

(photo credit: Shutterstock image 1411827098)

Hello Computer Science students,

CHORUS Lab is looking for Computer Science undergraduate or graduate student to participate in an interview study about student experiences relating equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI). We invite students from all years of study.

We want to hear from as many different perspectives as possible, therefore encourage participation from individuals who identify as belonging to groups under-represented in Computer Science.

During a 60-minute online interview over Zoom, we will ask about your experiences in the Computer Science program. Specifically, the interview includes subjects such as:

Experience with Assignments, Course Pace and Workload, Collaborative Learning, Classroom Environment, Student-Student Interaction, Student-TA Interaction, Commitment to the Major, Faculty-Student Interaction, Sexism and Racism, Satisfaction with the program

If interested, please fill out the pre-screening survey:

https://carletonu.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_4N77n5Q4IGxaZM2

Depending on the number of responses, we may only set up interviews with a subset of the individuals who fill out the survey.

There is no compensation for completing the pre-screening survey. Participants in the interview will be receive $20 CAD.

If you have any questions about this research study, please contact the research team via email at choruslab@scs.carleton.ca

The research has been cleared by Carleton University Research Ethics Board-B (CUREB-B Clearance # 116977). If you have any ethical concerns with the study, please contact the Carleton University Research Ethics Board-B (via email at ethics@carleton.ca)