PSYC 2500 B : FOUNDATIONS OF DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

Instructor	Rylee Oram (PhD)
Term	Winter 2027
Course Delivery	In Person
Email Address	Rylee.oram@carleton.ca
Office Location	Loeb 825A
Office Hours	TBD

COURSE DESCRIPTION/INSTRUCTOR'S STATEMENT

This course introduces students to the area of developmental psychology. Developmental psychology examines human development across the lifespan through physical, cognitive, and socio-emotional domains. In this course, there will be discussions of how we apply developmental theory in various contexts, including public policy, education, counselling, and health. We will learn about various theories, issues, methods, and findings.

EVALUATION (SUBJECT TO CHANGE)

Assignments (20%), Practice Quizzes (10%), Exams (70%)

TEXT

Siegler, R. S., Saffran, J., Eisenberg, N., Gershoff, E., & Leaper, C. (2024). How Children Develop (7th ed.). Macmillan Higher Education