Information for Students Applying to Write Deferred Final Exams Off-Campus

Deferred Final Examinations for 2019 early summer term will be held July 19-21, 2019. Deferred Examinations approved to be written off-campus will be written on the same date and time as the on campus examinations, unless otherwise noted with the information confirming your location. Due to some technical issues you will not be able to access your personalized Examination Schedule via Carleton Central. The schedule will be posted by July 11, 2019 through SES Webpage. Please take the time to review carleton.ca/exams/rules-and-procedures/ before this or any other Carleton examination. From this site you can also access the public view of the Deferred Examination schedule if necessary.

When you applied to write a Deferred Exam, you had the option of choosing to write off-campus. If you either did not choose this option and now wish to apply for it, or if you now want to change the location from your original choice, you have up to the deadline indicated below to request an off-campus exam arrangement. There are different deadlines and instructions when asking to write either WITHIN or OUTSIDE Canada. Please ensure you follow the appropriate procedure below: (Note: there will be a processing fee per exam charged to your student account for this arrangement.)

Any cancellation of such arrangements must be made in writing and emailed to deferredexaminations@carleton.ca. Fee refunds for cancellation notices of fewer than 48 business hours will not be possible in the majority of cases, and in some cases cancellation notice of fewer than 72 hours will result in only a partial refund – depending on the refund policy of the host test centre.
