COURSE DESCRIPTION/INSTRUCTOR'S STATEMENT

This course introduces students to the area of personality psychology. Personality psychology seeks to study how people differ in their thoughts, feelings, and behaviours. This includes how these differences persist over time and place, shaping the outcomes of our lives. We will cover topics that include personality traits, how to measure personality well, evolutionary/biological perspectives on personality, the role of the unconscious, our feelings and motives, our sense of self, and how we deal with stress.

Prerequisite(s): PSYC 1001 and PSYC 1002.

EVALUATION (SUBJECT TO CHANGE)

Assignments: 5%, Test 1: 30%, Test 2: 30%, Final Exam: 35%
