Course Format: In person

Course Description:

This course will examine some key issues related to economic, social, environmental and indigenous human rights in international and Canadian context. We will first introduce some basic historical background and theoretical concepts, and then move into more specific human rights violations with a special emphasis on international economic order imposed by neoliberal globalization. We will particularly investigate the relationship between economic globalization and corporate assault on human rights, involving labour rights, food insecurity, water crisis as well as environmental and indigenous rights. While some scholars and politicians still insist that our economic and social rights are less important than our civil and political human rights, we will see that all human rights are interrelated and inseparable, as are also their violations. Indeed, can we be free if we are hungry? Or, is our right to life meaningful if there is no work or fresh water?

Course Objectives:

The main objectives of this course are:

- 1) to enhance students' capacity for critical thinking,
- 2) to acquire a more profound understanding of the roots and the scope of human suffering as well as of people's incessant struggle for survival and social justice,
- 3) to improve students' ability to link academic research with the key theoretical concepts and international agreements, and

- 4) to reflect critically upon taken-for-granted assumptions about social equality and justice in Canada and worldwide.

Required Readings/ Texts:

- All required readings will be available online (on Brightspace via ARES).
- Supplementary documentary films will also be available on Brightspace/ARES.

Students are not required to purchase textbooks or other learning materials for this course.

Course Requirements & Methods of Evaluation:

Students are expected to be present in every class and should prepare beforehand by reading assigned materials in order to meaningfully participate in class discussions. Both assignments will be posted on Brightspace and must be submitted on time.

Mid-Term Assignment	50%
Critical Essay	40%
Attendance & Participation	10%
Total/Final Grade	100%

Mid-Term Assignment (50%):

This assignment will be handed out in class on February 12 and is due on February 26. Students will be required to answer selected question(s) from the assigned readings and will be provided with clear instructions for the structure of the paper. Your paper should have 8-10 double-spaced pages (12 points Times New Roman font, 1” margins) and must be electronically submitted on due date at the assigned drop box on Brightspace.

Critical Essay/Research Project (40%):

This paper should be a critical essay that will analyze a chosen issue or topic related to economic globalization and addressing human rights. More detailed instructions will be provided early on in the course and will be posted on Brightspace. The essay should have 8-10 typed pages (12 points Times New Roman font and double spaced), 5-10 references, and must contain an introduction, the body of the text and a conclusion. Students will apply at least two theoretical concepts and relevant human rights documents to their selected topic/issue and provide a critical insight or analysis. An excellent paper will have clear links between theory and practice, introduce some critical and original ideas, and demonstrate a good understanding of the issue. Essays are due on April 8 by 11:59 pm and must be electronically submitted in the drop box on Brightspace. Late papers without adequate documentation will not be accepted after three days.

General Criteria for Evaluating Students’ Work:

You are expected to demonstrate an ability to think critically about the issues discussed during this course. The main evaluation criteria are: 1) critical thinking and analytical skills; 2) organization of thoughts and materials; 3) clear expression of ideas and arguments; 4) academic writing skills (appropriate format, spelling, grammar, consistent citation style, etc).

IMPORTANT:

Wikipedia is not a valid and credible reference and should not be used in this course.

My lecture notes/slides are not an academic source and cannot be used as such.

Any citation style is acceptable, but it must contain the author's name, year of publishing, and page number in the text.

Late Papers Policy

Assignments must be submitted on the due dates to obtain full marks. If an assignment is handed in within 3 days of the due date, for any reason, it will be accepted, but the mark will be reduced by one letter grade per day (for example, an A- becomes a B+). Assignments will not be accepted later than 3 days after the due date. If you are ill or personally injured, no late penalty will apply if a doctor's note is presented.

Diversity and Inclusion:

The materials covered in this course will engage a range of complex and at times contentious topics. Some topics in this class include political and socially dynamic issues including how people have been marginalized, excluded, and exploited. It is important that these issues be addressed collectively within the class in a sensitive, respectful, and accountable manner.

PLAGIARISM

The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- any submission prepared in whole or in part, by someone else, including the unauthorized use of generative AI tools (e.g., ChatGPT);
- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in “substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.”

Plagiarism is a serious offence that cannot be resolved directly by the course’s instructor. The Associate Dean of the Faculty conducts a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of “F” for the course.
