It may be useful to have a clear idea of the various Canadian corporate tax rates. The actual rate may be different depending on the type of corporation and type of income and the province / territory where the income is earned. Corporate tax rates include both federal and provincial rates.

Provincial rate varies for each province. The provincial rates assumed are based on an average of the most frequent rates applicable in the various provinces and territories. Threshold amount for Small Business Deduction (SBD) may be different in a specific province compare to the federal amount. Manufacturing & Processing (M&P) activities may benefit of a different tax rates in certain provinces. Tax holidays are available to certain corporations in some provinces.
