Course description and objectives:
This is an introductory course to the politics of development and the politics of developing countries. Students will be introduced to theories of development and underdevelopment and we will review the challenges facing a select group of developing countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America as well as the policies some countries have used to improve their relative position. The list of countries that we will choose to focus in on specifically are China, India, Brazil, Mexico, Iran, Nigeria and South Africa. Students are encouraged to choose three countries from this list to specialize in to illustrate their papers and essay questions. Attendance in Tutorial sections is mandatory. That is where you will review the readings and your tutorial leaders will be doing a substantial part of the grading.

Students will be graded on attendance and performance in tutorials. Tutorial leaders may assign students presentations on assigned readings to give as part of their tutorial grade. The midterm will be held in-class and will cover material up to October 1. Topics for the term paper will be assigned in class October 1. As part of this assignment, students are required to submit an outline and bibliography to their TA by October 29. This will enable the TA’s to return the outline with comments by November 12. Students who do not submit an outline by the assigned date will forfeit the outline grade. Term papers are due on the last day of class with your TA or must be dropped off in the Political Science drop box outside B640LA by 4:00 pm on the date due. Emailed papers are not valid.

Late papers. Following a 24 hour no questions asked grace period, late papers will lose half a letter grade for each day (weekends count as 1 day) late. Thus an A would be assigned A-; A-becomes B+ …etc. Note also the final date established by the University for submitting term work December 7 No extensions will be granted in advance of the due date, and only exceptional family and health emergencies will be considered for the period immediately before the due date.

Plagiarism
The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
• failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
• handing in "substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They may include a mark of zero for the plagiarized work or a final grade of "F" for the course.
Student or professor materials created for this course (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s).

Submission and Return of Term Work
Papers must be submitted directly to the instructor according to the instructions in the course outline and will not be date-stamped in the departmental office. Late assignments may be submitted to the drop box in the corridor outside B640 Loeb. Assignments will be retrieved every business day at 4 p.m., stamped with that day's date, and then distributed to the instructor. For essays not returned in class please attach a stamped, self-addressed envelope if you wish to have your assignment returned by mail. Final exams are intended solely for the purpose of evaluation and will not be returned.

Grading
Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor, subject to the approval of the faculty Dean. Final standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points is:

Approval of final grades
Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by an instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.
Carleton E-mail Accounts
All email communication to students from the Department of Political Science will be via official Carleton university e-mail accounts and/or cuLearn. As important course and University information is distributed this way, it is the student’s responsibility to monitor their Carleton and cuLearn accounts.

Carleton Political Science Society
"The Carleton Political Science Society (CPSS) has made its mission to provide a social environment for politically inclined students and faculty. By hosting social events, including Model Parliament, debates, professional development sessions and more, CPSS aims to involve all political science students at Carleton University. Our mandate is to arrange social and academic activities in order to instill a sense of belonging within the Department and the larger University community. Members can benefit through our networking opportunities, academic engagement initiatives and numerous events which aim to complement both academic and social life at Carleton University.
