Introduction

Poverty remains a serious problem for communities across Canada (National Advisory Council on Poverty, 2022). Typically, if the general population expects the federal, provincial and municipal governments to engage in welfare provisions and alleviate poverty, several solutions may be noted which fall outside of government initiatives. Food banks illustrate such an alternative strategy. They focus on one area connected to poverty, namely fighting food insecurity nationally. However, they are by no means a permanent solution to address hunger.

The purpose of this study is to examine the financial information of selected food banks registered charities in major Canadian cities, across Canadian provinces / territories, including their national / provincial associations. This is part of a mapping exercise to offer an overview of the situation and the ecosystem in the country (See Appendix A for a list of the research notes).

Overall, the study aims to better understand the philanthropic sector of food banks through the following research questions:

- 1) Who is the provincial food banks association in Québec?
- 2) What are the food banks in major cities in Québec?
- 3) How can we describe the food banks in major cities in Québec?
- 4) What are the finances of the provincial association and food banks in major cities in Québec?

This research note summarizes some information regarding Québec. It presents a portion of the study such as a summary of the methodology, a description of Les Banques alimentaires du Québec / Food Banks of Québec and some food banks in Québec in several cities, namely Montréal, Ottawa-Gatineau (Québec part/Gatineau), and Québec City and a presentation of their finances.

Methodology

The methodology section summarizes the selection of Canadian food banks and the data collection. A data-driven method was used to identify and analyze the food banks serving Canada's largest urban areas in each of the provinces. More detailed information on the methodology is available in the Overview research note of the series (2025-50RN).

Three figures are presented to summarize the methodology of the study. Figure A illustrates the steps in the selection of Canadian food banks used in this research. Figure B illustrates the Standard Geographical Classification Hierarchy of concepts used by Statistics Canada. They are the Census Metropolitan Areas (CMA), the Census Agglomerations (CA) and the Census subdivisions (CSD). Figure C illustrates the data collection. The scope of the study is interested by information regarding provinces, cities, provincial associations and selected food banks. Information collected could be separated into three groups, namely contextual information on a province or a city, financial information and other information.

Food Banks situation in Québec / Situation des banques alimentaires au Québec

Situation in Québec / Situation au Québec

Une étude économique sur la demande d'aide alimentaire au Québec par Aviseo (2024) indique que « la demande continuera d'augmenter », l'évaluant à plus de 3 millions de demandes par mois, et précise les principaux déterminants de la demande, soit : « 1) La pauvreté et la dépendance économique des ménages auprès des transferts gouvernementaux, 2) Marché de l'emploi peu favorable au travail à temps plein, 3) L'augmentation rapide du prix des loyers, 4) Le statut précaire lié aux nouveaux arrivants. »

“The number of requests for food aid could increase by at least 10 per cent over the next three years in the province, according to a study commissioned by Food Banks of Quebec (BAQ), which is now calling on the government for more funding. BAQ responded to 2.93 million requests for food assistance per month in 2024 and expects to receive 3.22 million in 2027, according to the economic study. It's over 320,000 more requests within three years — an increase of over 5 per cent in 2026 and over 4 per cent in 2027. Food Banks Quebec oversees nearly 1,300 food aid organizations across the province.” (Rubertucci and Deer, 2025)

“While Quebec still leads the country in poverty reduction efforts, the gap between them and other provinces is shrinking. Quebec needs to find renewed focus on poverty reduction in 2024 and continue to demonstrate leadership in the sector.” (Food Banks Canada, 2024b, p.96)

Food insecurity is reaching new heights while the worrisome economic context suggests even more difficult days ahead,' said BAQ director Martin Munger. The worsening situation is putting pressure on community organizations, more than 70 per cent of which report having experienced shortages from their usual suppliers. The BAQ is seeking emergency financial aid from the government to address the issue. The profile of those who use food banks is also changing, with more and more of those seeking help also being employed. In 2023, 18.5 per cent of users derived most of their revenue from a job, compared with 13.5 in 2019. For households, the higher price of groceries has been the most painful and persistent example of the increase in inflation. In September, the annual rate of food inflation stood at 5.9 per cent, according to Statistics Canada. In 2022, food inflation reached 9.8 per cent, the highest level since 1981.” (Rolland, 2023)

“According to a PROOF report last November, 13.8 per cent of Quebec households were food insecure in 2022, up from 13.1 per cent the year before, but that number climbs to 21.3 per cent for children in the province. While that number is the lowest in Canada, it amounts to 1.2 million people. Of Quebec's total number, over half were families reliant on employment income for food and making ends meet.” (Bongiorno, 2024)

“The director of philanthropy for Food Banks of Quebec, Véronique Beaulieu-Fowler, says they've seen an increase of one million additional demands for food aid per month in the last three years. Food Banks of Quebec supplies food donations to its members, known as moissons, who in turn serve over 1,000 community organizations like The Depot. According to Food Banks of Quebec's Hunger Report, 72 per cent of its network reported food shortages this year, with over half needing to purchase food themselves to fill the gap. The report also states that 20 per cent of people who reached out for food aid in 2024 had a job.” (Yanez-Leyton, 2024)

Pour 2024-2025, Banques alimentaires du Québec (2025d, p.11) indique un partage de 20,2 M$ redistribués aux membres et 24,8 M de kg de denrées distribuées, soit 10,7 M de kg en achats, 4,1 M de kg via les différents programmes et les dons reçus et 10 M de kg via le Programme de récupération en supermarchés (PRS).

“The number of people looking for assistance from Quebec’s food banks has gone up by nearly 75 per cent in four years, according to an assessment by the provincial organization overseeing their operations. According to statistics contained in Bilan-Faim 2023, which was made public on Wednesday by the Banques alimentaires du Québec (BAQ), the province’s 32 regional food banks and their 1,300 community-level counterparts assisted nearly 872,000 people a month, an increase of 30 per cent compared with 2022 and 73 per cent compared with 2019, the year before the pandemic. Meanwhile, the number of food baskets handed out nearly doubled over the course of four years, from 345,000 to 682,000.

Le Bilan-Faim Québec 2024 (Banques alimentaires du Québec, 2024a, p.5) résumant certains faits saillants :

- 2,9 millions de demandes d’aides alimentaires répondues chaque mois
- une hausse de 13% depuis 2023 et une hausse de 55% depuis 2021
- 556 018 personnes uniques aidées à travers les services en un mois
- 940 781 total de personnes aidées à travers les services en un mois
- 35% des bénéficiaires sont des enfants, 43 00 enfants de plus qu’en 2021
- 20% des ménages qui bénéficient du dépannage alimentaire ont un emploi comme principale source de revenus

Situation in Montréal

“Food insecurity is an increasing concern in Montreal, where demand for food assistance has risen sharply in recent years. Despite housing 24% of Quebec’s population, the city accounts for 43% of the province’s food aid recipients. Since 2019, monthly food aid requests have increased by 76%, while the number of individuals relying on emergency food services has grown by 131%. While food banks provide essential short-term relief, they do not address the systemic issues that contribute to food insecurity.” (Community Media Portal, 2025)

“Demand for food assistance has increased twofold in the last two years. ‘We can have days where 20 to 30 people will come in and ask if they can get a spot,’ Gilbert said. The organization does its best to help as many people as it can. Clients used to get food baskets every two weeks. Now, it’s down to once a month for a maximum duration of 12 months. ‘After 12, the person has to give up their spot and then they can come back in six months,’ Gilbert said. The reality is that the food bank only has the capacity to distribute 100 baskets every week — all by appointment. Others are turned away or directed to other resources.” (Olivier, 2024)

Situation in Gatineau

“Food banks in the Gatineau Hills region are struggling to meet increased demand as prices continue to rise. Some reports suggest the food bank system is hitting its limit. Moisson Outaouais provides food to around 50 soup kitchens, homeless shelters and food banks in the Outaouais region. Marie-Pier Chaput, Moisson Outaouais’s director of community development and charity relations, says they’ve gotten around 91,000 demands for food per month in 2024. This is up from around 62,000 per month in 2021. Chaput adds that around 20 per cent of the people they served in 2024 were employed. That’s up from 10 per cent in 2022.” (Wolfe, 2024)

Situation in Québec City

“La demande de paniers a explosé. Avant la pandémie et la flambée de l’inflation, La Bouchée distribuait environ 450 paniers par semaine. L’organisme en a distribué 975 la semaine dernière et 1167 avant Noël. ‘Mais il faut dire qu’on donnait une dinde !’ Maintenant, explique M. Gravel, il est rare de donner moins de 1000 paniers par semaine. La demande augmente sans cesse, note-t-il, notamment chez les nouveaux arrivants. Les bénéficiaires doivent faire la file dehors, faute d’espace à l’intérieur, même par temps froid. ‘Ça, ça me fend le cœur, mon bon monsieur.’ ” (Béland, 2024)

Food Banks Canada Report Cards

Four sections (experience of poverty, poverty measures, material deprivation, legislative progress) and 13 indicators are included in the Food Banks Canada Poverty Report Cards. Table 8 compares the poverty report cards’ overall scores in 2023 and 2024 for Québec.

Provincial Association – Les Banques alimentaires du Québec (Food Banks of Québec)

“Au Québec, ce sont 556 000 personnes uniques qui ont besoin d’aide alimentaire chaque mois. Depuis 1988, notre organisme à but non lucratif, Banques alimentaires du Québec, joue un rôle clé pour les nourrir. Notre force? Nous sommes à la tête d’un formidable réseau provincial! Nos 33 membres régionaux indépendants desservent près de 1300 organismes communautaires locaux affiliés, qui répondent mensuellement à 2,9 millions de demandes d’aide alimentaire.” (Banques alimentaires du Québec, 2025a)

“Ce vaste réseau est actuellement constitué de 18 membres Moisson et de 15 membres associés, qui approvisionnent à leur tour 1300 organismes locaux affiliés. Ils sont tous des organismes à but non lucratif (OBNL) reconnus.” (Banques alimentaires du Québec, 2025b)

“Les membres Moisson sont des banques alimentaires régionales qui ont comme mission commune la récupération, la distribution des denrées et l’aide alimentaire. Par leurs infrastructures d’importance, les Moisson jouent le rôle de centres de tri et s’occupent de la redistribution des denrées aux organismes communautaires de leur territoire. Ils assurent une sollicitation dynamique des fournisseurs alimentaires locaux et régionaux.” (Banques alimentaires du Québec, 2025b)

Vision

“Chef de file de la lutte contre l’insécurité alimentaire avec l’appui d’un réseau fort partout au Québec.” (Banques alimentaires du Québec, 2025a)

Mission

“Soutenir nos membres par l’augmentation et la mise en commun de ressources et d’expertises afin d’assurer un accès à des denrées nutritives pour les populations vulnérables partout au Québec.” (Banques alimentaires du Québec, 2025a)

“Les membres associés sont des organismes offrant des services d’aide alimentaire dans une région spécifique non couverte par un membre Moisson. Ils sont situés en majorité dans les régions éloignées des grands centres, comme sur la Côte-Nord, en Gaspésie et aux Îles-de-la-Madeleine. Ils assurent une sollicitation dynamique des fournisseurs alimentaires locaux.” (Banques alimentaires du Québec, 2025b)

In addition to those 33 organizations, more than 1,300 affiliated organisations are also part of the Banques alimentaires du Québec network.

Moisson Rive-Sud (Montréal CMA)

“Fondé en 1992, par Messieurs Jean-Pierre Boyer et Réal Marchand, Moisson Rive-Sud est membre du réseau des Banques alimentaires du Québec (BAQ) et des Banques alimentaires Canada (BAC). En 1992, l’organisme a été fondé sous le nom de Centre de Distribution Alimentaire de la Rive-Sud (CDARS) [...]. Hommes de grande sensibilité, ces propriétaires de marché d’alimentation Métro ont décidé d’aider concrètement les personnes qui ne mangeaient pas à leur faim sur la Rive-Sud en leur offrant des denrées récupérées dans leur épicerie respective.” (Moisson Rive-Sud, 2025)

Mission

“Nous soutenons les organismes membres de Moisson Rive-Sud qui œuvrent auprès des communautés vulnérables et/ou en situation d’insécurité alimentaire sur le territoire de la Montérégie.” (Moisson Rive-Sud, 2025)

Moisson Outaouais (Gatineau CMA)

“En 2004, un comité d’étude réalise la nécessité de fonder un organisme régional pour lutter contre la faim par la récupération et la redistribution gratuite de denrées. Au départ, la Banque alimentaire d’Ottawa approvisionnait 24 organismes locaux, aidant plus de 6 000 personnes, une réponse qui s’avérait être insuffisante pour le nombre d’individus en situation de précarité alimentaire de la région.

En partenariat étroit avec divers organismes de sécurité alimentaire, Moisson Outaouais voit le jour en 2006. Cette collaboration permettra d’assurer une continuité dans l’approvisionnement des denrées, favorisant son autonomie progressive et renforçant son rôle auprès des organismes affiliés.

Face à un besoin toujours croissant, Moisson Outaouais s’efforce d’augmenter sa capacité de récupération et de distribution des denrées grâce à des installations améliorées et un personnel accru.” (Moisson Outaouais, 2025)

Vision

“Moisson Outaouais exercera son leadership en tant que banque alimentaire régionale, par des actions éclairées et mobilisatrices, pour faire de la sécurité alimentaire un levier indispensable à la santé et à la résilience des communautés de l’Outaouais.” (Moisson Outaouais, 2025)

Mission

“En tant que banque alimentaire régionale, Moisson Outaouais travaille en partenariat pour collecter, stocker, transformer et distribuer les denrées alimentaires aux nombreux organismes d’aide affiliés de l’Outaouais.
