Description: This 2000 level course explores Judaism as a lived religious tradition, practiced by men and women, that takes place in diverse communities across Canada and around the world. We begin with the premise that Judaism is defined by the teachings, beliefs and practices that form the core of Jewish communal life. From this point of view, Judaism is both historical and evolving; rooted in traditions yet diverse in its many expressions, responding to changing contexts, reflecting on its past and looking towards its own future. Practiced by Jews in communities all around the world, Judaism is a dynamic and complex tradition that includes a range of teachings and practices. This diversity can be a challenge for students who are at the early stages of studying Judaism. One way into this problem is to begin where Jewish communities begin themselves in defining their own identity: Jews understand themselves as standing in relationship to, and in continuity with, a historical past as expressed through sacred texts. With historical primary source texts as our entry point we will explore the teachings, traditions, practices and formative experiences of the Jewish people. To this end, films will be also be shown and several guest speakers from the local and national Jewish community will be invited into the class throughout the semester to illustrate the diversity of Judaism in Canada and around the world. This course includes several experiential learning elements.

Required Texts: Required readings prepare you for class lectures, discussions and site visits. Always read the required text prior to the site visit. Required texts include online readings linked through the CU Learn web site

- Online Jewish sources (including Hebrew Bible) may be read on Sefaria.org

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

- Regular attendance: Any student who misses more than 10 scheduled class meetings without valid and documented reasons for these absences is not eligible to pass the course.

- Regular participation

Assignments: Required for all students:

- 15% Reading prep (8x pre midterm / 8x post midterm)
- 10% in class workshops (5% pre midterm / 5% post)
- 10% Bible Film review Oct 4
- 15% Living Judaism assignment Nov 1

Midterm /Final Evaluations: Complete 2 of 3 (drop lowest grade if all three are attempted).

- 25% Test 1: October 18, in class
- 25% Test 2: TBA, during exam period
- 25% Term Project (Proposal Nov 8, Dec 4-6 poster session)

Total: 100%

Tests are 2/3 lecture based, 1/3 textbook based. Regular attendance is key to succeeding in this course.

Bonus marks: You may earn up to 5% in bonus marks by doing extra credit assignments. Details in class and CULearn.
We acknowledge that the land on which we gather to meet for this course is the traditional unceded territory of the Algonquin Anishnaabeg people.

Learning Outcomes: At the end of this course, students will be able to:
1. define and explain core concepts related to the study of Judaism particularly and religion generally
2. analyse and assess religious texts in relation to historical and contemporary contexts
3. integrate disciplinary approaches/methodology (i.e. outsider discourse, methodological atheism, critical study of religion vs. advocacy) in their analysis of primary and secondary sources
4. reflect on the relationship between religious teachings, practices, historical contexts and the formation of Jewish identities, cultures and religious communities
5. interrogate popular representations of religion, the bible and Judaism, through primary and scholarly sources.
6. develop a research question, pursue media appropriate research, distinguish between primary and secondary, scholarly and non-scholarly sources and create persuasive arguments based on that research.*

CLASS PROCESS
Polleverywhere: We will be using Polleverywhere.com most classes. You will receive an invitation to this class’ polleverywhere account. You will need a mobile device (phone, tablet or laptop). If you do not have such a device you can partner with another student.

Reading Prep: You will be asked to demonstrate that you have read and understood the required readings. This reading prep will be 15% of your final grade and will be due on any day that there is a required reading. Ideally this prep should not only prepare you for class discussion but also prepare you for the class test(s) and assist you with assignments.

Grades will be split between first and second half of the class: 7.5% x 2 = 15%
Before midterm there are 10 classes that have readings. You may skip up to two for full marks. i.e. complete 8/10
After midterm there are 10 classes that have readings. You may skip up to two for full marks. i.e. complete 8/10

Grading for this will be simplified

C = evidence of readings but includes misunderstanding
B = good understanding
A = thoughtful, creative, insightful and/or critical understanding

You have four options for demonstrating your comprehension and preparation. You may complete any of these options each class where there are required readings.
1. Develop 3 questions for the test and answer them.
2. Write a 150-200 word letter to someone about the reading(s). This can be to anyone that allows you to explore some question or aspect of the reading that you’d like to discuss with someone. The recipient could be the author, your sister, your best friend from high school, a local rabbi etc.
3. Notes on the reading(s)
4. Write a short (200-300) word exploration of key issues or themes from the reading(s).

Attendance: At the beginning of each class we will use polleverywhere to confirm attendance.

Review: We will then use polleverywhere to create a word cloud of the most important concepts, terms, dates etc. from the previous class. This word cloud will be a review and contribute to the study guide you will use for the class tests and assignments.

ASSIGNMENTS:
Bible Film Review:
Professors often hold their heads in pain when they see how their field of study is represented on the movie screen. This assignment asks you to critically engage a popular film that has sought to represent a biblical story on the big screen. The goal of this assignment is for you to 1. Gain knowledge about the actual biblical story that is being represented. 2. Think critically about how Jews and Judaism are represented in this film and popular culture. 3. Think critically about how we learn about religion and how it is represented in film and popular culture.

Due in class by 4:05 pm Oct 4.
Length: 4-5 pages

Choose a film based on the Hebrew Bible from this list: (any film related to the Hebrew Bible not on this list requires approval by the professor)
The Prince of Egypt 1998 http://catalogue.library.carleton.ca/record=b4416251

The Story of Ruth 1960

Bible Film: essay overview
- Introduce what you will discuss in this essay. Include full title of film, date produced.
- Give a short plot summary of the film if necessary to be clear (1/2 page)
- Discuss and critically analyse the film in terms of how accurately it represents the details of the biblical text. Discuss aspects that the film gets right, what the film doesn’t cover, and what it gets wrong.
- Discuss and critically analyse how the film represents the biblical story as a Jewish story (or fails to do so).
- Conclude with a reflection of how people learn about religion, Judaism and the Bible from film.
- Citations: Cite the film and the edition of the bible you are using.
- Note that while outside research is not required, you may choose to briefly include some research into either the biblical text or a religious studies’ analysis of the film. Outside research would be considered extra work for this particular assignment and be credited accordingly.

Grading Rubric:
/30 Writing Style (tone, clarity, organization, grammar, etc.) and citations
/20 Comprehension of biblical story
/50 Discussion and Analysis of film (see goals of assignment AND the essay overview). Bonus marks for outside research would be applied here.

There will be additional Holocaust Education Month events that will also be eligible for bonus marks throughout the month of November.

THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW: 2000 LEVEL LECTURE
Attendance, Participation & Passing this course: Your learning depends not only on successfully completing course assignments and exams but also in actively participating in the classroom where essential learning takes place. If you have not attended this class, you cannot be said to have taken the class. Any student who misses more than 10 of the scheduled class meetings without valid and documented reasons for these absences will not pass the course. Students who miss a class for religious reasons MUST email the professor to have the absence excused.

Absent from in-class exam / medical deferral for final exam:
In the case of a missed in-class exam you are expected to complete an alternate exam or assignment as there is a choice of requirements. In either a missed final exam or a deferral of the final exam, the replacement exam may not take the same format as the original. In most cases a missed exam is replaced with a 100% essay exam.

Course slides are normally posted on CU Learn by midnight the night before a lecture in pdf format. They do not contain all content from the lecture but provide a roadmap of the lecture plus all quotations from texts we will discuss in class.

A note on independent course web sites/course sharing sites from the University: Student or professor materials created for this course (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s).

Contact me: The best way to reach me is through email or office hours. Should you email or come see me? Short questions that can be answered quickly can always be asked in email. But if your question requires more than a quick response you’d be better off coming to see me in person. I am happy to make appointments outside of office hours. Please email me to make an appointment. Although I usually check email daily, I may not do so on weekends and it may take 2-3 days during busy periods. Please put your full name and course number in the subject heading.

Late policy: The late policy of this class is designed to be fair to students who handed their work in on time. Late assignments will be penalized at the rate of 10% per day (weekends included) until 100% has been reached.
Extensions will only be granted for documented medical or family emergencies. Please note that late work will be graded as my schedule allows.

Rough drafts: I am happy to review and comment on rough drafts that are submitted by email a minimum of 7 days before an assignment is due. I will return it to you with comments. In order to receive credit for the effort of doing a rough draft, always submit the rough draft (print if necessary) with my comments.

Sources: Assignments specify what types of sources are appropriate and expected for a given task. These guidelines are aimed at detecting plagiarism, preventing students from exclusively relying on faulty and/or suspect Internet research, and promoting the use of the range of types of scholarly sources that are standard for university level research. Any assignment which does not use the required sources does not meet the requirements of the assignment and will receive a failing grade.

Plagiarism: Learn About plagiarism: It is the responsibility of every student to know what constitutes plagiarism and avoid it. There is a great deal of information about what plagiarism is and how to avoid it on the Carleton University Library web site.

Check for plagiarism in your own work: Re-read all written assignments to ensure that they include proper citations for quotes and paraphrases and do not too closely paraphrase the original text when you put material in your own words. See the web site for links to online guides about paraphrasing. You may always contact me and ask my opinion about your work. It is always safer to have an extra citation that perhaps is not absolutely necessary than to be missing one. When in doubt, cite. Failure to cite sources is a form of plagiarism. Please see the University regulations below.

Style: The Religion program uses the Chicago Manual of Style (humanities or footnote and bibliography style) as its standard style. Use it for all citations. I also strongly recommend using citation management software/sites/aps for your citations. See the Library web site for information on both. I prefer Zotero.

Quick Citation Guide: Chicago Manual of Style (Notes and Bibliography) http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html

http://www.library.carleton.ca/help/citing-your-sources
https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/717/01/ (Chicago manual of style resource)

List of Works Cited: Always include a list of works cited at the end of the assignment.

Things I need to know: (Contact me by email or come speak with me)
- You don’t understand what is expected of you.
- English is not your first language.
- You have a learning disability.
- You are doing poorly in the course and want to improve.
- You don’t understand the material.
- You have a problem that is making you do poorly in the course.
- If you are going to ask for a deferral for this course from the Registrar.

University Regulations for All Humanities Courses

Copies of Written Work Submitted

Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

Academic Integrity at Carleton

Plagiarism is presenting, whether intentionally or not, the ideas, expression of ideas, or work of others as one’s own. Plagiarism includes reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source. Examples of sources from which the ideas, expressions of ideas or works of others may be drawn from include but are not limited to: books, articles, papers, literary compositions and phrases, performance compositions, chemical compounds, art works, laboratory reports, research results, calculations and the results of calculations, diagrams, constructions, computer reports, computer code/software, and material on the internet. More information can be found here.

Academic Accommodation Policy

Academic Accommodation
You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation: write to the instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details see the Student Guide

Religious obligation: write to the instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details see the Student Guide

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

Survivors of Sexual Violence
As a community, Carleton University is committed to maintaining a positive learning, working and living environment where sexual violence will not be tolerated, and is survivors are supported through academic accommodations as per Carleton's Sexual Violence Policy. For more information about the services available at the university and to obtain information about sexual violence and/or support, visit: carleton.ca/sexual-violence-support

Accommodation for Student Activities
Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. Reasonable accommodation must be provided to students who compete or perform at the national or international level. Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. https://carleton.ca/senate/wp-content/uploads/Accommodation-for-Student-Activities-1.pdf

Grading System at Carleton University
Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor, subject to the approval of the faculty Dean. Standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points and the percentage conversion is below. Grade points indicated are for courses with 1.0 credit value. Where the course credit is greater or less than one credit, the grade points are adjusted proportionately.

Course Sharing Websites and Copyright
Classroom teaching and learning activities, including lectures, discussions, presentations, etc., by both instructors and students, are copy protected and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s). All course materials, including PowerPoint presentations, outlines, and other materials, are also protected by copyright and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s).

Students registered in the course may take notes and make copies of course materials for their own educational use only. Students are not permitted to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly for commercial or non-commercial purposes without express written consent from the copyright holder(s).

Statement on Class Conduct

The Carleton University Human Rights Policies and Procedures affirm that all members of the University community share a responsibility to:

- promote equity and fairness,
- respect and value diversity,
- prevent discrimination and harassment, and preserve the freedom of its members to carry out responsibly their scholarly work without threat of interference.
Deferred Term Work

In some situations, students are unable to complete term work because of illness or other circumstances beyond their control, which forces them to delay submission of the work.

Students who claim illness, injury or other extraordinary circumstances beyond their control as a reason for missed term work are held responsible for immediately informing the instructor concerned and for making alternate arrangements with the instructor and in all cases this must occur no later than three (3.0) working days after the term work was due.

The alternate arrangement must be made before the last day of classes in the term as published in the academic schedule. Normally, any deferred term work will be completed by the last day of term. More information is available in the calendar.

Deferred Final Exams

Students who are unable to write a final examination because of a serious illness/emergency or other circumstances beyond their control may apply for accommodation. Normally, the accommodation for a missed final examination will be granting the student the opportunity to write a deferred examination. In specific cases when it is not possible to offer a deferred examination, and with the approval of the Dean, an alternate accommodation may be made. More information.

The application for a deferral must:

1. be made in writing or online to the Registrar's Office no later than three working days after the original final examination or the due date of the take-home examination; and,
2. be fully supported by appropriate documentation and, in cases of illness, by a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination, or by appropriate documents in other cases. Medical documents must specify the date of the onset of the illness, the (expected) date of recovery, and the extent to which the student was/is incapacitated during the time of the examination. The University's preferred medical form can be found at the Registrar's Office forms and fees page.

Any questions related to deflecting a Final Exam or Final Assignment/Take Home Examination should be directed to the Registrar’s Office.
Withdrawal From Courses

Withdrawn. No academic credit, no impact on the CGPA. WDN is a permanent notation that appears on the official transcript for students who withdraw after the full fee adjustment date in each term (noted in the Academic Year section of the Calendar each term). Students may withdraw on or before the last day of classes.

Important dates can be found here:

Financial vs. Academic Withdrawal

Make sure that you are aware of the separate deadlines for Financial and Academic withdrawal!

Making registration decisions in Carleton Central involves making a financial and academic commitment for the courses you choose, regardless of attendance. If you do not attend – you must withdraw in Carleton Central within the published deadlines to cancel your registration. More information
