

Field of Specialization:	Personality Psychology
Academic Unit:	Psychology
Category of Appointment:	Preliminary (Tenure-track)
Rank/Position Title:	Assistant Professor
Start Date:	July 1, 2021
Closing Date:	November 15, 2020

About the Position:

The Department of Psychology at Carleton University invites applications from qualified candidates for a preliminary (tenure-track) appointment in Personality Psychology at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning July 1, 2021.

The successful candidate will be expected to conduct research on issues related to Personality Psychology, teach both at the undergraduate and graduate level in Personality, and have effective leadership and collaborative skills. Although we are open to all specializations in Personality, expertise in measurement or qualitative methods would help fill other gaps in our department. The successful candidate is expected to show evidence of being able to maintain a successful program of research that is eligible for Tri-Council funding.

Carleton University is committed to fostering diversity within its community as a source of excellence, cultural enrichment, and social strength. We welcome those who would contribute to the further diversification of our university including, but not limited to: women; visible minorities; First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples; persons with disabilities; and persons of any sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression. Carleton understands that career paths vary. Legitimate career interruptions will in no way prejudice the assessment process and their impact will be carefully considered.

Carleton University acknowledges and respects the Algonquin people, traditional custodians of the land on which the Carleton University campus is situated.

About the Academic Unit:

The Department of Psychology is committed to excellence in teaching and research across six research areas: health, personality/social, forensic, developmental, cognitive, and organizational. The Department of Psychology currently offers undergraduate programs in the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, as well as the Faculty of Science. Graduate programs in Psychology are offered at the master's and doctoral level. Further information about the department is available <https://carleton.ca/psychology> or by contacting Dr. Chris Davis (Chair of the Search Committee) at chris.davis@carleton.ca.

Qualifications:

Applicants must have a Ph.D. (ABDs also will be considered) in Psychology and have demonstrated excellence in research and teaching and possess a strong commitment to scholarship, as reflected in publications in the area of Personality Psychology. The successful candidate will have the ability to develop an externally-funded, high quality research program; will be committed to excellence in teaching at the undergraduate and graduate level; and will contribute effectively to the academic life of the Department.

Application Instructions:

Applicants should submit their application electronically to Dr. Joanna Pozzulo, Chair, Department of Psychology (PsychChair@carleton.ca) in three PDF files including: 1) a curriculum vitae; 2) copies of representative publications; and 3) a summary of research objectives and teaching experience by November 15, 2020.

At the same time, applicants should arrange for three individuals to provide letters of recommendation electronically to Dr. Joanna Pozzulo, Chair, Department of Psychology (PsychChair@carleton.ca).

Please also identify any past experiences in supporting equity, diversity and inclusion in your previous institutional environment such as in curriculum development and in supporting diverse students.

Please indicate in your application if you are a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada.

To see the full posting for this position, please visit <https://carleton.ca/provost/jobs/academics/>.

About Carleton University:

Carleton University is a dynamic and innovative research and teaching institution with a national and international reputation as a leader in collaborative teaching and learning, research and governance. With over 31,000 students in more than 100 programs of study, we encourage creative risk-taking, discovery, and the generation of transformative knowledge. We are proud to be one of the most accessible campuses in North America. Carleton's Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities has been heralded as the gold standard for disability support services in Canada.

Carleton's location in Ottawa, Ontario provides many opportunities for scholarship and research with numerous and diverse groups and institutions. Canada's capital has a population of one million and reflects the country's bilingual and multicultural character. To learn more about our university and the City of Ottawa, please visit www.carleton.ca/about.

Those applicants that are selected for an interview will be requested to contact the Chair of the Search Committee (Dr. Chris Davis; chris.davis@carleton.ca) as soon as possible to discuss any accommodation requirements. Arrangements will be made to accommodate requests in a timely manner.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. All positions are subject to budgetary approval.