COURSE DESCRIPTION:
This course will explore the history of one of the most horrifying events in modern history: the systematic murder of European Jews by the Nazi regime during World War II. We will examine this history as a series of encounters between Germans, Jews, and their non-Jewish neighbors in different local contexts across the European continent. The course will be divided into three parts dealing with the origins, implementation, and aftermath of the Holocaust.

1) In the first section we will explore the longer-term origins of the Nazi genocide in Christian anti-Semitism, modern anti-Semitism, scientific racism, and nationalism and discuss how these trends intersected in the specific context of post-World War I, contributing to the rise of Nazism.

2) The second section will focus on Nazi racial policy, the organization and implementation of the Holocaust, and the responses of bystanders and victims. We will discuss historiographical debates concerning how to interpret the thoughts and actions of the perpetrators (intentionalists vs. functionalists, issues of perpetrator motivation, Nazi resettlement policy and empire-building during World War II). However, the study of the perpetrators, while certainly important, does not provide a complete picture of the event. Victims' responses (including resistance) and survivors' testimony are thus crucial sources for understanding the impact of the Holocaust. In addition, the actions and inactions of bystanders played an essential role in facilitating the genocide, an issue that still provokes controversy. We will pay particular attention to the different ways in which the interactions between perpetrators, bystanders, and victims played out in different local contexts.

3) Finally, we will turn to the aftermath of genocide, studying the ways in which the genocide has been inscribed differently in the collective memories of victims, bystanders and perpetrators. Topics to be discussed include postwar trials of perpetrators and how they shaped the history and memory of the Holocaust, the troubling phenomenon of Holocaust denial, conflicting memories, and the place of the Holocaust in a century of genocide.

Upon completion of the course, students should have a grasp of the main events in the history of the Holocaust, current historiographical debates (i.e. how historians and other scholars have understood and interpreted these events), the politics of Holocaust remembrance, as well as the challenges that the Holocaust poses for the writing of history. Students will also develop their research and writing skills as well as their capacity for critical analysis and thought.
COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND GRADING SCHEME:
In order to receive a final grade for the course, students must complete all course requirements:

Attendance and Participation 10%

Assignments:
- 3-4 page memoir response paper (Kluger) 12.5% Due date: 1/31/13
- Proposal for final paper 5% Due date: 2/7/13
- 3-4 page memoir response paper (Rajchman) 12.5% Due date: 3/7/13
- 8-10 page final paper 30% Due date: 4/4/13

Final Examination 30% TBA

Attendance and Participation: Although this course is primarily a lecture course, I will also integrate discussion into the class format whenever possible. Students are expected to attend class on a regular basis and to come to class prepared to discuss the assigned readings. Classes in which we will devote considerable time to discussion of particular issues are noted on the course outline.

Written Assignments: You will write three papers over the course of the term. The first two papers will consist of 3-4 page response papers to the assigned memoirs by Kluger and Rajchman. The third and final paper will be longer (8-10 pages) and involve analyzing a victim’s testimony from the Holocaust and placing it in its broader historical context. This paper will require outside research for both the primary and secondary sources. Students will be required to submit a proposal for their final paper. Detailed instructions regarding the proposal and the paper will be discussed in class. My preferred citation format is Turabian/Chicago Manual of Style, however students who have been trained in other disciplines or formats (MLA, APA, etc.) may use those as well.

All papers are due at the beginning of class on the date specified in the syllabus. Late papers will be penalized two points per day late including weekends (i.e. 87 to 85, 78 to 76, etc.). Extensions will be granted only in cases of serious illness (with doctor’s note), bereavement, or religious observance. Any essays not handed in directly to me during class must be deposited in the locked assignment box outside the Religion program main office (2A39 Paterson Hall). Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

I encourage students to consult with me while preparing their essays during my office hours or by appointment. Papers will be evaluated according to the following criteria: soundness of thesis, use of evidence to support thesis, coherence of argument, logical structure, style, grammar and spelling. As the approach of this course is historical, students may find the History Department guidelines for writing an historical essay to be helpful (http://www2.carleton.ca/history/resources/essay-guide/). Students with more general questions about the writing process may also wish to consult the Writing Tutorial Service (404 MacOdrum Library, 520-2600 x1125, http://www2.carleton.ca/sasc/writing-tutorial-service/).

Final Examination: The final exam will consist of short identifications and questions based on the course readings, discussions and lectures. Details will be discussed in class. The final exam will be cumulative. There will be no make-up tests except in cases of serious illness (with doctor’s note), bereavement, or religious observance. The Final Exam time and location will be determined by examination services.

Academic Integrity: Academic integrity is a core value of the university and essential for creating a constructive environment for teaching, learning, and research in the Religion program in the College of the Humanities. Students are responsible for being aware of the University’s Academic Integrity Policy, understanding what constitutes academic dishonesty, and ensuring that all course assignments submitted for evaluation abide by University policy. Any suspected violations of the academic integrity policy will be referred to the College’s Director and then to the appropriate Dean for further investigation. Students who are found to have violated the standards of academic integrity will be subject to sanctions. An overview of the University’s Academic Integrity Policy is available at http://www1.carleton.ca/studentaffairs/academic-integrity/ and the full policy at http://www1.carleton.ca/studentaffairs/ccms/wp-content/ccms-files/academic_integrity_policy.pdf

Email Communication: Following university policy, the instructors will communicate by e-mail with students using their university e-mail addresses (i.e. email or connect). If you have a different account that you check regularly, please set up your Carleton account to forward to that one, so that you do not miss any important course-related announcements. Normally, the instructor expects to reply to e-mail or voicemail queries within 2 days during the working week. The instructor generally does not answer e-mail inquiries or voicemail messages on evenings or weekends. Students who wish to communicate with the instructor are encouraged to meet personally during office hours, at another convenient time by appointment, or at the end of class.

REQUIRED READINGS:
Assigned books and a coursepack of readings are available for purchase at Havenbooks, 43 Seneca Street (at Sunnyside), 613-730-9888, www.havenbooks.ca, open 10am-6pm, Mon-Sat. Some readings are available electronically via Ares and CU Learn. I have also placed many of the course readings on reserve in the library. The readings include both primary sources (i.e. documents, testimonies, and other sources from participants or witnesses of the events) and secondary sources (scholarly interpretations and evaluations of the event based on the analysis of primary sources).

REGULATIONS COMMON TO ALL HUMANITIES COURSES

COPIES OF WRITTEN WORK SUBMITTED
Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

PLAGIARISM
The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in “substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.”

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of “F” for the course.

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean.

WITHDRAWAL WITHOUT ACADEMIC PENALTY
The last date to withdraw from FALL TERM courses is DEC. 3, 2012. The last day to withdraw from FALL/WINTER (Full Term) and WINTER term courses is APRIL 10, 2013.

REQUESTS FOR ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION
You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term because of disability, pregnancy or religious obligations. Please review the course outline promptly and write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. You can visit the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at: carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities
The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

PETITIONS TO DEFER
If you miss a final examination and/or fail to submit a FINAL assignment by the due date because of circumstances beyond your control, you may apply a deferral of examination/assignment. If you are applying for a deferral due to illness you will be required to see a physician in order to confirm illness and obtain a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination or assignment deadline. This supporting documentation must specify the date of onset of the illness, the degree of incapacitation, and the expected date of recovery. If you are applying for a deferral for reasons other than personal illness, please contact the Registrar’s Office directly for information on other forms of documentation that we accept.

Deferrals of assignments must be supported by confirmation of the assignment due date, for example a copy of the course outline specifying the due date and any documented extensions from the course instructor.

Deferral applications for examination or assignments must be submitted within 5 working days of the original final exam.
