmental administrator or visit: students.carleton.ca/course-outline.

Plagiarism

The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- Reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- Submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- Using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- Using another’s data or research findings;
- Failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- Handing in substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the instructor of the course in which the submission occurs.

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They may include a mark of zero for the plagiarized work or a final grade of "F" for the course.

Student or professor materials created for this course (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s).

Submission and Return of Term Work

Papers must be submitted directly to the instructor according to the instructions in the course outline. Late assignments may be submitted to the drop box in the corridor outside 3305 Richcraft Hall. Assignments will be retrieved every business day at 4 p.m., stamped with that day's date, and then distributed to the instructor. For essays not returned in class please attach a stamped, self-addressed envelope if you wish to have your assignment returned by mail. Final exams are intended solely for the purpose of evaluation and will not be returned.
Grading

Final standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points is:

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by an instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.

Carleton E-mail Accounts

All email communication to students from the Institute of European, Russian and Eurasian Studies and/or the Department of Political Science will be via official Carleton university e-mail accounts and/or cuLearn. As important course and university information is distributed this way, it is the student’s responsibility to monitor their Carleton and cuLearn accounts.

Official Course Outline

The course outline posted to website of the Institute of European, Russian and Eurasian Studies is the official course outline.
