Course Description
Introduction to the academic study of religion by considering such fundamental components as power, myth, ritual, symbol, scripture, and doctrine and drawing material from a variety of world religions. Precludes additional credit for RELI 2002 and RELI 1205 and RELI 1402 and RELI 1731.

Required Text
(This text may be “rented” at the CU Bookstore for less than if purchased)

Course Requirements
The final grade for this course will be calculated as follows:

First Written Assignment (Due January 6, 2012)  5%
Second Written Assignment (Due January 25, 2012)  30%
Third Written Assignment (Due March 9, 2012)  30%
Three hour Final Exam (To Be Scheduled in April, 2012)  35%

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by the instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.

Course Goals
The goals of this course relate to the disciplined study of religion, especially in terms of what is entitled Religionswissenschaft or the scientific study of religion.

• To learn how to engage in the study of religion.
• To understand the significance of religion for people’s lives.
• To become familiar with the major ideas in the field of religious studies.

Course Outline

Each week students will read the appropriate chapter from Kessler’s textbook. In addition students will find a list of significant terms and names for each of Kessler’s chapters in the WebCT folder “1730 – Terms and Names”. Lecture overheads for each chapter can also be found in the WebCT folder “1730 – Lecture Overheads”.

Final Exam

A final exam will be scheduled during the final examination period in April. This exam will be a mix of true and false as well as multiple choice elements that reflect the content of Kessler’s text and the lectures.

Written Assignments

The First Written Assignment is due at the start of the second class on Friday January 6th. The assignment is to compose a single paragraph response to the question “What is Religion?”
The Second Written Assignment is due at the January 25th class. This second assignment is for a one-page essay based on Donald Wiebe's and responding to the question, “Why the academic study of religion?”

The Third Written Assignment is due at the March 9th class. It is for a one-page essay grounded in any one of the following ten articles:

The Second and Third Written Assignments are to be no more than one-page in length and no less than two-thirds of the page. Top, bottom, right and left margins are to be set to 1”. Lines must be single spaced. Use the Times New Roman font and set it to 12 point size. If you must, footnotes and bibliography may appear on a second page.

Include your name, student number, course number in the header like this:

Joseph Scott, 100111111, RELI 1730A

Briefly indicate the article you have chosen in the footer like this:

Segal, “The Myth Ritualist Theory”

If you have a title for your paper, put it on the first line of the page.
These written assignments will be marked for their quality of expression and for their intellectual thoughtfulness. This means you must attend to grammar and the right choice of words to express your ideas as much as to writing that is organized, original and thoughtful. Papers must evidence sufficient organization so that the reader finds it easy to follow what is being said; they should exhibit sufficient originality so that the reader can recognize an enthusiasm and depth of thought on the part of the writer; and, if the writer is thoughtful in composing, the reader should discover a main idea that is carefully chosen, clear, and well-focused.

The first written assignment has already been described above. It is a matter of a careful reading of Wiebe’s article, with the question Why the academic study of religion? There are many ways this question may be taken. It may imply a contrast between an academic study and other styles of study.

The second written assignment allows you to choose whatever question you want to examine in the context of one of the ten articles listed above.

REGULATIONS COMMON TO ALL HUMANITIES COURSES

COPIES OF WRITTEN WORK SUBMITTED
Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

PLAGIARISM
The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in “substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.”

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of “F” for the course.

WITHDRAWAL WITHOUT ACADEMIC PENALTY
The last date to withdraw from FALL TERM courses is DEC. 5, 2011. The last day to withdraw from FALL/WINTER (Full Term) and WINTER term courses is APRIL 5, 2012.

REQUESTS FOR ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION
You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term because of disability, pregnancy or religious obligations. Please review the course outline promptly and write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. You can visit the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at: carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/

Students with disabilities requiring academic accommodations in this course must register with the Paul Moten Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) for a formal evaluation of disability-related needs. Documented disabilities could include but not limited to mobility/physical impairments, specific Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/psychological disabilities, sensory disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), and chronic medical conditions. Registered PMC students are required to contact the PMC, 613-520-6608, every term to ensure that your Instructor receives your Letter of Accommodation, no later than two weeks before the first assignment is due or the first in-class test/midterm requiring accommodations. If you only require accommodations for your formally scheduled exam(s) in this course, please submit your request for accommodations to PMC by Nov.11, 2011 for the Fall term and March 7, 2012 for the Winter term. For more details visit the Equity Services website: carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/

PETITIONS TO DEFER
If you miss a final examination and/or fail to submit a FINAL assignment by the due date because of circumstances beyond your control, you may apply a deferral of examination/assignment.

If you are applying for a deferral due to illness you will be required to see a physician in order to confirm illness and obtain a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination or assignment deadline. This supporting documentation must specify the date of onset of the illness, the degree of incapacitation, and the expected date of recovery.

If you are applying for a deferral for reasons other than personal illness, please contact the Registrar’s Office directly for information on other forms of documentation that we accept.

Deferrals of assignments must be supported by confirmation of the assignment due date, for example a copy of the course outline specifying the due date and any documented extensions from the course instructor.

Deferral applications for examination or assignments must be submitted within 5 working days of the original final exam.
