COURSE DESCRIPTION/INSTRUCTOR'S STATEMENT

Governments, educational institutions, community-based non-profits, and for-profit organizations routinely review and evaluate their policies and programs. This course will provide students with training in methods and theories of program evaluation. Students will gain practical experience in evaluation, working together on a small evaluation project. Course will be delivered using a blended format of synchronous and asynchronous instruction.

EVALUATION

Students will be evaluated on the basis of participation and 2-3 written assignments related to the course evaluation project.
