Course Objective: This course introduces you to some of the historical methods used by academics in the study of Christian origins and the writings of the New Testament. These methods, and their results, will be illustrated by focusing on selected kinds of writing that appear in the New Testament. In all, we seek not only to understand the writings of the New Testament, but also to understand what social, historical, cultural, and communal forces created them. The approach of this course is entirely historical and never faith-based. The truth or divine inspiration of the writings is never presupposed and in no way governs how we approach them; rather the writings are approached in the same spirit as one would approach other ancient writings – Homer, Aristotle, the Epic of Gilgamesh. These were once religious texts for people, but we do not simply accept their truth claims because of that.
My Commitments to You:

2. To guide you through the material and through the implications of academic work on the New Testament, either by way of my lectures, through questions and discussions in class, or by way of office visits and conversations. But my job here is NOT to defend the academic study of the New Testament in the face of approaches you might prefer.

Your Commitments to Me: If you cannot commit to the following, you will probably not enjoy this course, and might find it very difficult even to pass it.

1. Although I may not yet be in a position to understand why academics draw the conclusions they do on every matter we will encounter, I am open to this intellectual adventure. I always retain the right to challenge my professor, but I will do so on the basis of the academic methods to which we are being introduced in this class, and not through appeals to religious authority, family or church teachings, or personal religious convictions. I am open to learning new things, even if they pose a challenge to positions I have long held.

2. I understand that my writing skills should be up to university standards. I should be able to write grammatically correct English sentences and paragraphs in structured essays. If written expression is a difficult area for me, I will do whatever is necessary to bring my writing up to university standards (such as visit a writing tutor). I will not blame my professor for expecting university-level work, nor complain that “This is not supposed to be an English class.”

On-line readings available on the website syllabus.

Weekly Lecture Outline and Required Readings

- lectures are delivered in such a way as to reward those who have done the required reading. The reading load for this course is not heavy overall. Though some days are heavier than others, I have tried to time heavy reading days to follow breaks from class.

Email Communication

- Carleton’s Connect Mail is the official mode of email communication for all matters having to do with the university and with this course. All communications sent by connect are official, and you are expected to get them. It is not an option to claim you did not get some announcement or request because you have another email address. You can configure your connect account to forward university emails to another address, but you must be reachable through your connect account.

Map Quiz (Sep 27)

- Quiz takes place from 4:05-5:05pm in class time. Quiz ends at 5:05 sharp, even if you are late to class.
- You will be provided with maps to study from and on which you will be tested. Study and exam maps will be identical.
- The quiz will involve two types of questions – you will be asked to identify items that I have marked the map (i.e., identify what a, D, P, 2, and 8, etc. refer to on the map); you will also be asked to mark certain items on the map (i.e., place Qumran and the Sea of Galilee on the map).

- No lecture occurs after the quiz.

Midterm (Oct 23)

- On the midterm there will be 10 short-answer definition questions. It runs from 4:05-5:05pm.
- These questions will appear in the form of terms or names, which you will define as fully as possible. These questions will be marked out of 5, and should take no more than 4 minutes to answer.
- Your answers will be high quality if they are detailed and accurate, and if you can show why the term is important in the context of this course, or why, in other words, the term appeared on the quiz at all.
- I will go over examples of good and poor answers in class before the midterm.

Work Groups

- On the website syllabus, there are PDFs of the exercises to be done. Print them, follow the instructions.
- Students will submit them for assessment. Where questions want answering, it is expected that you spend NO MORE than a page of double spaced writing. These exercises are designed more to make you think, and the writing is to give me a view of your thinking. They are not intended to increase your writing load in this class.
- On Oct 9 and Nov 1, make two copies of your work to bring to class. One copy is submitted to me at the start of class. This is the copy I will mark. The second copy is for you to use in the group and class discussion about the work. Your assignments will not be marked if they are submitted after the class discussion.

Course Paper Submission

- Essays must be submitted in two forms: electronic and paper.
- Electronic submission happens by email; I will reply telling you I received it. If you do not hear back from me within a few hours, it’s because I did not receive your paper, and you need to be concerned about that. Try again.
- Electronic submission is strictly procedural; the electronic copy is NOT marked.
- ONLY the paper version of your essay is marked and returned to you with comments and grade.
- However, the paper version will not be marked until the electronic version has been received. Both are due on the due date. Therefore, if I have the paper version of your essay on the due-date (because you handed it in at class), but not your electronic version, the paper is late. Late penalties will accrue until I have both copies.
- The electronic version and the paper version must be identical.
- Please name your file: 2220Lastname (e.g., 2220Crook).

How to write the paper

- This is a background report on some topic that helps us to understand earliest Christianity, but it will make your paper stronger if you can tie your topic to specific passages in the New Testament, or to specific people who appear there. In other words, being able to illustrate why your topic is interesting in the context of a course in Christian Origins or New Testament Studies will make your paper stronger and more interesting.
This paper is historical and not theological. You cannot write this paper from the perspective of a modern Christian, but rather must treat your topic in the context of the ancient world before there was anything called Christianity (~ the end of the 1st century CE). It might help you, if you are Christian, to write the paper as if you are not a Christian in order to save yourself from presupposing positions of Christian faith that will undermine your attempt to understand these topics historically. This is a common practice among scholars of all religions who are also followers of that religion – it is called “bracketing” religious faith: acknowledging that one’s faith can govern one’s view of history, and acknowledging that this does not result in a proper historical investigation.

You must use and consult at least 6 sources for this paper, not including the textbook or Bible.

You may not, under any circumstances, use material from the WWW. Full text articles accessed through the library web-site do not count as WWW material, and are fine to use.

For almost any topic, start with the Anchor Bible Dictionary (a 6 volume encyclopedia with introductory essays and good bibliographies on myriad topics) – BS 440 .A54 Ref.

Learn to use the ATLA Religion Database (available on the Carleton Library Website: go to <Online Resources>, then choose <Journal Article and Other Databases>, then under Subject choose <Religion>). The librarians can help get you started. This is a search-engine that allows you to find articles and essays in religion and theology.

Get started on your paper early. Carleton Library does not have a large collection for Biblical Studies; expect to have to use Interlibrary Loan, or to go to St. Paul’s (223 Main Street). If you leave your research to the last minute, you may find items taken out already and you may not be able to get them in time. This will reflect in your mark, since it will affect the quality of your research. St. Paul’s is a non-circulating library, which means nothing can be signed out; but Carleton Students are allowed to use the library. Students who come to my office at least once to talk about their papers as they’re writing them always do better than they do alone.

All written assignments must be double spaced (not 1 or 1.5), must have default margins (usually 2.5cm), must not appear in a font size smaller than 12 point, and must include page numbers. The absence or manipulation of any of these things will result in a lower mark.

All citations, notes, and bibliographies must be carried out according to the Chicago Manual of Style. We have electronic access to the whole work through the library, but there is also this short guide on-line: http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html. NB: There are two Chicago systems: be sure to follow the conventions for “Notes and Bibliography” not “Author-Date”. Your ability to reproduce this proper style will factor into the marking of your written work.

Papers that venture too far from these requirements and limits may be returned ungraded for resubmission (and late penalties will accrue retroactively from the due date).

Late Penalties: Written assignments are due on the specified date. There will be a penalty of 2% per day (including weekends) until the penalty reaches 100%. Extensions will only be granted for personal medical and family emergencies (for which documentation must be provided); extensions are not granted because of essay conflicts, work schedules, or the like. Late papers must be placed in the Religion and Classics Drop Box (beside the door of 2a39 Paterson Hall). Do not slip papers under my door; do not hand them to anyone else.

- All papers will be returned at the final exam.
- Proofread your work several times carefully before handing it in, or ask someone whose writing skills are strong do it. Needless and countless errors of spelling, grammar, and syntax are a serious impediment to effective writing and communication, and these will affect your grade.
- Retain Copies of Work Submitted: It is crucial that you retain a hard copy of all assignments/take home tests submitted in every course. Also remember to do a computer/disk back-up frequently.

Final Exam

- Final exam will be 2 hours in length
- The final will involve a selection of short-answer questions, passage identifications, and long-answer questions. The precise layout of the exam will be made clear to the class well before the final exam.
REGULATIONS COMMON TO ALL HUMANITIES COURSES

COPIES OF WRITTEN WORK SUBMITTED
Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

PLAGIARISM
The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in “substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.”

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of “F” for the course.

WITHDRAWAL WITHOUT ACADEMIC PENALTY
The last date to withdraw from FALL TERM courses is DEC. 3, 2012. The last date to withdraw from FALL/WINTER (Full Term) and WINTER term courses is APRIL 10, 2013.

REQUESTS FOR ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION
You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term because of disability, pregnancy or religious obligations. Please review the course outline promptly and write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. You can visit the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at: carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities
The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

PETITIONS TO DEFER
If you miss a final examination and/or fail to submit a FINAL assignment by the due date because of circumstances beyond your control, you may apply a deferral of examination/assignment.

If you are applying for a deferral due to illness you will be required to see a physician in order to confirm illness and obtain a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination or assignment deadline. This supporting documentation must specify the date of onset of the illness, the degree of incapacitation, and the expected date of recovery.

If you are applying for a deferral for reasons other than personal illness, please contact the Registrar’s Office directly for information on other forms of documentation that we accept.

Deferrals of assignments must be supported by confirmation of the assignment due date, for example a copy of the course outline specifying the due date and any documented extensions from the course instructor.

Deferral applications for examination or assignments must be submitted within 5 working days of the original final exam.
