Course description: This seminar explores the development of religious, philosophical and historical responses to the Holocaust. Emphasizing Jewish perspectives and the questions the Holocaust raises for Jewish life today; the course opens up to consider a wide range of interdisciplinary responses including film studies, religious studies, theology, philosophy, critical theory, literature and memoir, and popular culture. The seminar opens with questions about Holocaust narratives: how are they framed? What do they tell us about the Holocaust and our relationship to this shattering event? Who speaks? What may be spoken? What are the key debates that frame the interdisciplinary scholarly study of the Holocaust? What are the theoretical and ethical issues at stake in Holocaust representation? What is the relationship between testimony, memory and history? How do Holocaust narratives reflect and/or construct identity? These questions and others invite us to think critically about the how the Holocaust frames contemporary religious, ethical, cultural and political discourses.

Commitment to attendance and preparation: As a seminar this class depends on the thoughtful participation of the class. Please note the amount of weekly preparation this upper level seminar demands: Regular attendance, leading class discussions, having read the required texts in advance of the class meeting and preparing discussion points are all essential to your success in this class. In addition, many class videos are from my personal collection or borrowed and cannot be seen after their regular class viewing.

Policy on Attendance: The statement about commitment should alert you to how important your presence is to the success of the seminar and to your own performance in the class. Presence and participation in a seminar cannot be replaced. If you are regularly not here, you haven’t completed a major component of the course, and cannot pass the course. Students who miss more than 3 class meetings will not receive course credit.

Required texts: (available at the Carleton Bookstore)
- Web CT and online readings

NOTE: Nov 11 “65 Years After Conference” at Carleton: Attend for participation marks. Write a 4-5 page critical response to any panel for a 5% bonus marks opportunity.

NOTE: There are 2 internships available with the Holocaust Education Committee of Ottawa which can be pursued for course credit. Students interested must commit at the first class.

THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW: 4000 LEVEL SEMINAR

Contact me: The best way to reach me is through email or office hours. Should you email or come see me? Short questions that can be answered quickly can always be asked in email. But if your question requires more than a quick response you’d be better off coming to see me in person. I am happy to make appointments outside of office hours. Please email me to make an appointment. Although I usually check email daily, I may not do so on weekends and it may take 2-3 days during busy periods. Please put your full name and course number in the subject heading.

Submitting work protocol: Assignments must be handed in at the beginning of class on the day that they are due. Late Seminar Preparations cannot be accepted.

Late policy: The late policy of this class is designed to be fair to students who handed their work in on time. Late assignments will be penalized at a rate of one grade per class meeting (i.e. a B will be a B- if it handed in by the beginning of the next class meeting) unless they are accompanied by a signed medical excuse. Assignments will not be accepted after the graded assignment is returned to the class.

Absent from class and require accommodation to submit work: Do not email the original assignment You must explain why you need accommodation (email is fine or speak to me during office hours) as soon as possible and provide the documentation required by university regulations. If you may replace the assignment, what you should do next depends on the assignment missed:

- Seminar prep: It would not make sense to hand in seminar prep after the class has already met. Therefore, you may only replace the seminar prep with a 2-3 page analysis of the week’s readings. Due next day you come to class.
- Leading class discussion: If you have missed your presentation it is not possible to reschedule the class. Therefore, you must replace that presentation with a 4-5 page essay on the material you would have presented. Due the next day you come to class.
- Term Project or Research Essay: If the course is over, contact me by email to make arrangements to submit the work.

Rough drafts: I am happy to review and comment on rough drafts that are submitted by email a minimum of 7 days before an assignment is due. I will return it to you with comments. In order to receive credit for the effort of doing a rough draft, always submit the rough draft (print if necessary) with my comments.
Rewrites: You may rewrite the first 2 Seminar Preps and receive the highest grade. Hand them back within 2 weeks of receiving the original back from your professor.

Sources: Assignments specify what types of sources are appropriate and expected for a given task. These guidelines are aimed at detecting plagiarism, preventing students from exclusively relying on faulty and/or suspect Internet research, and promoting the use of the range of types of scholarly sources that are standard for university level research. Any assignment which does not use the required sources does not meet the requirements of the assignment and will receive a failing grade.

Citations: Learn About plagiarism: It is the responsibility of every student to know what constitutes plagiarism and avoid it. There is a great deal of information about what plagiarism is and how to avoid it on the Carleton university Library web site and class web site.

Failure to cite sources is a form of plagiarism. Please see the University regulations below.

Check for plagiarism in your own work: Re-read all written assignments to ensure that they include proper citations for quotes and paraphrases and do not too closely paraphrase the original text when you put material in your own words. See the web site for links to online guides about paraphrasing. You may always contact me and ask my opinion about your work. It is always safer to have an extra citation that perhaps is not absolutely necessary than to be missing one. When in doubt, cite.

Style: Because Religious Studies is an interdisciplinary discipline different citation styles are acceptable. You may use any recognized academic style guide in order to cite outside research. Recommended styles include: MLA (available as a sample guide on Web CT), Chicago Manual of Style, APA.

List of Works Cited: Always include a list of works cited at the end of the assignment. Works Cited include only those sources you have cited.

Things I need to know: (Contact me by email or come speak with me)
You don’t understand what is expected of you.
English is not your first language.
You have a learning disability.
You are doing poorly in the course and want to improve.
You don’t understand the material.
You have a problem that is making you do poorly in the course.
If you are going to ask for a deferral for this course from the Registrar for any reason.

ASSIGNMENTS

SEMINAR PREPARATION
Due: Due every class as noted in the course schedule except days when you lead class discussion and the day the midterm is held. Label your prep according to the # of preps you have handed in plus date and topic.
Length: 1.5-3 pages
Research: Outside research is permitted but not recommended for Elements 1-3 as you should be focusing on course materials. Outside research is required for Element 4.

Elements: Label each Element clearly, complete each element fully and in order as indicated here:
1 KEY QUESTIONS & DISCUSSION POINTS. Include 1 key question for EACH required reading and the discussion points needed to answer it. HINT: A good question isn’t only factual, a good question opens an argument or a new understanding of the material. Discussion points should include quotes & page numbers and major ideas so that you could use them to orally answer your own question in class or prompt others to answer it.
2 CENTRAL ARGUMENT Demonstrate your comprehension of required reading by being able to quickly summarize what the reading is about. Normally this will be for EACH reading. See specific dates for any modifications in cases when you have many small readings. HINT: This is an overview not of the details of the whole text. Note the central argument, major questions, key points, major themes. You should be able to do this in one long paragraph per reading (1/3-1/2 page).

3 CRITICAL RESPONSE: Demonstrate your ability to reason through the required material for today’s class and make connections by developing your own critical response. Explore one theme, argument, or analysis you want to discuss further in one or more readings. Since it is more difficult to do this with more than one reading, you will get more credit for synthesizing multiple readings and receive higher grades for the effort. HINT: Focus on something that excites you about the topic. Show that you are thinking about the material by showing the connection between multiple readings. Some questions to get you started: Do you have insight into this issue from other readings or courses you have studied? Do you have a problem with the argument and want to critique it? Is the text accurate, well argued, or biased? Is there something you find particularly interesting or insightful? Is there a weakness? Can you compare and contrast different author’s arguments? Argue your case with specific examples (quotes & page numbers). (1/2-1 page)

4 OUTSIDE RESOURCE: Describe AND cite one outside resource to share with class (POST online in Web CT discussion group before class): Suggestions: Easiest & fastest: something to add to the class online bibliography: One annotated bibliographic entry for a relevant book, book chapter, essay, or article. Better: something for class to discuss/see in class today: Summary and copy of newspaper article, selection of relevant historical details, annotated image, or film clip that is relevant to this week’s themes. YOU MUST INCLUDE RESOURCE ON YOUR PREP THAT YOU HAND IN AND POST IT ONLINE BEFORE CLASS.

Grading Rubric:
- Your grade will be based on all 4 elements. However, note that element 1 and 3 are key to receiving a grade above a B since they allow you to demonstrate critical thinking and original insight.
- At the end of the course I will verify that you have posted your outside contribution to Web CT. Students who have not posted required outside contributions or who have consistently posted them late will lose marks. This penalty is only applied at the end of term as part of calculating your final grade.

LEAD CLASS DISCUSSION
Your goal is to generate a lively class discussion. This is NOT a presentation.

- You will share leading class discussion with 1 or more other students depending on the enrolment of the class. It is your responsibility to coordinate your roles. You may be graded separately if you request or if your professor feels there is significantly uneven performance.
- Skip handing in Seminar prep on days you present. You do not need to replace it at a later date.
- Prepare handout, arrange printing, post on web ct (I will print it for you if you email it to me by Friday at noon, otherwise print enough copies for class). Handout should include quotes with page numbers, quotes, links to any relevant outside material and anything else you think will make leading your class discussion more lively.
- Lead Discussion. Introduce required material for discussion (5-15 minutes max) with attention to organizing material and making sure major concepts and issues are covered. Introduce new material when relevant. Invite students to participate in the discussion. Ask questions that welcome discussion. Take advantage of student seminar prep due for that day by asking for feedback from the readings AND for outside sources.
- Strongly recommended: include activity other than lecture style or group discussion: break into smaller groups, role playing, game, brainstorming, show film clip, etc.
GRADING RUBRIC:
A: Excellent leadership, begins with solid introduction and introduces required resources for today’s discussion. Elicits discussion, encourages other students to rise to occasion, major issues discussed. Introduces and integrates additional outside materials to enhance discussion. Superior handout demonstrates extra outside research. Includes creative ways of covering material. Demonstrates consultation and teamwork with other students leading discussion that day.

B: Strong leadership, begins with solid introduction and introduces required resources for today’s discussion. May spend too much time talking, not enough thought into getting other students to speak but generally manages discussion well. Strong handout has good examples, quotes, citations. Covers major issues. May include outside research and additional resources and may integrate them.

C: Satisfactory leadership: Either relies too much on class or does not let class speak sufficiently. May misunderstand or miss one or two points. Handout may have few errors. Outside research and additional resources are poorly integrated or not present.

D: Minimally satisfactory. Weakness in leading discussion, preparation, comprehension.

F: Unsatisfactory: Unprepared, incomplete or no handout, incomplete citations for handout, misunderstanding major issues, evidence of not having read all readings. Professor will step in.

What’s the best way to succeed in this class (or any other)?

Attendance: Your high school teachers may have told you “no one will be making you go to class when you go to university!” but that’s only part of the story. Students who have excellent attendance do much better than students who miss a class here and there. You are expected to attend each and every class, the same way you are expected to be present for every shift at a job. You are rewarded twice for every class you attend: First by being there and learning, exploring and reinforcing the content for that day so that you will succeed in assignments and exams. Second, through participation and attendance marks. Make getting to class each and every day a priority.

Speak to your professor: Your first instinct might be to be anonymous, but you really do want your professor to learn your name. Whether you are doing well and want to do better, or are having a personal or academic problem and things seem to be spinning out of control; your best course of action is to open the lines of communication. Speak to your professor (and/or TA in large classes) during office hours or make an appointment.

Learn to think like a professor:
What does a professor want from you? If the course outline has objectives, look them over. Most professors don’t want you to just memorize material, they want you to gain knowledge, improve your skills, and think critically about the material. Why did your professor want you to learn this? Why does this matter? How does it connect to other things I am learning? What fact or step in the argument is missing? Whether you are reading a text, listening to a lecture, studying for an exam or writing an essay always ask “So what? Why does this matter?”

PREPARE the readings before you come to class: Professors assign readings for a reason. When you prepare the reading in advance, the class discussion and/or lecture and your reading work together. You can ask effective questions, trace relationships between the material and begin to think critically about the issues raised. Keeping up with readings also makes it easier to complete assignments and study for exams effectively. Students who only read the material for the assignment or exam often feel lost and tend to memorize what they read without actually understanding it. Worse, they might never get through the readings because they got too far behind.
Notice, you should not just read the readings but prepare them. What does it mean to prepare a reading? Test your own preparedness for class by being able to answer the following before coming to class

1. What TYPE of text is it? Primary or Secondary source? Textbook, encyclopaedia entry, scholarly article, web site, news article, fiction, memoir?
2. What is the TOPIC of the reading? This can be answered broadly: “The topic of the reading is homosexuality in Christianity” A scriptural passage might be “laws concerning sexuality” or “love poetry”, a textbook chapter might be “overview of history of menstruation laws” or “summary of wedding rituals”,
3. OVERVIEW OR CENTRAL ARGUMENT: For texts that do not include analysis or arguments
(i.e. an encyclopaedia article) be able to SUMMARIZE the content. Be able to quickly summarize the main issues raised by the text OR be able to identify the three most important points? For scholarly readings (and opinion pieces) that do include argument and analysis be able to answer:
What is the CENTRAL ARGUMENT? Most academic articles you will read in university are secondary sources that analyse or interpret primary sources (scripture, historical documents, laws, philosophic arguments, scientific data etc)
4. EVALUATE the argument / analysis. Saying that an article is easy to read or that you like the writing style or topic is not a critical response. Critically responding to the text asks more significant questions: Is the text accurate, well argued, biased? Why? Is there something you find particularly interesting or insightful? Is there a weakness? Be ready to argue your case with specific examples.

The above suggestions for preparing a reading before coming to class do NOT replace the actual instructions for the Seminar Prep. Follow those instructions precisely.
REGULATIONS COMMON TO ALL HUMANITIES COURSES

COPIES OF WRITTEN WORK SUBMITTED
Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

PLAGIARISM
The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in “substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.”

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of “F” for the course

F = Failure. Assigned 0.0 grade points
ABS = Absent from final examination, equivalent to F
DEF = Official deferral (see "Petitions to Defer")
FND = Failure with no deferred exam allowed - assigned only when the student has failed the course on the basis of inadequate term work as specified in the course outline.

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean.

WITHDRAWAL WITHOUT ACADEMIC PENALTY
The last date to withdraw from FALL TERM courses is DEC. 6, 2010. The last day to withdraw from FALL/WINTER (Full Term) and WINTER term courses is APRIL 5, 2011.

REQUESTS FOR ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION
You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term because of disability, pregnancy or religious obligations. Please review the course outline promptly and write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. You can visit the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at: carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/

Students with disabilities requiring academic accommodations in this course must register with the Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) for a formal evaluation of disability-related needs. Documented disabilities could include but not limited to mobility/physical impairments, specific Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/psychological disabilities, sensory disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), and chronic medical conditions. Registered PMC students are required to contact the PMC, 613-520-6608, every term to ensure that your Instructor receives your Letter of Accommodation, no later than two weeks before the first assignment is due or the first in-class test/midterm requiring accommodations. If you only require accommodations for your formally scheduled exam(s) in this course, please submit your request for accommodations to PMC by the last official day to withdraw from classes in each term. For more details visit the PMC website: carleton.ca/pmc/accommodations/

PETITIONS TO DEFER
If you miss a final examination and/or fail to submit a FINAL assignment by the due date because of circumstances beyond your control, you may apply a deferral of examination/assignment. If you are applying for a deferral due to illness you will be required to see a physician in order to confirm illness and obtain a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination or assignment deadline. This supporting documentation must specify the date of onset of the illness, the degree of incapacitation, and the expected date of recovery. If you are applying for a deferral for reasons other than personal illness, please contact the Registrar’s Office directly for information on other forms of documentation that we accept.

Deferrals of assignments must be supported by confirmation of the Registrar’s Office directly for information on other forms of documentation that we accept. Deferrals of assignments must be supported by confirmation of the Registrar’s Office directly for information on other forms of documentation that we accept.
