Course Description

This course is an introduction to the complex and diverse tradition of Islam as religion, civilization, culture, and contemporary field of academic study. It consists of three main parts. Students begin by exploring the foundational sources of Islam, the Quran and the Prophetic tradition, and learn about the important role of Muhammad the man and the Prophet. Next, we learn about Islam's main intellectual, political and spiritual institutions with respect to theology, law, philosophy, mysticism, the arts, the Shi'i-Sunni divide, etc. Finally, we examine key expressions of Muslims' encounter with modernity paying close attention to orientalism, European colonialism, the reformist movements, militant jihad, and current scholarly debates on women, democracy, and others. Throughout the course, students will draw on primary and secondary sources, engage with diverse audio-visual material, and enjoy exciting opportunities of in-class hands-on activities and direct conversation with special guests.

RELI 2310A Website (cuLearn)

The course website on cuLearn is your main resource. There, you will find key updates, announcements and all necessary information about the course, including the syllabus, your instructor's contact info and much more. All announcements will be sent to your Carleton account ending with @carleton.ca. Please, consult this account regularly. Failing to do so that results in missing a deadline or overlooking important information about an assignment will not be accepted as an excuse.

Course Requirements

1. Reading

As a student in this course, you are responsible for studying on your own and before coming to class all the assigned readings. It is important that you read not for content only, but try to identify the goal of the authors, who they are responding to, how they develop their thesis, what evidence they provide to sustain it, and if their narrative agrees or conflicts with what you know about the topic, etc. Reading the assigned material is your first and most decisive step toward doing well in this course.

2. Reading Reflections (20%)

Students are required to submit 10 weekly reflections between Sep. 9 and Dec. 2. See “Lectures Schedule” below for exact dates and exempt weeks. Reflections worth 20% of your total grade (2% each) and are graded based on completion only, but if they met the minimum requirements. Reflections must be typed, printed out and handed at the beginning of class. See “Reflections Guidelines” on cuLearn for details.

3. Midterm Exam (20 %)

The mid-term will be written in class on October 28, consist of multiple choice and short answer questions, and cover lecture materials and assigned readings from the beginning of class. See “Midterm Guidelines” on cuLearn for details.

4. Review Essay (30%)

Students will write a review essay of a select chapter of Shahab Ahmed’s *What is Islam? The Importance of Being Islamic. In this chapter, Ahmed discusses six situations where the meaning of ‘Islam’ and the question of being ‘Islamic’ or ‘Muslim’ is complicated. Your task is to read, understand, summarize, and reflect upon Ahmad’s discussion. From the six situations, choose one to engage with and use one or two external scholarly sources that address the same question to help you with your goal.

This assignment consists of three parts:

Part One: Summary and Introduction (5%)

Due on November 4. This is a three-part task. First, write a summary of Ahmed’s chapter. Second, write a working introduction of your essay where you mention which of the six situations you are interested in, the problem with it, and scholarly sources you will use to further explore it. Finally, include an annotated bibliography of your sources. See “Summary/Intro Guidelines” on cuLearn for details.

Part Two: Review Essay (20%)

Due on November 18. At this stage, you bring all parts together and write your review essay. This means to incorporate your summary of Ahmad’s chapter and engage with his discussion critically drawing on the extra scholarly sources. See “Review Essay Guidelines” on cuLearn for details.

Part Three: Self-Review (5%)

Due on December 2. After you receive feedback on your essay, you will have one week to implement any necessary changes and upload your revised paper to cuLearn. See “Self-Review Guidelines” on cuLearn for details.

5. Final Exam (30%)

The final exam will be written during the examination period between December 9-21. Complete details will be posted on cuLearn and communicated in class two weeks before the end of class. The exam will consist of multiple-choice questions, short answer questions, and one essay question.

Academic Integrity

Plagiarism IS NOT tolerated in my classes. Cases of plagiarism will be dealt with following Carleton’s Academic Integrity Policy: <https://carleton.ca/secretariat/wp-content/uploads/Academic-Integrity-Policy.pdf>

Plagiarism is presenting, intentionally or not, the ideas, expression of ideas, or work of others as one’s own. This includes reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one's own without proper citation or reference to the original source.

Examples of plagiarism in this class include, but are not limited to:

- Using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material without proper acknowledgment in any academic assignment.
- Failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another's work and/or failing to use quotations marks.
- Submitting a take-home exam, essay or other assignment, in whole or in part, by someone else.

For more on Academic Integrity at Carleton, see: <https://carleton.ca/registrar/academic-integrity/>

Submitting Assignments and Source Citation

1. Electronic Submission:

All written assignments in this course are to be submitted electronically through the course website. Log in to cuLearn, open "Submit Assignments" tab, and upload your assignment. It is your responsibility to submit your work on time and to take necessary measures not to run into last minute technical issues (Internet service down, laptop broke, etc.). No exceptions will be made in such cases.

2. File Format:

All written assignments must be submitted as Microsoft Word files only (.doc or .docx). If you use Mac, convert your PAGES ext. into WORD. Assignments submitted as PDF are graded. However, they receive no in-text feedback.

3. System of Source Citation:

The citation style used in this course is Chicago Notes and Bibliography. Students are required to use it in every written assignment that asks for citations. To learn about this style of citation, visit:

https://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide/citation-guide-1.html

Missing Tests and Late Penalty

Reading Reflections are accepted ONLY if the student attends class from beginning to end. Reflections from students who come late and/or leave early will not be accepted. See "Reading Reflections Guidelines" on cuLearn for five common ways in which a student may lose their reflection's mark.

All written assignments submitted late without a legitimate reason will be deducted 10% of their grade per day including weekends. Requests for extension must be joined with justificatory documents and must be communicated to the instructor before the due date, not after.

Missing the Midterm without a legitimate reason will result in a zero grade. Students who present proper documentation will have a makeup scheduled for them. There will be ONLY ONE makeup.

A legitimate reason may include illness, injury, urgent travel or a compassionate reason (e.g., death). For illness/injury, you must submit Carleton's official medical certificate: https://carleton.ca/registrar/wp-content/uploads/med_cert.pdf. For travel, a copy of the itinerary that shows clearly your name and dates of travel must be provided. In the event of death, you must submit a letter from the funeral house or religious institution that performed the funeral which confirms your attendance.

Grading Scale

Letter Grade	Percentage	Point Equivalence	Grade Definition
A+	90-100	12	Excellent: Strong evidence of original thinking; good organization; capacity to analyze and synthesize; superior grasp of subject matter with sound critical evaluations; evidence of extensive knowledge base.
A	85-89	11
A-	80-84	10
B+	77-79	9	Good: Evidence of grasp of subject matter; some evidence of critical capacity and analytic ability; reasonable understanding of relevant issues; evidence of familiarity with literature.
B	73-76	8
B-	70-72	7
C+	67-69	6	Adequate: Student who is profiting from his/her university experience; understanding of the subject matter; ability to develop solutions to simple problems in the material.
C	63-66	5
C-	60-62	4
D+	57-59	3	Marginal: Some evidence of familiarity with subject matter and some evidence that critical and analytic skills have been developed.
D	53-56	2
D-	50-52	1
F	0-49	0	Inadequate: Little evidence of even superficial understanding of subject matter; weakness in critical and analytic skills; with limited or irrelevant use of literature.

Protocol and Etiquette

1. Classroom Behavior:

The classroom is a space where every student should feel safe and included. Formative dialogue is highly encouraged, and open-mindedness is expected. Respect for each other's differences and opposing views will always be sustained. Disruptive behavior, such as dual chatting, taking naps or preparing for another class while in this class, is not permitted and will not be tolerated.

2. Cellphones, Laptops:

Cellphones, laptops or tablets are NOT PERMITTED in class. Prepare to take notes using pen and paper. If you need to use your laptop for notes, you must email me in advance to obtain my permission in writing. Students spotted using their phones in class will receive a zero on their reading reflection.

3. Teaching Assistant:

If there is a Teaching Assistant in this course, it means a skillful researcher has been assigned to help you with your learning experience and we are fortunate to have them. Take advantage of their skills and expertise and be sure to interact with them with full respect. Email your TA only with questions related to the assignments they are involved with directly: Review Essay, Mid-Term Test, and Final Exam. For all other questions (attendance, reflections, lectures, cuLearn, etc.), contact me directly by email or come see me during office hours. Your TA's email address will be posted on the course website and on top of this syllabus (when it becomes available).

4. Emailing the Instructor:

I have made a considerable effort to provide extensive details on every component of this course on cuLearn. So, please, try to email me about information that you cannot find easily in the syllabus and/or cuLearn. When you send an email, use your Carleton account. Emails sent via other operators (Gmail, Hotmail, etc.) risk being automatically spammed, therefore not read. I respond to emails within one to two business days, but it may take longer under certain circumstances.

5. Course Sharing and Copyright:

Video/audio recording of lectures and taking photos of slides is NOT PERMITTED. If you have a special need to record the lectures, you must talk to me in advance and receive my permission in writing.

At Carleton University, classroom teaching and learning activities by both instructors and students (lectures, discussions, presentations, etc.) are copy protected and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s). All course materials, including PowerPoint presentations, outlines, and other materials, are also protected by copyright and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s).

Students registered in the course may take notes and make copies of course materials for their own educational use only. Students are NOT PERMITTED permitted to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly for commercial or non-commercial purposes without express written consent from the copyright holder(s).

Academic Accommodation Policy

To request special arrangements to meet your academic obligations, the processes are as follows:

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC a 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

Pregnancy obligation: write to the instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more detail, see the Student Guide.

Religious obligation: write to the instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details, see the Student Guide.

Student Resources

1. Writing Services:

Writing is a major component of this course and students are expected to improve their writing skills. You are highly encouraged to use Carleton's Writing Services (<https://carleton.ca/csas/writing-services/>). You can meet with a writing consultant during drop-in hours on the 4th Floor of MacOdrum Library or book an appointment online. Visit the Centre for Student Academic Support at <https://carleton.ca/csas/>.

Accommodation for Student Activities

Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. Reasonable accommodation must be provided to students who compete or perform at the national or international level. Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. <https://carleton.ca/senate/wp-content/uploads/Accommodation-for-Student-Activities-1.pdf>

Grading System at Carleton University

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor, subject to the approval of the faculty Dean. Standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points and the percentage conversion is below. Grade points indicated are for courses with 1.0 credit value. Where the course credit is greater or less than one credit, the grade points are adjusted proportionately.

Course Sharing Websites and Copyright

Classroom teaching and learning activities, including lectures, discussions, presentations, etc., by both instructors and students, are copy protected and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s). All course materials, including PowerPoint presentations, outlines, and other materials, are also protected by copyright and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s).

Students registered in the course may take notes and make copies of course materials for their own educational use only. Students are not permitted to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly for commercial or non-commercial purposes without express written consent from the copyright holder(s).

Statement on Class Conduct

The Carleton University Human Rights Policies and Procedures affirm that all members of the University community share a responsibility to:

- promote equity and fairness,
- respect and value diversity,
- prevent discrimination and harassment, and preserve the freedom of its members to carry out responsibly their scholarly work without threat of interference.

Deferred Term Work

In some situations, students are unable to complete term work because of illness or other circumstances beyond their control, which forces them to delay submission of the work.

Students who claim illness, injury or other extraordinary circumstances beyond their control as a reason for missed term work are held responsible for immediately informing the instructor concerned and for making alternate arrangements with the instructor and in all cases this must occur no later than three (3.0) working days after the term work was due.

The alternate arrangement must be made before the last day of classes in the term as published in the academic schedule. Normally, any deferred term work will be completed by the last day of term. More information is available in the calendar.

Deferred Final Exams

Students who are unable to write a final examination because of a serious illness/emergency or other circumstances beyond their control may apply for accommodation. Normally, the accommodation for a missed final examination will be granting the student the opportunity to write a deferred examination. In specific cases when it is not possible to offer a deferred examination, and with the approval of the Dean, an alternate accommodation may be made. More information.

The application for a deferral must:

1. be made in writing or online to the Registrar's Office no later than three working days after the original final examination or the due date of the take-home examination; and,
2. be fully supported by appropriate documentation and, in cases of illness, by a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination, or by appropriate documents in other cases. Medical documents must specify the date of the onset of the illness, the (expected) date of recovery, and the extent to which the student was/is incapacitated during the time of the examination. The University's preferred medical form can be found at the Registrar's Office forms and fees page.

Any questions related to deferring a Final Exam or Final Assignment/Take Home Examination should be directed to the Registrar's Office.

Withdrawal From Courses

Withdrawn. No academic credit, no impact on the CGPA. WDN is a permanent notation that appears on the official transcript for students who withdraw after the full fee adjustment date in each term (noted in the Academic Year section of the Calendar each term). Students may withdraw on or before the last day of classes.

Important dates can be found here.

Financial vs. Academic Withdrawal

Make sure that you are aware of the separate deadlines for Financial and Academic withdrawal!

Making registration decisions in Carleton Central involves making a financial and academic commitment for the courses you choose, regardless of attendance. If you do not attend – you must withdraw in Carleton Central within the published deadlines to cancel your registration. More information
