A distinguishing feature of Western religious traditions is their use of scripture. Other religions often make use of sacred texts, but Judaism, Christianity, and Islam all appeal to their holy books as ultimate authorities, as the voice of God.

We begin by discussing the origins of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam in their respective historical contexts, with a focus on the creation and development of sacred scriptures. This will serve as background in exploring the ongoing dialogues that Jewish, Christian, and Muslim theologians and thinkers have with the text from their beginnings through to the present day. Understanding this ongoing exegesis and interpretation of the Hebrew Bible, the New Testament, and the Qur’an is our primary goal. We will consider the social and political applications of religious principles interpreted from these texts and applied within societies that organize themselves on the basis of scripture.

The questions in which we are particularly interested are: (1) how, when, and why do texts become “sacred,” and what does that mean? (2) how much influence do sacred texts have in determining cultural values and ideals, and how much does context (historical, social, cultural, political) influence the reading and interpretation of sacred texts? We will use the story of Adam and Eve as our ongoing case study in exploring the role religion plays in defining and shaping human identity. The opening chapters of the Hebrew Bible have been interpreted and reinterpreted, not only by New Testament authors and in the Qur’an, but in exegeses by Jewish, Christian, and Muslim authors throughout history. Primarily, Genesis 1-3 have served to legitimize and enforce gender and other social hierarchies, although we will find that the story of the first man and woman has also been used to challenge those hierarchies and argue for egalitarianism.

NOTE: As with any course that pursues the academic study of religion, we examine all texts and contexts from a secular, scholarly perspective. The nature of the material is theological, but our task as scholars is to view it academically, to discuss it without being attached to any particular theological interpretation, and yet to respect the fact that the theological interpretations and the beliefs they entail are of great importance to adherents of each of these three faiths.

EVALUATION:

1. Four 2-page papers 15% each = 60% (see below)
2. Final exam = 25%
3. Class participation = 15%

Papers:
You will write four short reading responses throughout the semester, worth 15% each. They will be typed, double-spaced, two pages long, and stapled. They will be your own reflections on the readings and lecture material, and you will not do any research in order to write them.
Plagiarism is illegal, and carries with it a penalty of failing the course. Do your own work: do not use another’s material as if it were your own.

Required Reading:
1. Eve and Adam: Jewish, Christian and Muslim Readings on Genesis and Gender, eds. Kvam, Schearing and Ziegler (available at the bookstore)
2. Online selections as noted below, including articles posted to WebCT

COPIES OF WRITTEN WORK SUBMITTED
Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

PLAGIARISM
The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in “substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.”

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of “F” for the course.

A Failure. Assigned 0.0 grade points
F  Absent from final examination, equivalent to F
DEF Official deferral (see “Petitions to Defer”)
FND Failure with no deferred exam allowed -- assigned only when the student has failed the course on the basis of inadequate term work as specified in the course outline.

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean.

WITHDRAWAL WITHOUT ACADEMIC PENALTY
The last date to withdraw from FALL TERM courses is DEC. 3, 2012. The last day to withdraw from FALL/WINTER (Full Term) and WINTER term courses is APRIL 10, 2013.

REQUESTS FOR ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION
You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term because of disability, pregnancy or religious obligations. Please review the course outline promptly and write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. You can visit the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at: carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities
The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

PETITIONS TO DEFER
If you miss a final examination and/or fail to submit a FINAL assignment by the due date because of circumstances beyond your control, you may apply a deferral of examination/assignment.
If you are applying for a deferral due to illness you will be required to see a physician in order to confirm illness and obtain a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination or assignment deadline. This supporting documentation must specify the date of onset of the illness, the degree of incapacitation, and the expected date of recovery.

If you are applying for a deferral for reasons other than personal illness, please contact the Registrar’s Office directly for information on other forms of documentation that we accept.

Deferrals of assignments must be supported by confirmation of the assignment due date, for example a copy of the course outline specifying the due date and any documented extensions from the course instructor.

Deferral applications for examination or assignments must be submitted within 5 working days of the original final exam.
