

PSCI 5501 A

Issues in Political Economy

“Critique of Everyday Life”

This seminar explores Henri Lefebvre’s Critique of Everyday Life. Our goal is to problematize what this ubiquitous but poorly specified word – the everyday – means from various theoretical perspectives, including: situationism, post-Marxist/feminist theories of social reproduction, autonomist Marxism, non-representational theory, actor network theory, and flat ontology. Also offered as PECO 5501 and SOCI 5404 for which additional credit is precluded.

Instructor:	Professor Mathew Coleman
Schedule:	May to June 2013
Time & Location:	Tuesdays & Thursdays 2.30-5.25 pm (Check Carleton Central for location)