

Posting Information

Posting Date	May 1, 2026
Application Deadline	June 1, 2026
Application Page	Application Link
Posting Type (Regular/Late)	Regular

Contract Instructor Salaries for Fall 2026 and Winter 2027 courses:

- Half Credit Course: $9,255
- Full Credit Course: $18,508

Carleton University is committed to employment equity and fostering a culture of inclusion. We encourage applications from individuals who would contribute to the diversity of our campus, including women, visible minorities, First Nations, Inuit, and Métis peoples, persons with disabilities, and persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity and expression. Applicants requiring accommodations at any stage of the recruitment process are encouraged to contact the Unit Chair or Director to ensure appropriate arrangements can be made in a timely manner.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall/Winter 2026-2027
Course Code	FYSM 1310 B
Course Title	Psychology of Violence
Course Description	Psychology is the scientific study of our thoughts, feelings and behavior. Course examines a selected topic in psychology. The specific topic will vary from year to year and will be announced in advance of the registration period.
Course Credit Value	1.0 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	30
Anticipated TA Support	No
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual

	listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.
--	---

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall/Winter 2026-2027
Course Code	FYSM 1310 E
Course Title	Emerging Adulthood and Beyond
Course Description	Psychology is the scientific study of our thoughts, feelings and behavior. Course examines a selected topic in psychology. The specific topic will vary from year to year and will be announced in advance of the registration period.
Course Credit Value	1.0 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	30
Anticipated TA Support	No
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall/Winter 2026-2027
Course Code	FYSM 1310 H
Course Title	Psychological Disorders and Mental Health
Course Description	Psychology is the scientific study of our thoughts, feelings and behavior. Course examines a selected topic in psychology. The specific topic will vary from year to year and will be announced in advance of the registration period.
Course Credit Value	1.0 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	30
Anticipated TA Support	No
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall/Winter 2026-2027
Course Code	FYSM 1508 – Sections A and B
Course Title	Stress, Coping & Well-Being
Course Description	How do you cope with stress? We live in a stressful world, and how we cope has implications for our happiness and well-being. We will examine theory and research on how stress affects our lives, how people cope, and what it means to be well-adjusted.
Course Credit Value	1.0 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	30
Anticipated TA Support	No
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 1001 – Sections D, F, and G
Course Title	Introduction to Psychology I
Course Description	A survey of topics associated with psychology's role as a natural science, including neuroscience, cognition, and learning.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	225
Anticipated TA Support	2 TA @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 1001 – Sections E, H and J
Course Title	Introduction to Psychology I
Course Description	A survey of topics associated with psychology's role as a natural science, including neuroscience, cognition, and learning.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	225
Anticipated TA Support	2 TA @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 1001 K
Course Title	Introduction to Psychology I
Course Description	A survey of topics associated with psychology's role as a natural science, including neuroscience, cognition, and learning.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	225
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 1001 L
Course Title	Introduction to Psychology I
Course Description	A survey of topics associated with psychology's role as a natural science, including neuroscience, cognition, and learning.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	225
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 1002 D
Course Title	Introduction to Psychology II
Course Description	A survey of topics associated with psychology's role as a social science, including social psychology, personality, clinical psychology, and mental health.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	225
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 1002 Sections - F and G
Course Title	Introduction to Psychology II
Course Description	A survey of topics associated with psychology's role as a social science, including social psychology, personality, clinical psychology, and mental health.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	225
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 1002 – Sections H and J
Course Title	Introduction to Psychology II
Course Description	A survey of topics associated with psychology's role as a social science, including social psychology, personality, clinical psychology, and mental health.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	225
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 1002 L
Course Title	Introduction to Psychology II
Course Description	A survey of topics associated with psychology's role as a social science, including social psychology, personality, clinical psychology, and mental health.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	225
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 2001 – Sections B and C
Course Title	Introduction to Research Methods in Psychology
Course Description	A general introduction to research methodologies employed within contemporary psychology. Topics covered include research designs (experimental, quasi-experimental) and techniques (observations, surveys), basic descriptive statistics, and how to interpret and report research findings.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	175
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 2001 D
Course Title	Introduction to Research Methods in Psychology
Course Description	A general introduction to research methodologies employed within contemporary psychology. Topics covered include research designs (experimental, quasi-experimental) and techniques (observations, surveys), basic descriptive statistics, and how to interpret and report research findings.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	175
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 2002 – Sections C and D
Course Title	Introduction to Statistics in Psychology
Course Description	A general introduction to statistical techniques employed within contemporary psychology. Topics include basic data analysis using descriptive and inferential statistics (t-tests, ANOVA, correlation, chi-square).
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	175
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 2002 E
Course Title	Introduction to Statistics in Psychology
Course Description	A general introduction to statistical techniques employed within contemporary psychology. Topics include basic data analysis using descriptive and inferential statistics (t-tests, ANOVA, correlation, chi-square).
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	175
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 2100 B
Course Title	Introduction to Social Psychology
Course Description	Introduction to social psychology, including a survey of theories, issues, methods, and findings. This course will explore how social situations may influence people's thoughts, feelings, and behaviours. Topics may include social cognition, self-knowledge, persuasion, interpersonal attraction, aggression, and prosocial behaviour.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hrs
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 2301 C
Course Title	Introduction to Health Psychology
Course Description	Introduction to health psychology, including a survey of theories, issues, methods, and findings. Using a multidisciplinary approach, topics may include the reciprocal interactions among physical health and illness, and psychological factors, including emotional well-being, coping and appraisal processes.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 2301 D
Course Title	Introduction to Health Psychology
Course Description	Introduction to health psychology, including a survey of theories, issues, methods, and findings. Using a multidisciplinary approach, topics may include the reciprocal interactions among physical health and illness, and psychological factors, including emotional well-being, coping and appraisal processes.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 2400 A
Course Title	Introduction to Forensic Psychology
Course Description	Introduction to forensic psychology, including a survey of theories, issues, methods, and findings. Topics covered may include development of offending, eyewitness testimony, victim studies, risk assessment, offender rehabilitation, offender classification, and police studies.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 2400 B
Course Title	Forensic Psychology
Course Description	Introduction to forensic psychology, including a survey of theories, issues, methods, and findings. Topics covered may include development of offending, eyewitness testimony, victim studies, risk assessment, offender rehabilitation, offender classification, and police studies.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 2400 D
Course Title	Forensic Psychology
Course Description	Introduction to forensic psychology, including a survey of theories, issues, methods, and findings. Topics covered may include development of offending, eyewitness testimony, victim studies, risk assessment, offender rehabilitation, offender classification, and police studies.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 2500 A
Course Title	Foundations of Developmental Psychology
Course Description	Introduction to developmental psychology, including a survey of theories, issues, methods, and findings. Topics may include biological underpinnings and genetics, as well as selected aspects of language, cognitive, moral, emotional, and social development.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 2700 C
Course Title	Introduction to Cognitive Psychology
Course Description	Introduction to cognitive processes, including a survey of theories, issues, methods and findings. Topics covered may include pattern recognition, attention, imagery, learning (animal and human), memory, language, and thinking.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 2801 A
Course Title	Organizational Psychology I
Course Description	Introduction to the study of organizational psychology, including a survey of theories, issues, methods, and findings. Examines individual and group behaviour in organizational settings. Topics may include understanding work-related attitudes, behaviour, motivation, and stress, personnel selection, personality in the workplace, organizational justice, and leadership.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 2801 B
Course Title	Organizational Psychology I
Course Description	Introduction to the study of organizational psychology, including a survey of theories, issues, methods, and findings. Examines individual and group behaviour in organizational settings. Topics may include understanding work-related attitudes, behaviour, motivation, and stress, personnel selection, personality in the workplace, organizational justice, and leadership.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level. For first and second year courses, experience with teaching large classes is preferred.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall/Winter 2026-2027
Course Code	PSYC 3000 – Sections A, D and E
Course Title	Design and Analysis in Psychological Research
Course Description	Techniques in data analysis, probability, sampling distributions, and procedures of estimation. Topics include classical, Bayesian, and distribution free approaches to hypothesis testing, linear regression and curve fitting, and analysis of variance methods in experimental design. Techniques are applied with appropriate statistical software (e.g., SPSS, Excel).
Course Credit Value	1.0 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	75
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 3402 C
Course Title	Criminal Behaviour
Course Description	A review of theoretical and empirical research in the study of criminal behaviour. Examination of offender assessment and classification, prevalence and types of offenders, and effectiveness of offender treatment including understanding specific populations of offenders such as Indigenous offenders, women offenders and violent offenders.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	3 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 3403 A
Course Title	Addiction
Course Description	Neurobiological and social bases of drug and behavioural addictions. Contemporary theoretical approaches to addiction; approaches to current prevention and treatment.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	200
Anticipated TA Support	3 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 3405 A
Course Title	Psychology of Motivation & Emotion
Course Description	This course will explore motivational and emotional factors involved in human behaviour emphasizing various perspectives, theories, and research pertaining to physiological, cognitive, and social needs. Topics may include what factors motivates people, how motivation changes over time, and how one person can motivate another individual.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	150
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 3507 B
Course Title	Social Development
Course Description	Development of the individual with a focus on social cognition and social behaviour. Topics may include the role of temperament in development, parental roles, siblings and peers in social/emotional development, development of prosocial and aggressive behaviour, moral development and development of self and other understanding.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	150
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 3509 A
Course Title	Adolescence and Emerging Adulthood
Course Description	The physical, cognitive, social and moral development of adolescents and emerging adults in multiple contexts including family, peers, media and culture. Major theories and contemporary issues and concerns.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	150
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 3603 A
Course Title	Psychology of Women
Course Description	An examination of theories and research regarding the similarities and differences in women's and men's psychological processes. Psychological issues relevant to women (e.g., women's health concerns, women's sexuality, violence toward women and children) will be examined as well as feminist and traditional research methods.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	100
Anticipated TA Support	1 TA @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 3604 A
Course Title	Clinical Psychology and Mental Illness
Course Description	History of the concept of mental illness. Theory and selected research dealing with the nature and etiology of mental illness.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	150
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 3604 B
Course Title	Clinical Psychology and Mental Illness
Course Description	History of the concept of mental illness. Theory and selected research dealing with the nature and etiology of mental illness.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	150
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 3801 B
Course Title	Organizational Psychology II
Course Description	Advanced coverage of the current theory and practices in Organizational Psychology. Selected topics may include workplace socialization, job attitudes, deviant work behaviours, leadership, teams and group dynamics, work-related stress and health, and organizational change and development.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	100
Anticipated TA Support	1 TA @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 4301 A
Course Title	Advanced Topics in Health Psychology: Mindfulness & Well-Being
Course Description	In-depth exploration of theoretical and empirical issues related to selected topics in health psychology. The specific content for this course will vary from year to year.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	30
Anticipated TA Support	No
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 4333 B
Course Title	Clinical Psychology: Assessment and Intervention
Course Description	An advanced seminar on clinical psychology and mental health. Students will learn about frequently used treatment modalities and common factors across treatments. Research methodology and recent advances dealing with a variety of common mental disorders will also be reviewed and discussed.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	30
Anticipated TA Support	No
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall 2026
Course Code	PSYC 4400 B
Course Title	Topics in Forensic Psychology: Applied Police Research
Course Description	In-depth exploration of theoretical and empirical issues related to selected topics in Forensic psychology. The specific content for this course will vary from year to year.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	30
Anticipated TA Support	No
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall/Winter 2026-2027
Course Code	PSYC 4909/4910 – Sections A, B, E, and F
Course Title	Research Project for B.Sc./B.A.
Course Description	Within an active learning environment, students develop oral presentations and written documents that may include annotated bibliographies, essays, and presentation slides. They must also present a research poster at the Psychology Undergraduate Research Event. Students select an area of psychological research of interest to them.
Course Credit Value	1.0 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	30
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Fall/Winter 2026-2027
Course Code	PSYC 4909/4910 – Sections C, G, and H
Course Title	Research Project for B.Sc./B.A.
Course Description	Within an active learning environment, students develop oral presentations and written documents that may include annotated bibliographies, essays, and presentation slides. They must also present a research poster at the Psychology Undergraduate Research Event. Students select an area of psychological research of interest to them.
Course Credit Value	1.0 credit
Anticipated Modality	Online
Anticipated Course Enrolment	30
Anticipated TA Support	2 TAs @ 130 hours
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Course Information

Academic Term	Winter 2027
Course Code	PSYC 5800 L
Course Title	Special Topics in Psychology: Applied Police Research
Course Description	The topics of this course will vary from year to year and will be announced in advance of the registration period.
Course Credit Value	0.5 credit
Anticipated Modality	In-person
Anticipated Course Enrolment	10
Anticipated TA Support	No
Required qualifications	Candidates should hold at least an MA in Psychology, or related field in accordance with the individual listing. Demonstrated expertise in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. by content areas) is encouraged and will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate teaching competence in accordance with the individual listing (e.g. in a related and/or a relevant area), preferably at the university level.

Note to Applicants: As per Articles 16.3 and 16.4 of the CUPE 4600 (Unit 2) Collective Agreement, the posted vacancies listed above are first offered to applicants who meet the incumbency criterion. The current CUPE 4600 (Unit 2) Collective Agreement can be found on Carleton University's Academic Staff Agreements webpage.

Pre-Posting Hiring Decisions:

The following courses have been assigned to doctoral students, post-doctoral fellows, or visiting scholars, and therefore are not open for applications. The department will contact the most senior incumbent to review their rights under Article 17.6 of the CUPE 4600 (Unit 2) Collective Agreement:

- PSYC 3404 B [0.5 credit]: Police Psychology
- PSYC 4400 A [0.5 credit]: Topics in Forensic Psychology
- PSYC 4400 D [0.5 credit]: Topics in Forensic Psychology