

CLIMATE CONVERSATIONS

With an African Focus

Come join us for a webinar with academic scholars from Canada, Ghana, Malawi and Tanzania to learn about climate change and societal impacts with an African Focus. Carleton University is hosting PhD and Early Career Researchers from Sub-Saharan Africa in fields ranging from economics, policy, science and engineering. The webinar will feature talks on how climate change affects all aspects of our lives and how researchers in Africa are looking for ways to adapt and mitigate changes in their countries.

Please Joins Us September 21, 2021 9:00-11:00 am (EST)

Registration Zoom webinar - https://carleton-ca.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_WYykS1dfRBCGLe5vqTMn5A

The Canadian Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Scholarship program is funded by Canada's International Development Research Centre [IDRC], the Social Science and Humanities Research Council of Canada [SSHRC], and Carleton University and managed through a unique partnership of the Rideau Hall Foundation, Community Foundations of Canada, Universities Canada.