

PSYC 2801 A : ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY I

Instructor	Dr. Amanda McEvoy
Term	Fall 2026
Course Delivery	In-Person
Email Address	amandamcevoy@cunet.carleton.ca
Office Hours	By appointment - virtual

COURSE DESCRIPTION/INSTRUCTOR'S STATEMENT

Welcome to Organizational Psychology I.

This course provides a comprehensive overview of the study of organizational psychology, encompassing key theories, issues, methods, and findings. You'll explore both individual and group behaviour within organizational settings, delving into a variety of engaging topics such as work-related attitudes, motivation, stress, personnel selection, personality in the workplace, organizational justice, and leadership.

In addition to the in-class midterm and a final exam, you will complete engaging, practical application assignments. These are designed to bring the material to life and allow you to practically apply the principles of organizational psychology in real-world scenarios. By the end of this course, you should have a better understanding of the psychological underpinnings of workplace behaviour and have developed your skills to enhance organizational effectiveness and personal growth.

EVALUATION (SUBJECT TO CHANGE)

Midterms and Final Exam (70%)

Assignments (30%)

TEXT