

PSYC 4100 A : PSYCHOLOGICAL ISSUES IN HIGHER EDUCATION

Instructor	Rylee Oram (PhD)
Term	Winter 2024
Course Delivery	In Person
Email Address	Rylee.oram@carleton.ca
Office Location	TBD
Office Hours	TBD (Available by appointment)

COURSE DESCRIPTION/INSTRUCTOR'S STATEMENT

This course examines current empirical research related to higher education. We will learn about the challenges and barriers experienced by diverse student populations during the transition to and enrollment in higher education (i.e., university and college). The course will also include the discussion of accessibility issues, risk and protective factors, resilience, and the antecedents to academic motivation and success.

EVALUATION (SUBJECT TO CHANGE)

Reading responses, group activities, oral group presentation, research paper outline, final research project

TEXT

No textbook – weekly research readings.